Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 479, as follows:

An Act to enable domestic stock and mutual insurance companies to comply with the taxing statutes and to relieve officers directors and trustees of domestic stock and mutual insurance companies of personal liability by reason of the payment or determination not to contest payment of any license excise privilege premium occupation or other fee or tax imposed by any State or political subdivision thereof

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The provisions of this act shall apply to domestic stock and mutual insurance companies and to the officers directors and trustees of domestic stock or mutual insurance companies

Section 2 Every domestic stock and mutual insurer shall have power to comply with any statute ordinance or other law of any State territory or political subdivision thereof (including the District of Columbia) imposing any license excise privilege premium occupation or other fee or tax and to pay such fee or tax unless prior to such payment such statute ordinance or other law shall have been expressly held invalid by the State court having final appellate jurisdiction in the premises or by the Supreme Court of the United States

Section 3 No officer director or trustee of any domestic stock or mutual insurance company shall be subject to any personal liability by reason of any payment or determination not to contest payment of any license excise privilege premium occupation or other fee or tax to any State territory or political subdivision thereof (including the District of Columbia) deemed by the officers directors or trustees to be in the corporate interests of such insurer unless prior to such payment the statute ordinance or other law imposing such fee or tax shall have been expressly held invalid by the State court having final appellate jurisdiction in the premises or by the Supreme Court of the United States

Section 4 This act shall be applicable to acts done and payments made subsequent to the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-four Provided however That nothing contained herein shall be construed as directly or indirectly limiting minimizing or interpreting the rights and powers of insurers and their officers directors and trustees heretofore existing

Section 5 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 548, as follows:

An Act relating to chattel mortgages on any chattel or chattels of any kind or description including but not limited to livestock poultry farm machinery farm equipment and crops grown growing or to be grown designating the operation and effect of the lien of such mortgages providing for the filing indexing and docketing of such mortgages and related instruments in prothonotaries' offices and prescribing prothonotaries' fees providing for the filing in Pennsylvania of similar lien instruments originally filed or recorded in other states regulating the assignment release satisfaction and extension of the lien of such mortgages prescribing methods of foreclosure defining defaults and violations and fixing penalties

Section 1 Any person association partnership or corporation may give as security for any funds borrowed or to be borrowed or any pre-existing indebtedness a bond or note with or without a confession of judgment clause secured by a chattel mortgage upon any chattel or chattels of any kind or description including but not limited to livestock poultry farm machinery farm equipment and crops including annual or perennial crops and other plant products either grown or growing at the time of the execution of such chattel mortgage or to be planted or grown within one year thereafter For the purposes of this act all such chattels and crops shall be deemed to be personal property and mortgageable as such The indebtedness secured by any such chattel mortgage shall not bear interest in excess of the rate which the creditor is permitted by law to charge at the time of the execution of such mortgage

Section 2 Any mortgage executed under and pursuant to this act shall be in writing and signed witnessed and duly acknowledged by the mortgagor or his agent duly authorized and constituted The property covered or to become covered by any such cattel mortgage may be described as all that property of a specified class so identified by reference to location brands marks numbers or otherwise as to distinguish it from other property of the same class or such property may be described in any other manner permitted or authorized by law

Section 3 Any mortgage executed under and pursuant to this act may validly include any chattel or chattels of any kind or description including but not limited to livestock poultry farm machinery or farm equipment of the same class as that described in the mortgage acquired by the mortgagor subsequent to the execution of the chattel mortgage and prior to its extinguishment and any such mortgage also may validly include replacements of any of the mortgaged property therein described and all increase issue progeny and produce of animals and livestock of all kinds and the issue increase progeny and produce of any and all property mortgageable under the terms and provisions of this act including the increase issue progeny and produce of any original increase issue or progeny A mortgage of sheep or goats shall be held to include the wool or mohair which may be clipped therefrom

Section 4 Any chattel mortgage executed under and pursuant to this act may secure a pre-existing debt advances currently made or contracted for and future advances whether obligatory or optional to be made by the mortgagee within a period of five (5) years from the date of the execution of such mortgage but not to exceed in the aggregrate an amount stated in the mortgage Such a chattel mortgage may also secure advances and expenditures of the mortgagee for taxes levies insurance and repairs to or maintenance of the property described in the chattel mortgage together with interest on such advances and expenditures at the rate fixed therefor by the terms of the bond note or chattel mortgage securing same or if no rate therefor is specified at the rate provided in the mortgage for the principal indebtedness secured thereby All future advances made within the terms of such chattel mortgage shall be secured to the same extent and shall have the same priority as if made at the time of the execution of the mortgage

Section 5 Any chattel mortgage executed pursuant to this act shall be a lien upon the property therein described which lien shall be good and valid against and superior to all rights of subsequent purchasers subsequent mortgages and other subsequent lienors and encumbrancers and all persons subsequently dealing with the mortgaged property or subsequently acquiring an interest therein from the time of filing of the mortgage as provided in section eight of this act provided however that the filing as provided in section eight of this act of a chattel mortgage against any motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer with respect to which a Certificate of Title is issuable under the Motor Vehicle Code (Act of May 1 1929 P. L. 905 as amended) shall not operate as notice of the lien thereof to the Commonwealth creditors and purchasers unless and until a statement of such lien is noted on the Certificate of Title issued with respect to such motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer pursuant to the provisions of said Motor Vehicle Code The lien of any chattel mortgage on any chattel or chattels attached to realty including crops executed pursuant to this act shall be superior to any mortgages deeds of trust or judgments or other liens upon the realty or land upon which any such crop has been or is to be seeded or may be growing and any sale made under any mortgage deed of trust or judgment on such realty or land or otherwise before said chattels or crops have been severed shall be made subject to the lien on the chattels and crops as provided for in this act and provided further That any real estate mortgage covering the realty and chattels attached to realty shall remain a prior lien to a chattel mortgage placed subsequently thereon and a judicial sale on liens subsequent to the lien of a chattel mortgage shall not divest the lien of such chattel mortgage and the title of the purchaser at such judicial sale shall be subject to the lien of such chattel mortgage

Section 6 (a) Any of the property covered by a chattel mortgage executed pursuant to this act which may be removed without the written consent of the mortgagee from the county in which it was located at the time of the execution of the mortgage or from the county in which the mortgage is filed shall remain subject to the lien of the mortgage

(b) Any of such property which may be removed with the written consent of the mortgagee from the county in which it was located at the time of execution of the mortgage or from the county in which the mortgage is filed shall remain subject to the lien of the mortgage Provided however That the lien of any such mortgage shal remain valid as against subsequent purchasers subsequent mortgagees and other subsequent lienors and subsequent encumbrancers without actual notice of the chattel mortgage for a period of only six (6) months from the date of removal unless within such period a true copy of the mortgage is filed in the office of the prothonotary in the county to which the property is removed

(c) Any property covered by a chattel mortgage which may be sold by the mortgagor shall remain subject to the lien of the mortgage unless the mortgagee expressly consents in writing to such sale free and acquit of the mortgage lien and the consent of the mortgagee to the sale of a part of the property shall not invalidate or impair the lien of the mortgage as to other property covered by the mortgage

(d) If the mortgagor with or without the written consent of the mortgagee shall make sale of the mortgaged property or any any part thereof the proceeds realized through such sale shall be subject to the lien of said mortgage and the mortgagee at his option may enforce said lien against said chattels or against said proceeds Provided however That said mortgagee shall receive only one full satisfaction of the debt secured by said mortgage And provided further That the mortgagee in consenting in writing to sale of the mortgaged property or a part thereof may authorize and permit the mortgagor to sell such mortgaged chattels free and acquit of the mortgage lien upon condition that the proceeds of sale be paid to the mortgagee and if consent to sale is given on such terms and conditions any purchaser or grantee of said mortgaged chattels shall acquire title to said chattels free and acquit of said lien but the lien shall remain attached to the proceeds realized through sale until payment thereof to the mortgagee

(e) Any chattel mortgage conveying livestock or poultry and hay grain or other foodstuffs or crops shall not be invalid in any particular because provision is contained therein or the mortgagee agrees that the mortgagor may use and consume any such hay grain food forage fodder or crops in preserving or preparing for market the livestock or poultry covered by the mortgage

Section 7 If the mortgagor without the consent of the mortgagee shall remove the chattel or chattels from the county or counties stipulated in the chattel mortgage or shall substantially injure the chattel or chattels subject to the mortgage or conceal or purport to sell or otherwise dispose of them or any substantial part of them under claim of full ownership or otherwise by his wilful act or neglect substantially impair the value of the agreed security save in so far as is consistent with a reasonable use of the chattel or chattels such action shall constitute a default under the chattel mortgage Provided however That unless otherwise stipulated in the instrument the injury or destruction of the chattel or chattels without fault of the mortgagor shall not constitute a default and such injury or destruction incurred before final sale or foreclosure shall not discharge the mortgagor for any obligation secured for which he is personally liable

Section 8 (a) Any chattel mortgage executed pursuant to this act may be filed in the office of the prothonotary for each county in which the chattels or any portion of the chattels are located at the time of filing such chattel mortgage either by filing the original thereof or filing a true copy thereof duly certified by the prothonotary of the original county and when so filed such chattel mortgage shall constitute a lien on the property described therein and conveyed thereby from the time of such filing which lien shall be good and valid as hereinbefore provided Provided however That in the case of more than one chattel mortgage the first filed shall have priority and be first paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the mortgaged chattels The prothonotary shall maintain a book to be known as the "Chattel Mortgage Book" in which he shall docket each instrument presented to him for filing pursuant to this act and in said docket he shall set forth the date and the hour of filing the name of the mortgagor the name of the mortgagee the amount advanced or to be advanced and the limit thereof and a brief description of the chattels described in the instrument and the premises upon which such chattels and crops are located and he shall retain the instrument in his office for future public inspection The prothonotary shall likewise maintain a book to be known as a "Chattel Mortgage Index" in which he shall index alphabetically under the names of the mortgagor or mortgagors and the mortgagee or mortgagees all chattel mortgages filed pursuant to this act and on which the date of filing such instrument shall be noted

(b) Any instrument affecting the lien of a chattel mortgage or its ownership may be filed in each office in which the chattel mortgage is filed and from the date of filing thereof each such instrument shall be good and valid as against subsequent purchasers subsequent mortgagees or other subsequent lienors and subsequent encumbrances with or without notice thereof and the fact and date of filing of each such instrument shall be noted by the prothonotary on the margin of the page on which the chattel mortgage is docketed

Section 9 The prothonotary shall be entitled to charge and receive for services rendered hereunder the following fees

(a) For filing indexing and docketing each chattel mortgage seventy-five cents (75c)

(b) For filing indexing and noting each assignment seventy-five cents (75c)

(c) For filing and noting each partial release satisfaction extension or subordination by written instrument twenty-five cents (25c)

(d) For attesting the entry of a marginal satisfaction and noting the satisfaction on the index twenty-five cents (25c)

(e) For indexing and attesting the entry of a marginal assignment fifty cents (50c)

(f) For a certified copy of a chattel mortgage filed hereunder the sum of twenty-five cents (25c) if a copy of the instrument is furnished at the time the same is filed

Section 10 When chattels are brought into this State subject to a chattel mortgage or other chattel lien filed or recorded in another State such chattel mortgage or other chattel lien instrument or a copy thereof certified by the officer in whose office it was filed or recorded may be filed as chattel mortgages provided for herein are filed and when so filed any such instrument shall be indexed and docketed upon an affidavit of the mortgagee setting forth a brief description of the lands and premises upon which said chattels are located in this State and upon such filing such chattel lien instrument shall have the same force and effect and be subject to all the terms and conditions of this act to the same extent and in the same manner as though executed and filed in this State pursuant to this act

Section 11 Any chattel mortgage executed under and pursuant to this act may be assigned by an instrument in writing signed by the mortgagee or assignee and setting forth the amount of the debt as of the assignment and upon presentation of such assignment to the prothonotary the prothonotary shall file the same and note on the margin of the page in which the chattel mortgage is docketed the fact of the assignment the date of the notation the name of the assignor the name of the assignee the address of each the date of the assignment and the amount of the debt as of the date of the assignment and such assignment shall except as to the parties thereto take effect and be valid only from the time of the marginal notation as herein provided Provided however Any such chattel mortgage may be assigned by an assignment stating the amount of the debt as of the date of the assignment and executed by the mortgagee or assignee on the margin of the page where such chattel mortgage is docketed which assignment shall be attested by the prothonotary

Section 12 Any such chattel mortgage may be satisfied by an instrument in writing signed by the mortgagee or assignee and upon presentation of such instrument to the prothonotary the prothonotary shall file the same and note the fact of such satisfaction and the date thereof on the margin of the page of the book where the chattel mortgage is docketed and when so noted such satisfaction shall fully and effectually release the lien of such mortgage Provided however That any such chattel mortgage may be satisfied by the mortgagee or assignee on the margin of the page where such chattel mortgage is docketed which satisfaction shall be attested by the prothonotary Each satisfaction of a chattel mortgage lien shall be noted by the prothonotary on the line of the page on which the chattel mortgage is indexed

Section 13 Such chattel mortgages shall except between the parties thereto take effect and be valid only from the time of filing as herein provided Such mortgage shall remain a lien on the property mortgaged as between the parties thereto until paid but as to third parties shall not remain a lien for a longer period than five (5) years unless the lien thereof is extended by filing prior to the expiration of the said lien with the prothonotary an affidavit of the mortgagee or his assignee stating the amount then secured by the lien in which case the said mortgage shall remain a lien for an additional period of five (5) years from the date of the filing of such affidavit The lien of any mortgage may be further extended with like effect by the filing of successive like affidavits The prothonotary shall note each extension of a chattel mortgage lien and date of filing the same on the margin of the page of the book where the chattel mortgage is docketed The prothonotary shall likewise index each such extension in the "Chattel Mortgage Index" in the same manner as is herein provided for the indexing of chattel mortgages originally filed

Section 14 (a) Upon default in any of the terms and covenants of any chattel mortgage or bond executed in accordance with the provisions of this act the mortgagee assignee or duly authorized attorney or agent of such mortgagee or assignee shall have the right either by process of law by writ of replevin or otherwise or without process of law immediately to take possession of the mortgaged property and to do all things necessary to preserve the same and any expense incurred in conjunction therewith shall be included in and secured by the lien of said chattel mortgage and this right shall be in addition to any and all other rights inuring to the benefit of the mortgagee or assignee

(b) In the event of the repossession of the mortgaged chattel or chattels in accordance with the provisions of this section the mortgagee may sell the said chattel or chattels at public or private sale after givving a written notice of at least ten (10) days thereof to the mortgagor by mailing same to him at his last known address Any surplus realized in excess of debt and costs shall be paid over to the mortgagor and any deficit may be collected from the mortgagor under the provisions of section fifteen hereof.

(c) The mortgagor or his assignee at any time prior to the sale of the mortgaged property shall have the right to redeem and to repossess the mortgaged property either by process of law by writ of replevin or otherwise or without process of law upon making payment to the mortgagee or his assignee of the indebtedness secured by such chattel mortgage together with interest thereon and other charges and amounts payable under the terms of the chattel mortgage or the bond or note secured by the same

Section 15 Upon default by the mortgagor in the payment of the mortgage debt either as to principal or interest or upon default in the performance of any covenant contained in the chattel mortgage or bond or note the chattel mortgage may be foreclosed by any of the methods authorized by law for the foreclosure of a mortgage including the entry of judgment on the bond or note secured by the chattel mortgage The lien of any levy which may be made upon the mortgaged property by virtue of any execution based upon a judgment entered upon such bond or note shall relate back to the date of the filing of the chattel mortgage In such foreclosure proceedings the mortgaged chattels may be sold in the same manner as authorized by the laws of this Commonwealth in the case of personal property sold under execution

Section 16 Any person who without the written consent of the mortgagee or his assignee shall wilfully sell any property mortgaged by him or his predecessor in title in conformity with the provisions of this act either before or after the debt is due and before the debt is paid or shall wilfully injure destroy conceal or without notice to the mortgagee abandon or shall wilfully deface any marks identifying any such mortgaged property shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to undergo imprisonment not exceeding one year or to pay a fine of double the value of the personal property so sold injured destroyed defaced concealed or abandoned or either or both at the discretion of the court

Section 17 This act shall not be construed to adversely affect or impair the lien of or rights under any existing chattel mortgage nor shall this act be construed to repeal or affect any act relating to chattel mortgages not herein expressly repealed

Section 18 The act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 343) entitled "An act relating to chattel mortgages on livestock poultry farm machinery farm equipment and crops grown growing or to be grown designating the operation and effect of the lien of such mortgages providing for the filing indexing and docketing of such mortgages and related instruments in prothonotaries' offices and prescribing prothonotaries' fees providing for the filing in Pennsylvania of similar lien instruments originally filed or recorded in other states regulating the assignment release satisfaction and extension of the lien of such mortgages prescribing methods of foreclosure defining defaults and violations and fixing penalties" is hereby repealed

Section 18 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 702, as follows:

An Act making it unlawful for any individual or individuals to carry on any business under an assumed or fictitious name style or designation unless upon advertisement and the filing of an application to that effect in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and of the prothonotary requiring non-resident applicants to have a resident agent prescribing the effect of failure to file such application providing that that certificates of the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall be admitted in evidence requiring county commissioners at the expense of the county to provide books or other means of reproduction for the entry of such applications requiring the cancellation of such application on the withdrawal from the business providing methods therefor fixing the fees of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and prothonotary and providing penalties

Section 1 No individual or individuals shall hereafter carry on or conduct any business in this Commonwealth under any assumed or fictitious name style or designation unless the person or persons conducting or carrying on the same shall have first filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and in the office of the prothonotary in the county where the principal place of business is located to be entered in a book provided for that purpose or to be entered or recorded by microfilming or other photographic process an application under oath and signed by such person or persons setting forth the real name or names and the residences including number and street if any of all the persons owning or interested in said business the name style or designation under which said business is being or will be carried on or conducted a brief statement concerning the character or nature of said business and the location of the principal office or place of business including number and street if any

Section 2 Where all of the owners of said business live outside the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and desire to carry on or conduct any such business within the Commonwealth then such business shall be conducted through a resident agent such application shall also show the name and residence address including number and street if any of such agent

Section 3 Before any such application shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth or in the office of the prothonotary of the county aforesaid notice of intention so to file the same shall be given by publication once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the political subdivision of said county wherein the principal office or place of business is located (or if no newspaper is there published then in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county) and also in the legal newspaper if any published in said county Such advertisement shall set forth notice of intention to register in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and in the office of the prothonotary of the said county and the date when such application will be filed the name or names and residence address or addresses including number and street if any of all persons owning or interested in said business the name style or designation under which said business is being or will be carried on or conducted and the location of its principal place of business including number and street if any Proofs of publication of such notice shall be submitted with such application to the Secretary of the Commonwealth and to the office of the prothonotary Upon the filing of said application with proofs of publication and payment of the proper fees the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall forthwith issue a Certificate of Registration

Section 4 The failure of any such person or persons to file the applications aforesaid in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth or in the office of the prothonotary shall not impair or affect the validity of any contract with such person or persons and actions or proceedings at law or in equity may be instituted and maintained on any such contract but no such action shall be instituted or recovery had by any such persons on any such contract either expressed or implied in any of the courts of this Commonwealth or before any justice of the peace or magistrate thereof until such person or persons comply with the provisions of this act And provided further Before any such person or persons may institute any action in any of the courts of this Commonwealth or before any justice of the peace or magistrate thereof on any cause of action arising prior to the filing of the application provided for in this section such person or persons shall pay to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for the use of the Commonwealth a license fee or fine of twenty-five ($25.00) dollars This act shall apply to all actions pending at the date of the passage of this act Provided That the plaintiff in any such suit shall pay all costs accrued prior to compliance with the provisions of this act Provided That this act shall not apply to any cases adjudicated at the date of the passage of this act

Section 5 A certification by the Secretary of the Commonwealth under the great seal of the Commonwealth showing the filing of the application or statements and the payment of fees and fines or the failure to file such application and statements or to pay the fees and fines as provided for and required by this act shall be competent and legal evidence and shall be admitted in evidence in any judicial proceedings in any court where the same may be material

Section 6 The book or other means of reproduction hereinbefore required to be kept by the prothonotary shall be provided by the county commissioners at the expense of the respective counties The fees of the prothonotary and the Secretary of the Commonwealth for the entry or reproduction of such application shall be the same as now provided by law for similar services

Section 7 Any person or persons conducting or carrying on any business in this Commonwealth who in compliance with the provisions of this act have or may hereafter file an application as herein provided in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and in the office of the prothonotary shall upon the dissolution of any such business or upon his or their withdrawal from such business file a statement of cancellation or withdrawal as the case may be and shall thereupon have the right to require the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the prothonotary in whose office such application was filed to cancel such application if the business has been dissolved or to make a notation on the margin of the book in which such application was entered to the effect that he or they are no longer connected with or interested in such business if he or they have withdrawn from the business provided however that if the entry or recording of such application be by microfilming or other photographic process then the statement of cancellation or withdrawal shall be entered or recorded in like manner as a separate instrument The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall forthwith issue a Certificate of Cancellation or Withdrawal

Section 8 The Statements of Cancellation or Withdrawal required to be filed by this act shall be under oath signed by such person or persons and shall set forth that such business has been dissolved or that such person or persons (giving the name or names and addresses) have withdrawn therefrom that the business no longer exists or that the person or persons desiring the notation or the entry or recording to be made are no longer connected with or interested in the business the date when such business was dissolved or when such person or persons withdrew therefrom and a request that the application be cancelled or that the notation or entry or recording as aforesaid be made Thereupon it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the prothonotary upon the payment of the same fee as charged for the entry of the application to cancel such application or to make the notation as requested or to enter or record the filing of the same as heretofore provided

Section 9 In case a State of Cancellation required under this act is not filed then upon satisfactory determination by the Secretary of the Commonwealth that such assumed or fictitious name style or designation has ceased to be used in the business operations of the registrants he may at any time subsequent to ten (10) days written notice to the last address of record revoke or cancel the certificate filed under the provisions of section one (1) of the act

Section 10 All applications for registration of assumed or fictitious names Statements of Cancellation or Withdrawal henceforth or heretofore filed shall after entry or recording by microfilming or other photographic process be retained by the Secretary of the Commonwealth for a period of one year from the date of registration and may thereafter be destroyed together with proofs of publication upon the approval of the Executive Board

Section 11 If any application or statement provided for by this act shall be in any respect false any person signing or swearing to the same shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding one year or both in the discretion of the court

Section 12 Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding one year or both in the discretion of the court

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 771, as follows:

An Act providing for and requiring in certain cases preference in appointments to public position or on public works for honorably discharged persons who served in the military or naval service during any war in which the United States engaged and in certain cases for the widows and wives of such persons

Section 1 The word "soldier" as used in this act shall be construed to mean a person who served in the armed forces of the United States or in any women's organization officially connected therewith during any war in which the United States engaged and who has an honorable discharge from such service

Section 2 When any soldier shall take any civil service appointment or promotional examination for a public position under the Commonwealth or under any political subdivision thereof he shall be given credit in the manner hereinafter provided for the discipline and experience represented by his military training and for the loyalty and public spirit demonstrated by his service for the preservation of his country

Section 3 Whenever any soldier shall successfully pass a civil service appointment or promotional examination for a public position under the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof and shall thus establish that he possesses the qualifications required by law for appointment to or promotion in such public position such soldier's examination shall be marked or graded an additional ten points above the mark or grade credited for the examination and the total mark or grade thus obtained shall represent the final mark or grade of such soldier and shall determine his standing on any eligible or promotional list certified or furnished to the appointing or promoting power

Section 4 Whenever any soldier possesses the requisite qualifications and is eligible to appointment to or promotion in a public position where no such civil service examination is required the appointing power in making an appointment or promotion to a public position shall give preference to such soldier

Whenever any soldier possesses the requisite qualifications and his name appears on any eligible or promotional list certified or furnished as the result of any such civil service examination the appointing or promoting power in making an appointment or promotion to a public position shall give preference to such soldier notwithstanding that his name does not stand highest on the eligible or promotional list

In making an appointment or promotion to public office where such a civil service examination is required the appointing or promotional power may give preference to any soldier who has passed the required examination for appointment or promotion to such position and possesses the requisite qualifications although his name does not appear on the eligible or promotional list certified or furnished to the appointing or promoting power

Section 5 The lack of academic or scholastic training or experience age loss of limb or other physical impairment which does not in fact incapacitate any such soldier shall not be deemed to disqualify him provided he possesses the other requisite qualifications to satisfactorily perform all of the duties which the position requires

Section 6 Whenever the Commonwealth issues specifications for the construction alteration or repair of any public works such specifications shall include a provision under which the contractors and subcontractors shall agree to give a preferential rating similar to that given by this Commonwealth as herein provided to any soldier making application for employment upon such public works

Section 7 The same preferential rating given to soldiers under the provisions of this act shall be extended to include the widows and wives of disabled soldiers

Section 8 This act shall be construed as being the exclusive law applying to the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions in giving preference to soldiers in appointment or promotion to public position or on public works

Section 9 The act approved the twelfth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 27) entitled "An act to amend the title and the act approved the nineteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven (P. L. 132) entitled 'An act to give preference of appointment or employment to honorably discharged soldiers sailors and marines who fought for the Union cause in the late war of the rebellion' by extending the same preference to veterans and nurses of any war in which the United States has engaged" and the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 1198) entitled "An act providing for and requiring in certain cases preference in appointments to public position for honorably discharged persons who served in the military or naval service during any war in which the United States was engaged" and the act approved the fifth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 872) entitled "An act providing for and requiring in certain cases preference in appointment to public position for honorably discharged persons who served in the military or naval service during any war in which the United States was engaged" and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 116, as follows:

An Act to further amend sections one eleven and twelve of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as amended by modifying certain definitions and imposing further powers and duties upon the retirement board prescribing the rights and liabilities of withdrawing contributers and of disability annuitants

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. eight hundred fifty-eight) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as last amended by the act approved the fifth day of August one thousand nine hundred and forty-one (P. L. 839) is heremy further amended to read as follows

Definitions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the following words and phrases as used in this act unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context shall have the following meanings

* * * * *

18 "Accumulated Deductions" shall mean the total of the amounts deducted from the salary of a contributor and paid into the fund created by this act to the credit of the annuity savings account together with the regular interest credited thereon [.] to the date of the termination of the contributor's State services The accumulated deductions left by former employes or contributors with the fund to their credit whose state employment has heretofore been terminated shall no longer bear interest after the effective date of this act

20 "State Annuity" shall mean payments [for life] derived from contributions made by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as provided in this act

21 "Members' Annuity" shall mean payments [for life] derived from contributions made by the contributor as provided in this act

Section 2 Section eleven of said act as last amended by the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 683 is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 11 (1) Should a contributor before reaching superannuation retirement age by resignation or dismissal or for any other reason than death or retirement upon disability under section twelve or for superannuation under section thirteen cease to be a State employe he or she shall be paid [on demand] from the fund created by this act (a) the full amount of the accumulated deductions standing to his or her individual credit in the annuity savings account as of the termination of such service or in lieu thereof should he or she so elect (b) an annuity or a deferred annuity beginning at superannuation retirement age which shall be the actuarial equivalent of said accumulated deductions His or her membership in the retirement association shall thereupon cease

Section 3 Section twelve of said act as last amended by the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 683) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 12 Retirement upon disability shall be made and discontinued as follows

(1) Upon the application of a contributor or of one acting in his or her behalf or upon the application of the head of his department the retirement board [shall] may retire said contributor on a disability allowance if he or she is under the superannuation retirement age and on a superannuation allowance if he or she has attained or passed such age Provided The physician or physicians designated by the retirement board after a medical examination of said contributor made at the place of residence of such contributor or at a place mutually agreed upon shall certify to the retirement board that said contributor is physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of duty and that said contributor ought to be retired And provided that the retirement board concur in such report And provided further That said contributor has had five or more years of service as a member

(2) Once each [year] six months and at such other times as may be deemed necessary the retirement board [may] shall require any disability annuitant [while still under the superannuation retirement age] to undergo medical examination by a physician or physicians designated by the retirement board said examination to be made at the place of residence of said beneficiary or other place mutually agreed upon Should such physician or physicians thereupon report and certify to the retirement board that such disability beneficiary is no longer physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of duty or that such disability beneficiary is able to engage in a gainful occupation and should the retirement board concur in such report then the [amount of the State annuity] disability retirement allowance shall be discontinued or reduced to an amount that shall not be in excess of the amount by which the amount of last years salary of the beneficiary as a State employe exceeds his present earning capacity

(a) Each three months it shall be the duty of any disability annuitant to furnish a written statement of all earnings from his business occupation or profession from whatever source derived and information showing whether or not he is able to engage in a gainful occupation and such other information as may be required by the retirement board On failure neglect or refusal to furnish such information for the period of the preceding three months the retirement board may refuse to make further disability retirement allowance payments to the disability annuitant until he has furnished such information to the satisfaction of the retirement board and should such refusal continue for six months all his rights in or to the disability retirement allowance constituted by this act shall be forfeited

(3) Should any disability annuitant while under the superannuation retirement age refuse to submit to at least one medical examination in any [year] six months period by a physician or physicians designated by the retirement board his or her State annuity shall be discontinued until the withdrawal of such refusal and should such refusal continue for [one year] a period of six months all his or her rights in and to the State annuity constituted by this act shall be forfeited

(4) Upon the application of any beneficiary under the superannuation retirement age drawing a disability retirement allowance under the provisions of this act said beneficiary may be restored to active service by the head of the department in which he or she served at the time of his or her retirement Upon the restoration of a beneficiary to active service his or her retirement allowance shall cease and he or she shall resume membership in the retirement association

(5) On retirement for disability a contributor shall receive a retirement allowance which shall consist of

(a) A member's annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his or accumulated deductions and

(b) A State annuity which together with the member's annuity shall be sufficient to produce a retirement allowance of one-ninetieth (1/90) of his or her final salary multiplied by the number of his or her years of service but in any case not less than thirty per centum of said final salary unless said thirty per centum shall exceed eighth-ninths of the rate of retirement allowance to which the member might have been entitled had retirement been deferred until the superannuation retirement age when the State annuity granted shall be such exceed eight-ninths of the rate of retirement allowance equal to eight-ninths of the rate of allowance to which the member might have been entitled had retirement been deferred until the superannuation retirement age

Where a member deferred taking membership and has not completed his back payments at the time of disability retirement then the State annuity shall be the amount to which the member would have been entitled had the back payments been completed at the time of becoming a member

Should a disability annuitant die before the total allowance received for disability shall be at least equal to the amount of his or her accumulated deductions at the time of disability retirement then the board shall pay to the named beneficiary or to the annuitant's estate an amount equal to the difference between the allowance received and the annuitant's accumulated deductions and if such amount is less than one hundred dollars ($100) and no letters have been taken out on the estate within six months after death then payment may be made to the undertaker or to any person or political subdivision who or which shall have paid the claim of the undertaker

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 434, as follows:

An Act to further amend sections twenty-one and thirty-one of and to add section twenty-one and one tenth to the act approved the sixth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 861) entitled "An act to create a uniform and exclusive system for the administration of parole in this Commonwealth establishing the 'Pennsylvania Board of Parole' conferring and defining its jurisdiction duties powers and functions including the supervision of persons placed upon probation in certain designated cases providing for the method of appointment of its members regulating the appointment removal and discharge of its officers clerks and employes dividing the Commonwealth into administrative districts for purposes of parole fixing the salaries of members of the board and of certain other officers and employes thereof making violations of certain provisions of this act misdemeanors providing penalties therefor and for other cognate purposes and making an appropriation" by further defining the jurisdiction duties powers and functions of the Pennsylvania Board of Parole and conferring jurisdiction on criminal courts in certain cases

Section 1 Section twenty-one of the act approved the sixth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 861) entitled "An act to create a uniform and exclusive system for the administration of parole in this Commonwealth establishing the 'Pennsylvania Board of Parole' conferring and defining its jurisdiction duties powers and functions including the supervision of persons placed upon probation in certain designated cases providing for the method of appointment of its members regulating the appointment removal and discharge of its officers clerks and employes dividing the Commonwealth into administrative districts for purposes of parole fixing the salaries of members of the board and of certain other officers and employes thereof making violations of certain provisions of this act misdemeanors providing penalties therefor and for other cognate purposes and making an appropriation" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 767) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 21 The board is hereby authorized to release on parole any convict confined in any penal institution of this Commonwealth as to whom power to parole is herein granted to said board except convicts condemned to death or serving life imprisonment whenever in its opinion the best interests of the convict justify or require his being paroled and it does not appear that the interests of the Commonwealth will be injured thereby If at the time a person is paroled he has been imprisoned for a period in excess of the minimum term of imprisonment to which he shall have been sentenced the period of parole may be extended by the board up to but not beyond the maximum term imposed The power to parole herein granted to the Board of Parole may not be exercised in the board's discretion at any time before but only after the expiration of the minimum term of imprisonment fixed by the court in its sentence or by the Pardon Board in a sentence which has been reduced by commutation Provided however That if the Board of Parole refuse to parole the prisoner at the expiration of any minimum term fixed by the Pardon Board it shall within ten days after the date when the minimum term expired transmit to the Pardon Board a written statement of the reasons for refusal to parole the prisoner at the expiration of the minimum term fixed by the Pardon Board Thereafter the Pardon Board may either accept the action of the Board of Parole or order the immediate release of the prisoner on parole under the supervision of the Board of Parole And further provided that no person who has been sentenced to the Industrial Home for Women at Muncy Pennsylvania who was under the age of twenty-two years at the date of sentence may be paroled from that institution by the Board of Parole within three (3) years of the effective date of the said sentence unless upon the recommendation of the trustees of that institution Said board shall have the power during the period for which a person shall have been sentenced to recommit one paroled for violation of the terms and conditions of his parole and from time to time to reparole and recommit in the same manner and with the same procedure as in the case of an original parole or recommitment if in the judgment of the said board there is a reasonable probability that the convict will be benefited by again according him liberty and it does not appear that the interests of the Commonwealth will be injured thereby

Section 2 Said act is hereby amended by adding thereto after section twenty-one a new section to read as follows

Section 21.1 (a) Convicted Violators Any parolee under the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania Board of Parole released from any Penal Institution of the Commonwealth who during the period of parole or while deliquent on parole commits any crime punishable by imprisonment for which he is convicted or to which he pleads guilty at any time thereafter in a Court of Record may at the discretion of the Board be recommitted as a parole violator to the Penal Institution from which he was paroled or to any other institution to which legally transferred If his recommitment is so ordered he shall be reentered to serve the remainder of the term which said parolee would have been compelled to serve had he not been paroled and he will be given no credit for the time at liberty on parole He would be subject to the power of the Board to reparole whenever in its opinion the best interest of the prisoner justify or require his release on parole and it does not appear that the interest of the Commonwealth will be injured thereby If a new sentence is imposed upon him to be served in the same institution from which paroled then the service of the balance of said term originally imposed shall precede the commencement of the new term imposed for the latter crime If a new sentence is imposed upon him to be served in any institution other than the one from which paroled then the service of the new term for the latter crime shall precede the commencement of the balance of the term originally imposed The period of time for which the parole violator is required to serve shall be computed from and begin on the date that he is taken into custody to be returned to the institution as a parole violator

(b) Technical Violators Any parolee under the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania Parole Board released from any Penal Institution in the Commonwealth who during the period of parole violates the terms and conditions of his parole other than the commission of a new crime of which he is convicted or to which he pleads guilty in a Court of Record may be recommitted to the institution from which he was paroled or to any other institution to which legally transferred as a parole violator Provided That before any such parolee shall be so recommitted the court which originally sentenced such parolee or a Court of Record of the county in which the alleged technical violation shall have occurred shall find such parolee guilty of substantially violating the terms and conditions of his parole other than by the commission of a new crime of which he is convicted or to which he pleads guilty in a Court of Record If he is so recommitted he shall be given credit for the time served on parole in good standing and be reentered to serve the remainder of his original sentence or sentences Said remainder shall be computed from the time his delinquent conduct occurred to the date of the possible maximum expiration and this period shall begin to run from the date the parolee is taken into custody for return to the institution as a parole violator Such prisoners shall be subject to reparole by the Board whenever in its opinion the best interest of the prisoner justify or require his being reparoled and it does not appear the interest of the Commonwealth will be injured thereby

Section 3 Section thirty-one of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L.767) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 31 Anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding this act shall not apply to persons committed to the Pennsylvania Training School houses of refuge for boys or girls institutions for the discipline or correction of juveniles as defined by existing laws or persons imprisoned in any county jail workhouse or other penal or correctional institution under sentence by an alderman justice of the peace or magistrate or committed in default of payment of any fine or of bail

This act shall apply to inmates confined in the Pennsylvania Industrial School (White Hill) situate at Camp Hill Pennsylvania [the Industrial Home for Women at Muncy Pennsylvania] and the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon Pennsylvania when the maximum sentence which could have been imposed for the crime of which the prisoner was convicted equals or exceeds two years including juveniles under 18 years of age serving sentence in the above named institutions and it shall apply to inmates confined in the Industrial Home for Women at Muncy Pennsylvania in all cases where the maximum period of incarceration might equal or exceed two years regardless of the maximum sentence which could have been imposed for the crime of which the prisoner was convicted including juveniles under 18 years of age serving sentence in this institution but exclusive of juvenles committed [to said institutions] thereto

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, for the benefit of the gentleman from Elk, we are now speaking about House Bill 509, the Wives Bill. I believe the gentleman realizes that?

Mr. SORG. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Will the gentleman explain to the House what the Senate in effect did with the wives in the bill?

Mr. SORG. I think the gentleman has reference to the bill previously concurred in, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. No, this is a new bill. Mr. Speaker, we are now considering the amendment inserted by the Senate in House Bill 509, is that right?

Mr. SORG. That is correct.

Mr. LEVY. I desire to ask the gentleman from Elk to inform the Members of the House what the effect is of the amendments inserted by the Senate.

Mr. SORG. Everything, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. I thank the gentleman.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 1, by striking out the following: "State Board of Vocational Education which is also known as the State Board of Vocational Rehabilitation" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "members of the State Council of Education and the Secretary of Labor and Industry who shall constitute the State Board of Vocational Education and which Board is also designated as the State Board of Vocational Rehabilitation".

Amend Section 3, page 4, line 2, by inserting after the word "board" the following: "subject to the approval of the Executive Board of the Commonwealth when required by law." Also inserting in line 26, after the word "individuals "the following:

"(4) To administer the expenditure of funds made available by the government of the United States for vocational rehabilitation

(5) To make surveys to ascertain the number and condition of physically handicapped persons within the Commonwealth

(6) To administer the laws of the Commonwealth providing for vocational rehabilitation

The Secretary of Labor and Industry shall be chief executive officer for vocational rehabilitation of the State Board of Vocational Education

All persons employed by the Department of Labor and Industry and the Department of Public Instruction in administering the laws relating to vocational rehabilitation on the effective date of this act are hereby transferred to and shall become employes of the State Board of Vocational Rehabilitation in the Department of Labor and Industry and shall be assigned to the Board of Vocational Rehabilitation to continue the administration of said laws The status of every such person under any law or regulation providing for civil service shall not be affected by such transfer

All files records and equipment of the Department of Labor and Industry and Department of Public Instruction pertaining to the administration of the laws relating to vocational rehabilitation shall become the property of the State Board of Vocational Education designated as the State Board of Vocational Rehabilitation".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, since I did not know the number of the resolution that is referred to, is it the one dealing with the instructions to the next House as to the make up of the Committees? Is that the resolution?

The SPEAKER. That is the report of the Select Committee.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, in this resolution the way I understand it, you are going to have fewer committees, or your next House will have less committees than you have at the present time. My reason for rising is that I am under the impression that we on these different committees did not have any trouble in this particular session as to the over-lapping of committees, due to the number of bills that had been offered to the said committees. I believe everyone in this House will agree that we had but one day in the first three or four months when we did have any particular meetings, and it is my impression that the choking up or the over-lapping was caused by trying to be busy on one morning of a week of the session. If that is true then our trouble is not an over abundance of committee meetings or committees.

I want to say that I as one on this side of the House definitely was not in favor of the bills that were handled in this House, or how they were handled. You can go back in your Legislative Journal in the early part of the session and you will read there that I, Tilghman Freed, asked who "the powers that be" are, and when I asked who "the powers that be" are, I definitely meant that. At this time I am still at a loss to know who "the powers that be" are in person. I very well know the effects of the powers that be so far as bills out of committee is concerned. I as a member in three different terms that I have been here have always felt that when a bill goes into the hopper, is given to the Chairman of a committee he is the custodian of the bill, and it is then presented to the committee. In saying that I believe that most of you must agree with me that that is your own case, that bills were not presented to the Committee.

I would like at this time to interrogate a few of the Members of the House if I may.

The SPEAKER. How many Members does the gentleman desire to interrogate?

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, if I interrogate all I have on my list I will interrogate seven. I will not take up much of your time, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. FREED. The first gentleman I would like to interrogate is the gentleman from Wyoming, Mr. Greenwood.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not present in the House.

Mr. FREED. I would like then to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Huntley.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUNTLEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Huntley, are you Chairman of a Committee?

Mr. HUNTLEY. I am.

Mr. FREED. Do you mind telling us what Committee you are chairman of?

Mr. HUNTLEY. Law and Order.

Mr. FREED. Has it been your experience that the overlapping has caused great trouble in bringing bills out of that committee?

Mr. HUNTLEY. I do not understand the question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FREED. The question is, has the trouble been that there has been overlapping of committees that kept you from bringing bills into the committee?

Mr. HUNTLEY. I cannot just hear the gentleman.

Mr. FREED. The question is, has the overlapping of the committees, meaning when committee meetings were at the same hour of the day, prevented you from bringing the bills up that were in your possession?

Mr. HUNTLEY. There has been overlapping of the rooms; is that what you mean? There has been overlapping in the use of the rooms that committee meetings are held in? Meetings could possibly have been set at some other time, but only at great inconvenience.

Mr. FREED. Then the gentleman has read the inscription on the ceiling of the hall that says "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free". That is all.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Yes, I have read that.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Yeakel.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bucks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YEAKEL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FREED. You are Chairman of a Committee, Mr. Yeakel?

Mr. YEAKEL. That is right.

Mr. FREED. Will you kindly tell us of what committee you are chairman?

Mr. YEAKEL. Corporations and Industry.

Mr. FREED. May I ask if at any time you have had any trouble calling a committee meeting during this session?

Mr. YEAKEL. Well, I may have an exceptionally hard committee. There has not been one hundred per cent attendance as far as that is concerned.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Yeakel, may I ask you, did you always have a quorum?

Mr. YEAKEL. That is one thing, I always had a quorum.

Mr. FREED. At no time did the number of committee meetings interfere with your calling a meeting?

Mr. YEAKEL. Well, I personally with my own committee did not have any particular trouble.

Mr. FREED. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Mr. McClester.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLESTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FREED. You are a Chairman of a committee, are you not?

Mr. McCLESTER. I am chairman of the Third Class Cities Committee.

Mr. FREED. Have you had any trouble in holding your committee meetings due to other committee meetings at that time?

Mr. McCLESTER. Well, you ought to know a lot about that. You were vice-chairman of the committee.

Mr. FREED. Have any bills been held back, and particular bills in your committee due to the overlapping?

Mr. McCLESTER. Well, there may have been. I would not just be in a position, without going over the minutes of the Committee for the entire session and checking up with my secretary, and he has already turned his books in, so I do not think I would be in position to answer that question intelligently.

Mr. FREED. All right, I do not want to reveal any inside stuff.

Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Krise, chairman of the Banking Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield permit himself to be interropated?

Mr. KRISE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Krise, being a member of that same Committee of Banking, may I ask you what percentage of bills was not taken up in your committee?

Mr. KRISE. What percentage was not taken up in the Committee? None. We have reported out every bill that has been in the committee.

Mr. FREED. That's what I wanted. Every bill was taken up in the Banking Committee that you had.

Mr. Speaker, I will take the last one, the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not see the gentleman in the hall of the House.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, I definitely feel that our trouble has not been overlapping at all. I feel that we should not recommend to the next Legislature, whoever may be here, I may not be here, nevertheless we should not recommend to them that this was our trouble, because whoever those powers that be are know definitely what the trouble was. It was not this overlapping.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Freed.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FREED. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Has the gentleman learned whether Mr. David Harris is one of the powers that be?

Mr. FREED. That is a little over the side-lines.

Mr. ROSE. I was informed very distinctly that he never gave out orders. I was wondering whether he did not ever give out orders to anybody in this House?

Mr. FREED. I cannot answer that.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Freed.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FREED. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Did I understand the gentleman to say that he has been here all this time and he still does not know who the powers that be are?

Mr. FREED. I can answer you that, I traveled every wing in this Capitol to find them. I refer you to the inscription at the top, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I want to inform the gentleman that two years from now when we are in power on this side, if the gentleman comes over the first day I will tell him who the powers that be are.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1001 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. SORG offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1945.

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That House Bill No. 1001, Printer's No. 432, entitled "An act to further amend section two hundred two to add section one thousand three hundred seven point one and to repeal section two thousand two hundred nine of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled 'An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined' designating the State Council of Education as the State Board of Vocational Education for certain purposes and transferring the administration of vocational rehabilitation from the Department of Labor and Industry to the State Board of Vocational Education," be recalled from the Governor for further consideration and amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LONGO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I beg your kind indulgence for a few moments. All of us are hilarious over the fact that tonight we hope to adjourn this session. It is my great privilege tonight as a representative of the Democratic Members of the House of Representatives to make a presentation to a Member of this House who the Democratic Members believe has been the most valuable Member of the House in regard to all the legislation that has been passed so far as Democratic policies are concerned.

The Member to who this gift is awarded, through his cooperation with the Minority Leader of the House is undoubtedly responsible for the great progress that has been made. It is because of his great ability, because of his diplomacy that many of the controversial matters that were argued before the House were ironed out to the satisfaction of both parties in this House.

We are cognizant of the fact that the receiver of this gift has spent many industrious hours analyzing and extracting all of the meat from the bills that were presented in the House and presented for action. He has undoubtedly been a guiding light in all respects in the great problems that have been presented by both parties. His diplomacy has been shown many times over and over again, by being able to meet with the Majority Leader of the House and the Speaker of the House and the sponsors of the many measures that were presented, and through his industry has been able to save many hours of time to the Members, as well as to present a great satisfaction to all of us.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, in behalf of the Democratic Members of the House, it is my great privilege to request that the Honorable Reuben E. Cohen, the great cooperator with our Minority Leader, be presented at the well of the House to receive a gift, which carries with it the respect and admiration of all the Democratic Members on this side of the House. I am sure that the members of the Republican party will join with us when we present this gift to him in saying that it is with the good wishes of all, that it is unanimous.

There is one condition attached to this gift, and that is with the funds provided, Mr. and Mrs. Cohen will purchase something that will be remembered by them for many years, as we will remember the great work he has done for us.

Mr. Cohen, in behalf of the Democratic Members it is my great pleasure to present this gift to you in their behalf.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish it were the Post War Planning Commission that is the subject of debate—I could find something to say. I might let you in on a secret, all the Members, particularly on the Democratic side, among the very select number of boys over at 1022 or 1810 on Monday night it has been my distinct privilege and pleasure to tell the boys just what was needed in the House for the coming week, and then I just proceeded to take their contributions painlessly.

It is gratifying to find that the rest of the Members were let in on this business rather easily, because 1022 and 1810 represent a great amount of labor and the loss of a great amount of sleep.

I do want to say to the Members on this side of the House that the opportunity you gave me to serve has been repaid to me many times through the fact that I have been able to learn a great deal.

Just taking an interest in things generally is something, but having the chance and the responsibility, I suppose, of having to do an awful lot, means a great deal to one's learning and education.

I was happy to have done the job. If I made mistakes I am very happy because it is human to err, and I trust that the leadership I may have exhibited, together with Hi Andrews may be the leading light that will lead the party on to greater things in years to come. If we have established a record, and I have been able to help it along, and if we come back at the next session, we will be very hospitable to the other side, and I will feel rather happy for the opportunity and privilege of having done so.

The SPEAKER. The Chair also wishes to congratulate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen.

SENATE MESSAGE

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1002

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 1002, entitled:

An Act providing for vocational rehabilitation for disabled individuals by the State Board of Vocational Education authorizing cooperation with other departments and agencies and reciprocal agreements with other states requiring cooperation with the Federal government making the State Treasurer custodian and disbursement agent of Federal vocational rehabilitation funds prohibiting misuse of vocational rehabilitation lists and records limiting political activity by persons engaged in the administration of vocational rehabilitation and prescribing penalties.

And has appointed Messrs. Homsher, Wagner and Barr a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (already appointed) on the subpect of the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON HOUSE BILL No. 1002

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I move that a Committee of Conference be appointed on House Bill No. 1002.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1002, Messrs. Sorg, Watkins and Cohen.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON RULES

Mr. SORG offered a report from the Committee on Rules.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1945.

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That this 136th regular session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die Saturday, May 5, 1945 at 11:30 o'clock p. m.

Committee on Rules:

FRANKLIN H. LICHTENWALTER
LLOYD H. WOOD
WILSON L. YEAKEL
HERBERT P. SORG
D. RAYMOND SOLLENBERGER

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to enter my individual protest against the adoption of this resolution. We have been proceeding happily during the last few hours on the assumption that we would quit when the work was done. In order to reach this point we have neglected some very important business. I do not know just when the things that are before this House can be brought to a successful termination. I know that a meeting of the Democratic Members of the House will be called into caucus on a very important subject. I have no assurance that the matter on which they will caucus will be brought to a successful conclusion. I see no reason why an arbitrary hour, an arbitrary day, an arbitrary minute should be fixed for adjournment. This House can recess from time to time without changing the legislative day, and I believe we can recess for an hour or for two hours or three hours or five hours or ten hours, and there is no reason, no sound reason for this arbitrary fixing of a minute when these——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, a motion to adjourn is not debatable.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I submit that a motion to adjourn at a particular time is debatable.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the sine die resolution is the main question before the House and is debatable. The gentleman from Cambria will proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that is a point that the gentleman from Delaware well knows, because it is a point that I debated on the floor of this House when he was Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I will not have very much to say unless goaded into eloquence by the persistence of the gentleman from Delaware who hangs upon my flank like an objectionable gadfly. I will say that at this late day in his career, if his memory has failed him he has forgotten the parliamentary law he once possessed, I will very gladly give him a lesson.

I seriously enter my personal protest against fixing the particular hour at which we adjourn sine die, because I believe a more suitable process would be to recess if the business of this House makes it necessary. As the matter now stands if a contingency arises it may protract the session, or somehow drag it into Sunday when sheer weariness will force a close in our deliberations.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state it.

Mr. LEONARD. Is there anybody in charge of the House here who knows whether or not we can get done before tomorrow morning? Can that question be answered?

The SPEAKER. There is nothing in order but the calling of the roll on the resolution.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I don't want to vote for this resolution if I have got to sit around here all night.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Moran and Mr. Petrosky and were as follows:

EMPLOYES OF STATE PENAL INSTITUTIONS

Messrs. REYNOLDS and McNALLY offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent to have it read for the information of the House.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1945.

Many of the employes of the State penal and correctional institutions are obliged to work on holidays which is a hardship in many respects, yet the hardship is borne by such employes in good grace.

However, it has been the custom not to give these employes other days off which would in part compensate for the holidays they are required to work; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Department of Welfare shall hereafter provide that all employes of State penal and correctional institutions, required to work on holidays, shall within the week following such holiday, be given a day off in its stead, without diminution of salary or compensation. as these employes stand high in their loyalty and devotion to their tasks and duties; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House transmit a copy of this resolutiin to the Secretary of Welfare of this Commonwealth.

The SPEAKER. The resolution lies over for printing under the Rules.

REGISTERED NURSES AID CORPS

Messrs. REIDENBACH, O'NEILL and MUNLEY offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent to have it read for the information of the House.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1945.

War—with its urgent and inexhaustible demands—has reached nearly every one. First, the demand for men—for soldiers, sailors, marines, aviators and others—demands that were most imperative!

Then there were demands for women in auxiliary capacities, and finally the most persistent and evident demands for nurses—nurses and more nurses, until the remaining nurses not called into the services were insufficient to continue the safe operation of the hospitals at home. During this period, the hospitals made sincere appeals for volunteers to help in the hospital work. Volunteers were asked to help, if even only for an hour or so. This appeal was understood and many volunteered their services. There were business, professional and industrial workers who volunteered their services. They worked in hospital wards; nights, Saturdays and Sundays. There were many wives, mothers and relatives of members in the armed forces who served in the mornings and evenings during week-days and every free hour they could spare. There were some volunteer aides who worked full days through months on end; and in addition to giving their time without compensation, they also bought their own uniforms. They were the enthusiastic, willing, efficient, unselfish and patriotic women who devoted their spare time and efforts to relieve nurses to care for our wounded and sick veterans.

Among this group of loyal and devoted women were the resident volunteer nurse aides of the Scranton State, the Hahnemann, Moses Taylor, West Side, Mercy and St. Mary's Hospitals in Scranton and the Taylor Hospital at Taylor, the Midvalley at Oliphant and St. Joseph's Hospital at Carbondale.

However, all of this volunteer work could never have been done except for the inspiration and the indefatigable efforts of Mrs. Jas. A. Linen, Jr., who was Chairman of the Scranton Registered Nurses Aid Corps; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby pay tribute to the loyal devotion of all the members of the Registered Nurses Aid Corps; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives send a copy of this resolution to each of the above named hospitals and to Mrs. Jas. A. Linen, Jr.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will lie over for printing under the Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. DIX asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, having served a number of years as a cub reporter on the newspaper and realizing the great amount of work that the Reporters of the House here have done during the past session, I would like to call attention to their services.

The Members of the House may have observed these men at their work. They have done it quietly and efficiently, and I think that all the Members would like to show some appreciation for the services they have rendered. I refer to the Reporters of the House of Representatives, who compile the Journal of the House. I am sure that the Members are very thankful for the services these men have rendered. Would the Reporters stand up so that all the Members can see them?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JAMES asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday afternoon when we had about concluded the ceremonial program in which we were engaged there appeared at the portals of this Hall the heralds of an approaching potentate. By the golden horns they bore and the costly raiment they wore we easily recognized them as the vassals of His Eminence the Clerk of the Senate of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. On the trumpet call to attention, the Members of the House arose in respectful silence as His Eminence entered into the well of the House.

I happened to be presiding at that time, and after the usual formal exchange of greetings His Eminence placed a gift in the hands of the House and departed. But being in this awesome presence I now confess that I lost both my memory and my tongue, and failed to conclude the ceremonies of which I had charge. I overlooked the presentation of a resolution that had been prepared in commendation of services will rendered, and so to repair the damage for which I am to blame I now yield to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Reese.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING "MASTER PRINTER"

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1945.

The "Wizard of the Printery" of 1943 has become the "Magician of Printing" of 1945. With less help and a scarcity of every element entering into the printing necessary to keep the General Assembly functioning, he has performed miracles.

The outside world little knows how much the House and Senate depend upon the output of the printing press, nor do they understand the heavy weight of responsibility resting upon the man charged with the production and delivery of printed bills, resolutions and conference reports.

If the printing stops or slows up, the General Assembly stops or slows up, so the speed of its progress and the time of its adjournment depends in great measure upon Frederick E. Braggins who was awarded the Degree of "Master Printer" by this House at the conclusion of the Session of 1943; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House is of the opinion that the "Master Printer" has sustained the reputation he won at that session, and it therefore fully endorses the action taken by the preceding House and grants to him the further use of the Degree and the enjoyment of all the honors and privileges attendant therewith, and in evidence of his right and authority to be so called and addressed, it requests the Chief Clerk of the House to transmit to him a copy of this resolution.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JAMES asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am reminded by the reading of the resolution that talent is where you find it. I long since had given up hope that I might find talent or that any of us might find talent of unusual character within the halls of the House, because every thing of course has been on the basis of oratory. It never occurred to me that there might be a musician here of such outstanding talent, and therefore, I believe the Members of this House should know that the band that was organized and rendered the classic numbers in the Hall the other day was organized by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Tittle, to whom I know the thanks of the Housue and particularly the thanks of His Eminence are given.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Tittle.

Mr. TITTLE. Mr. Speaker, standing before this august body——

The SPEAKER. He is making a speech.

Mr. TITTLE. ——and unaccumstomed as I am to public speaking, I thank you.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 62

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 62, Printer's No. 790.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 62, entitled: "An Act to further amend sections four and ten of the act, approved the twenty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. Section 2 This act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-five

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this I believe is the gas tax bill, the emergency penny. It started out as a relief mesure and continued in this administration as a relief measure—as a relief measure for municipalities, for political subdivisions, but operating only in part as a relief measure for the political subdivisions.

In the beginning the Executive, I believe, wanted to filch four mills out of the relief money for a motor license surplus fund which had been swelled to unusual proportions. This House in its wisdom decided to continue the Earle relief penny as a full penny for political subdivisions and it said to the Executive, "We won't give you four mills out of this penny. We will use five mills for the cities of the first class, we will use five mills for the townships and we will spend this relief penny where relief is needed."

Then what the gentleman from Lehigh calls "the powers that be" began to work. This relief penny bill reached the Senate, and the Senate, in its wisdom decided it would have to have a part of this relief penny for the Motor License Fund and so the bill comes back, and I surveyed many a bloody legislative head on the other side of the House.

What has become, gentlemen, of the Gallant Thirty? Here we are, left high and dry. Emissaries from the midst of the usually compact Republican majority came to us saying, "We have got thirty votes, you have got ninety votes. We'll bring the Governor to time and we'll stay here until hell freezes over, but we'll have this whole penny for the political subdivisions." And we, with naive faith in a newborn Republican independence said "Sure, we'll stay here Saturday, we'll stay here Sunday, we will stay here Monday if we can get a few more millions for the cities that need relief, for the townships that need funds." And we said that in good faith. But lo and behold! "the powers that be" operate. The magnificent leadership of the gentleman from Lehigh and various other gentleman were called to the Governor's office and quietly notified that, "You'll either get in line or I'll call your county leaders and I'll sick them on you and if I don't get part of this penny you won't come back." The Gallant Thirty folds.

I wonder if it would not be possible to have the heroes of what promised to be a new political Thermopylae stand to be counted. After the beating they got in their caucus I do not believe any of them could stand. But anyway, gentlemen, you have got the votes and we still have the principle for which we originally stood, and that was that the full measure of this relief penny should go back to the political subdivisions that needed the relief, but practically all that is left for us is to emulate the Gallant Thirty and say a meek "Yes" or to voice an ineffective "No".

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baker.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, the Minority Floor Leader has outlined the decision of this side very firmly. We in Pittsburgh, or the Democrats from Pittsburgh and Allegheny County feel that being the second largest contributors to the coffers of the state, we are being treated in this late hour on this House Bill 62 very shabbily; the City of Pittsburgh is being cheated. We feel that the Republican boys, the Republican Members from Allegheny County should have prevailed upon their leadership in this administration to show the taxpayers back home that they really have something at heart for their welfare back in Allegheny County and the City of Pittsburgh.

Time and again during this session we have listened to what they can do and what they are going to do and when the time arrives and presents itself we find that they have slipped in their administration and slipped very badly. In this late hour, in the dying hours of this session we from Pittsburgh and Allegheny County are going to support and concur in the amendments of the Senate, but I trust that the men on the other side will take to heart the welfare of the taxpayer back home.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, when House Bill 62 was debated on this side—rather the House voted on the apportionment of this one cent gasoline tax that would be given to the first taxpayer of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, a fair and equitable share of this money. We would have received close to one million dollars. Of course, we in Philadelphia are happy to get this money, and the nine Republican Members from Philadelphia did a rather nifty job. So they could say back home "We got a million dollars to help out our budget", but Dave Harris and the Nifty Nine Ball Club sat back while the Gallant Thirty went over and met their Waterloo. The Nifty Nine sat back and watched the Chief Executive who was pitching, throw three fast ones, passed them right over the heart of the plate, and take away close to five hundred thousand dollars from Philadelphia under this plan that is now being handed your biggest taxpayer. But, of course, our budget in Philadelphia is pretty shaky; it is going to get worse, and perhaps we should be thankful for little gifts. The Dave Harris ball club will never get into the World's Series if they can't run down the stretch any better than they showed here tonight. The Gallant Thirty carried the ball, and I don't think the Nifty Nine was even in the grandstand, they must have been down with the boys, while they took half a million dollars away from Dave Harris' team.

We hope when we get back here two years from now that the Nifty Nine will have been read out of the League and that we will get some representation on this side that will stand up and fight and see no Waterloo, but will prevail, and that Philadelphia will get the money to which it is justly entitled.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, unlike the Minority Leader and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, I do not want to condemn the Gallant Thirty too much, but I do recall, gentlemen, and I think it is serious, that in the last Presidential campaign I happened to have heard the Governor of the Commonwealth make one of his campaign contributions in an oratorical way for the election of Governor Dewey of New York to the Presidency, and in one of those speeches he called for the end of one-man government. I say to you Members of the House, I cannot condemn the thirty gallant heroes. After all Pennsylvania, at least in this session has had a real semblance of one-man government, and I want to make public this statement: that we on this side of the House know that the Governor of the Commonwealth gave the Republican caucus an ultimatum that if the Gallant Thirty did not walk down the middle aisle, followed the leadership, that there would not be a one cent tax and there would not be any contributions to political subdivisions. That is all.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I want to say as one born in Philadelphia, that I am going further in my protest against adopting this report by voting against concurrence in the Senate amendments.

It has been said that possibly Governor Martin might represent Santa Claus from the fact that he is giving to the City of Philadelphia a little pittance in the way of some five hundred thousand dollars. Under this bill, in spite of the fact that there is something over fifty million dollars surplus in the Motor Fund and something like nine million dollars to be divided or distributed throughout the State, we of Philadelphia, of those nine million dollars contributed better than thirty per cent, and in our five hundred thousand dollar pittance, we are getting something like five or six per cent in return.

We feel, and justifiably so, that we have to protest. I am protesting by refusing to vote for the concurrence in the Senate amendments.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, after listening to four or five from the Reluctant Dragon I am reminded of the man who lost five dollars on his person, and instead of finding it in his vest pocket found it in his hip pocket.

I do not know that it is encumbent upon me to reply to what has been said on the other side of the House. This Thirty they talk about and the so-called Nifty Nine I do not know whether it is a figment of the imagination or not, but I would like to direct the attention of the gentlemen on the other side that our majority is very narrow, we only have one hundred nine Members, and if there have been ninety on that side that have been conspiring with thirty on this side I would like to know when the conspiracy originated, where the meetings were held, and when. The Minority Floor Leader, I remember when I was serving my first term here, called me, I think, a sixteen inch siege gun to kill a sparrow or something like that, and when this chamber was presided over by the gentleman from Delaware, he sort of took advantage of me. Mr. McClester and I were sitting back there——

Mr. ANDREWS. Would the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I will yield, Mr. Speaker, for anything, even a good drink of coke.

Mr. ANDREWS. If the gentleman wants to get the names of the Gallant Thirty, if he will look right over there I think he will see a man who will give him every doggone name.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the Minority Floor Leader, I still wish to plead surprise.

As I was about to say, Mr. McClester and I were engaged in a conversation on the day when the bill for the allocation, in the 1939 Session, of eight million five hundred thousand dollars was up for consideration. I was inexperienced enough to feel that I was going to be one of the principal participants in the debate on our side of the House on that occasion, so as soon as the bill was called up for consideration—and I am sure the Speaker will recall, because at that time he was sitting at about where the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Gyger, is now sitting, it looked like an asparagus patch all over the House, everybody clamoring to lend his voice to the favorable consideration of that measure. So I felt a little bit taken back and I turned around to the gentleman from Butler, Mr. McClester, and we talked about crops and better hogs and one thing and another, so someone slipped down to the Speaker and said he should call on me, that I had a speech to make. It just happened that the Minority Floor Leader had finished making—not complimentary remarks, but he certainly did not add anything to the prestige of the second class township supervisors, so the Speaker called upon me to make a few remarks where the uncomplimentary things had been said by the now Minority Floor Leader, so all I can say in connection with his uncomplimentary remarks on this first stanza of the Reluctant Dragon is that is that he seems to have had a change of heart. He now says he subscribes to the principle that they should give more money than eight million five hundred thousand dollars back to the second class townships to be distributed and expended for repairs and reconstruction and construction and so forth to second class township supervisors.

The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baker, gets up and complains that the Republican Members from Allegheny County have sort of left everybody down as far as Allegheny County is concerned. Well now, as we examine the record I do not think that Willian Penn has been too unkind to his children out in Allegheny County. Pittsburgh, I believe, has received fifty million dollars, and we move on over to Philadelphia; they have received fifty million dollars in their new bridge program, and in addition to that they have also received four hundred fifty thousand dollars for the approaches, in order to put the program over, and so you could go on, Mr. Speaker, narrating things that Brother Penn has done to try to take care of all his children.

Someone got up and took a pot shot at the Governor about his attitude in the expenditure of the tax money, particularly the one cent tax to the political subdivisions. I can say this, that within the past forty-eight or seventy-two hours I had the pleasure of being in the company of the Governor with fifteen or twenty other persons, and I heard the Governor say that he was one of the first—as a matter of fact he took credit for the Parkinson Act which was one of the first measures enacted in the General Assembly for the benefit of the second class townships. So I do not know who is being accused of what. It appears to me that everybody is going to more or less—with maybe half a dozen exceptions—vote for this measure.

I will admit that there are possibly people back in my district that will not be satisfied, but I think I express the thing accurately when I say that after all, after eight years as a Member of this House, I have learned that you cannot always get everything you might feel that you are rightfully entitled to get. I am not here to say that this is an equitable distribution.

We are going to study this thing for a couple more years, Mr. Speaker, to try to arrive at a conclusion as to where we can hand out in the best possible and most equitable manner this money to the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth. There certainly would never be a desire on the part of any Member to arbitrarily withhold from the political subdivisions the moneys they are rightfully entitled to.

So I would not say that I am singing the last stanza to the Reluctant Dragon, but whatever the picture may be I think we can all go home and at least say we are bringing home a chunk of cake, and as far as the second class townships are concerned, they are getting a little larger chunk of cake than in the last biennium, and the other subdivisions can say they are receiving some cake where they got no cake before.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the chair will postpone final action on the report of the Committee until it has been printed. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Section 40 Collection of Taxes by Sureties of Defaulting Collectors (a) When any tax collector shall default in the payment of the taxes charged on the duplicates either by embezzlement negligence or failure to collect such taxes within the time prescribed by this act it shall be lawful for the surety or sureties on his bond to demand from the tax collector the tax duplicates in which said sureties are interested and the tax collector shall turn over to his said sureties such duplicates of the various taxing districts for which he is collector

(b) If the tax collector shall fail neglect or refuse to turn over such duplicates upon demand made by his surety or sureties it shall be lawful for the surety or sureties to present a petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such tax collector resides setting forth the fact that such collector has defaulted in making collections The court being satisfied that such default has been made shall make an order to compel the tax collector to turn over to his sureties the tax duplicates upon which the sureties are liable

(c) The holders of such duplicates shall have the right to appoint a collector to collect the taxes remaining unpaid upon such duplicates Any collector so appointed shall have all the authority and power under the warrant issued to the original collector vested by this act in any collector of taxes for the collection of such taxes The authorities issuing said warrants may issue an additional warrant to the collector of such delinquent taxes upon request of such sureties

(d) The provisions of any law extending the time or any warrant for the collection of taxes on duplicates shall likewise extend to the collection of taxes on such delinquent tax duplicates

(e) Whenever the surety or sureties on the bond of any defaulting tax collector shall undertake to collect delinquent taxes charged in any duplicate delivered to such defaulting tax collector by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the delinquent or shall distrain on the goods and chattels of any person who shall allege that the taxes with which he stands charged have actually been paid or that such person whose goods and chattels have been distrained upon shall deny liability for such taxes then in either event the tax payer may petition the court of quarter sessions of the county for a stay of any such sale of goods and chattels distrained upon setting forth the reasons therefor

The court shall have power to stay such sale pending a hearing of the matter The court shall have power to fix a day for hearing of which due notice shall be given the surety or sureties of such defaulting tax collector as the court may prescribe

(f) If the court after hearing shall be of the opinion that a tax payer has actually paid such taxes or is not liable for the taxes with which he stands charged on the duplicate it shall direct satisfaction to be entered on such duplicate by the surety or sureties

(g) The surety or sureties on the bond of any such defaulting tax collector or any tax payer shall have the right upon demand made to have a jury pass upon the question whether or not a tax payer has paid taxes with which he stands charged and if the jury shall find such taxes have been so paid the court shall direct the surety or sureties to enter satisfaction on the duplicate

Section 41 Judgment on Liability of Collector of Taxes Appeals Execution (a) In all cases where in any settlement of the accounts of any tax collector the taxing district or the auditing authority thereof shall subject a tax collector to any liability a certificate under the hands and seals of the corporate authorities shall be filed in the office of the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county stating the amount due and unpaid by such tax collector Notice thereof shall be given by the taxing district by registered mail to such tax collector and his sureties

(b) It shall be the duty of the prothonotary to enter such certificate on his docket Such certificate shall from such entry have the same force and effect as a judgment of the court of common pleas and execution may be issued thereon as on judgments for the amount remaining unpaid at any time after the entry aforesaid

(c) Within thirty days of the date of such notice any tax collector or his sureties may appeal to the court of common pleas of the proper county from such judgment No such appeal shall be allowed by the court unless the appellant shall enter into good and sufficient bond with two sureties or a surety company in such amount as the court shall fix conditioned to prosecute such appeal and to pay such sum of money as shall appear to be due on the final determination of the proceedings on said appeal The court shall thereupon issue a rule on the taxing district to show cause why such judgment should not be opened or stricken from the record for reasons set forth in the petition An answer to any such petition and rule shall be filed by the taxing district within thirty days from the date of the service of the rule Service of the rule shall be made in such manner as the court may direct The issues joined on the petition and answer thereto shall be tried by the court and jury unless a jury trial shall be waived by both parties

(d) In case the appellant does not recover final judgment in court more favorable to him than the amount of the judgment he shall pay all costs that may accrue on his appeal but if he should recover in court a final judgment more favorable than the original judgment then the taxing district shall pay the costs that may accrue on such appeal

(e) If no appeal is entered or if an appeal is entered and no security given as herein required or if upon such appeal judgment is given against the tax collector in any amount execution may issue in like manner as on judgments for the amount due and recourse may be had against the sureties of such tax collector

Section 42 Penalty Any tax collector failing to comply with the provisions of section thirteen of this act and any tax collector treasurer or commissioner who violates any of the provisions of section fourteen of this act shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than six months or both at the discretion of the court

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1002.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 561.

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 796) entitled "An act establishing as state highways certain highways and requiring their construction repair and maintenance as such" by limiting the highways and structures which may become the responsibility of the Commonwealth thereunder

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 796) entitled "An act establishing as state highways certain county highways and requiring their construction repair and maintenance as such" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 That where any county is responsible for the construction or maintenance of any highway such highway shall if and when the county commissioners consent thereto by resolution a copy of which shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the courts of the proper county and with the Department of Highways be adopted by the Commonwealth as a state highway and shall thereafter be constructed repaired and maintained at the expense of the Commonwealth as State highways are now constructed repaired and maintained under the provisions of existing laws Provided That no highway shall be taken over by the Commonwealth under the provisions of this act unless such highway were a county highway on the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three nor if a contract for the improvement thereof has been entered into between a contractor and the Commonwealth or local authorities or both until such contract shall have been completed Provided further that the Commonwealth shall not become responsible under the terms of this act for any bridge viaduct or other structure except drainage structures having a total spanned length of ten feet or less measured along the center line of the highway

Section 2 The provisions of this amendatory act shall not apply to any county highway or section thereof nor to bridges or other structures forming an integral part thereof as to which the county commissioners have adopted a resolution under the provisions of the act amended hereby prior to the effective date of this amendatory act The Department of Highways shall hereafter repair and maintain the same notwithstanding the enactment of the foregoing amendment

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time. considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—4

Bentley,	Boies,	Hoggard,	Regan,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 438, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1046) entitled "An act appropriating the moneys in the Motor License Fund" as reenacted and amended by adding to section five a new clause making the moneys in the Motor License Fund available for the acquisition of toll bridges located wholly within Pennsylvania

Section 1 Section five of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1046) entitled "An act appropriating the moneys in the Motor License Fund" as renumbered reenacted amended and further amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2412) is hereby further amended by adding at the end thereof a new clause to read as follows

Section 5 The remainder of the money from time to time in the Motor License Fund is hereby appropriated to the Department of Highways for the following purposes

* * * * *

(u) Subject to the approval of the Governor for payment of the cost of acquiring toll bridges located wholly within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Provided however That the total amount to be expended for the acquisition of all toll bridges in Pennsylvania shall not exceed the sum of seven million dollars ($7,000,000)

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, we are now about to witness a travesty upon that little penny—the extra penny for gasoline that we have just authorized. The little black animal with the white stripe upon its back begins to emerge from the rotting log.

Let me read you the synopsis of Senate Bill 438, Printer's No. 497, which has been patiently hiding and waiting until the Motor Fund got its little cut:

> An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of May, nineteen hundred and twenty-nine, (P. L. 1046) entitled "An act appropriating the moneys in the Motor License Fund," as reenacted and amended by adding to section five a new clause, making the moneys in the Motor License Fund available for the acquisition of toll bridges located wholly within Pennsylvania.

Now, Mr. Speaker, no living mortal soul that I know of or have met holds with toll bridges in principle. I think everybody everywhere would be delighted beyond all calculation if all bridges were free, but isn't there a strange affinity between the passage of a bill allowing a little cut out of your penny collected to go to the Motor License Fund and the next bill we give consideration to, a part of that little penny, which will be a little part of that penny, is to be made available for the acquisition of toll bridges wholly within Pennsylvania?

I would like to say to Mr. Andrews and his ninety-nine braves that here at last is their chance to stand on the principle that they so nobly upheld in staying with the demand that this little penny should be cut in half and not in three parts. Before they decide on how they are going to vote on this bill, I earnestly advise them to turn over to the next page of the calendar and look at Senate Bill 437, Printer's No. 592. If they will do this I feel certain, as I hope the Members on this side of the House will feel, that the answer to the bill now before us is a resounding and unequivical no.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am surprised. One by one they emerge. Perhaps conscience troubles.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware having trotted out the little animal from the rotten log, why shouldn"t a body throw a spitball? I would throw anything that was handy.

But isn't the gentleman's alarm a little previous? Here the relief penny was saved magnificiently through this calm, collected House, a House in which nothing is hurried, in which everything is deliberate, and lo and behold, something happens. The "damn" bill disappears. You heard that wise discussion. The gentleman from Montgomery made a speech and the "damn" bill vanished. Now, isn't it a little previous——

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. JAMES. I just used the question of personal privilege to inform the gentleman from Cambria that I did not know the bill was lost.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will proceed in an orderly way.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I want to remind the gentleman on the other side of the House that we do not know when this bill was discussed and then it disappeared, when it is coming back, and we do not know in what form it will be when it gets back. You know the general who organized the "Dauntless Thirty" is a great tactician, and there is just a little suspicion when this bill in its triumphant career so suddenly disappears.

I suggest in all seriousness that until we have placed upon the statute books this bill that has disappeared, that it is just a useless gesture to pass these toll bridge bills, because it is the money in the bill that has disappeared that they are going to use to relieve these gentlemen who have toll bridges to sell. You know, they have been battling a long time to buy them before, but they did not buy them. Then they tried to sell them to James, and he never bought anything. Now they find that the present Governor is in a generous mood and he wants to buy some bridges if he can get a further little penny. Until that penny materializes, I am going to express the hope, if they press this bill for passage, that we vote no, and then when the bill comes back, if it does come back, we can reconsider if we want to, and leave these toll bridges to these gentlemen in great distress, some of whom are worth not less than thirty million dollars who have bridges to sell, when the bill comes back and we pass it, then let us buy the toll bridges, but let us hold the toll bridge bill until the penny bill is safely across the legislative goal line.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to get into the debate more than to inform the gentleman from Cambria that I do not know, due to the lateness of the hour, whether he was at his desk when the Speaker announced to the full Membership of the House that the report of Committee of Conference would lie over for printing under the rules of the House. Therefore, I do not assume that bill is any more lost than any other reports of Committee on Conference. The report was accepted from the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, and that statement was made.

I want to remind him as to the position of the bill, that the Speaker announced from the rostrum that the report of the Committee on Conference would go to the Printer under the rules of the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. I do not wish, Mr. Speaker, to prolong this discussion, but I will call the attention of the gentleman from Lehigh to the fact that after we looked at the bill, he didn't know what it said, I didn't know what it said, no one knew what it said. The Parliamentarian did not know what it said and the Legislative Reference Bureau said, "Let us take it to the darn Printer and have him print it and find out what it is all about."

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, the shepherd having ninety-nine sheep safely within his fold, if one should be lost he will go out in the wilderness to seek it and bring it back into the fold? We have observed the Master at work.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LICHTENWALTER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would first like to refer my collegue from Lehigh, Mr. Freed, who has been inquiring all session who the powers that be are. He has had a lesson.

I would also like to remind the gentleman from Cambria, who of course endowed me with the name of "papa" in this session, that he also is not a wayward child. Sometimes he has to go back to the telephone booth for the purpose of holding a caucus.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the difficulties of parliamentary maneuvering in a crowded House are extremely great.

The SPEAKER. The Chair agrees with that.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, concerning the toll bridges, the Democratic Caucus voted "yes" on the toll bridge bills. When the situation arose and the gentleman from Delaware trotted out his spotted animal, I thought perhaps it would be possible by a quick shift to tie up the toll bridges and maybe get a toe hold on the missing bill. But some of the Members on this side of the House do not appreciate quick shifts. The Chairman of the Democratic party does not understand parliamentary maneuvers, and so they started an insurrection in my rear.

I was busy, Mr. Speaker, exchanging signals with the other side of the House, and I could not put up a battle with dissatisfied brethren on this side. I had committed the cardinal sin of having a party leader on the floor—I had crossed the caucus and in my vanity I thought perhaps they had sufficient faith in my judgment to follow the quick shift, but I found I was mistaken. They didn't appreciate the play, and there was nothing left for me to do but to restore them to the position they had taken in the caucus. I think they made a frightful mistake.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SALUS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, everything comes to he who waits. The gentleman from Cambria has had the opportunity to see hell freeze over.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LONGO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, you have just heard an explanation by the Minority Floor Leader concerning the insurrection which took place behind him. I probably am responsible for the insurrection, due to the fact that I made the motion in the caucus that these bills be supported and the caucus, of course, supported my motion. Not knowing the maneuvers of our Minority Floor Leader, the action took place. Our National Chairman, David L. Lawrence, took the opportunity of seeing that the action of the caucus was upheld. Certainly his behaviour and his activity at that time showed his real leadership in the Democratic Party.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker——

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for just a moment

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Perhaps the Minority Floor Leader is now going to reduce the National Chairman to the State Chairmanship.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, first, I wish to reduce the National Chairman to the State Chairmanship, second, I want to pay tribute to his political acumen, and third, I want to say that he knows darn little about political maneuvering in the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has admiration for the Minority Floor Leader and the acumen of the State Chairman at work on the floor of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JAMES asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I listened attentively and with very great sympathy to the explanation of the Minority Floor Leader for the exhibition of reversal that we have just witnessed.

It is the practice in this House to accept any statement made by a colleague as the truth, and I do accept all of the statements made by the Minority Leader save one. He said to us that he could not quell insurrection by all of his brothers on that side of the House. My view of the thing is that he could not quell a revolution, not by brothers, but a brother.

Mr. Speaker, this has been a lot of fun. I have really enjoyed it, but behind what has happened here there is a great deal of significance. I sincerely trust when we get to the next of these bridge bills there will be a vote that will reflect the true view of Mr. Lawrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 437, as follows:

An Act empowering authorizing and directing the Secretary of Highways to acquire toll bridges located wholly within Pennsylvania providing the procedure therefor providing for the operation of such bridges as free bridges after acquisition and making an appropriation

Section 1 The words "toll bridge" as used in this act shall mean any bridge whereon toll is charged located wholly within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania over any stream or river or over a stream or river and the facilities of any public service company and shall include the actual bridge the approaches thereto and all real and personal property including the franchise belonging to the owner or owners of such bridge and used in the operation and maintenance of same

Section 2 The Secretary of Highways is hereby authorized to acquire on behalf of the Commonwealth any toll bridge as defined in this act The acquisition of such toll bridges may be either by purchase or by condemnation proceedings as the Secretary of Highways may deem expedient The time or times when such toll bridge or bridges shall be acquired shall be determined by the Secretary of Highways with the approval of the Governor and in making such determination due regard shall be had to the importance of such toll bridges from a traffic standpoint but the Secretary of Highways shall proceed with the acquisition of such toll bridges at the earliest date he shall deem expedient The cost of acquiring such toll bridges shall be paid by the Commonwealth as hereinafter provided

Section 3 The Secretary of Highways shall whenever he determines to acquire any such toll bridge ascertain or estimate the value thereof and shall in writing give notice of such valuation to the owner or owners thereof Such notice shall contain an offer to purchase such toll bridge at the valuation made by the Secretary of Highways

Section 4 If the owner or owners of such bridge accept such offer or whenever the Secretary of Highways and the owner or owners of such bridge shall agree on a purchase price after negotiation the Secretary of Highways and said owner or owners shall enter into a written agreement by the terms of which the owner or owners shall transfer to the Commonwealth at and for the price agreed upon a good sufficient and marketable title to such toll bridge as herein defined Such agreement shall further provide that the purchase price agreed upon shall be paid to the owner or owners in equal annual installments over a period of not less than five years nor more than fifteen years All agreements for the purchase of any toll bridge as herein provided shall be approved by the Governor and the Attorney General

Section 5 In the event the owner or owners of any such bridge do not accept such offer or whenever the Secretary of Highways and the owner or owners of any such bridge cannot agree on a purchase price as hereinbefore provided application shall be made by the Attorney General to the court of common pleas of the county in which such bridge is located or in the case of a bridge on the boundary line between two or more counties then in any of such counties for the appointment of viewers Whereupon said court or any law judge thereof shall appoint three disinterested freeholders to view such bridge and estimate the value thereof None of said free-holders shall be a resident of the county wherein such application shall be made The said court shall fix a time not less than twenty nor more than thirty days thereafter when said viewers shall meet upon the property and view the same The said viewers shall cause at least ten days' personal notice of the time and place of such first meeting to be given to the Attorney General and to the owner or owners of such bridge if resident within said county If said owner is a corporation such notice shall be given to the president secretary or treasurer thereof if such officer resides within said county If neither said owner nor any of said officers reside within said county or cannot be found therein notice of such first meeting shall be given as said court may direct

Section 6 The said viewers having been duly sworn or affirmed faithfully and impartially to perform the duties required of them under the provisions of this act shall at the time fixed for said first meeting proceed to ascertain as accurately as may be the value of such bridge and to that end may require the attendance of any person whose testimony may be pertinent thereto and the production of any such books and papers as said viewers may deem necessary If any person shall refuse to appear and testify before such viewers or refuse to produce such books and papers when thereto required the said court or any judge thereof shall upon application of said viewer or a quorum thereof make such order therein as may be necessary

Section 7 Whenever said viewers shall have ascertained the value of said bridge they shall prepare a full report of their labors Said report shall include a plan showing the location of said bridge Upon the completion of said report the viewers shall fix a time when they shall meet and exhibit same Ten days' written notice of the time and place of such meeting shall be given to the Secretary of Highways to the Attorney General and to the owner or owners of said bridge At the time and place mentioned in such notice the said viewers shall meet and publicly exhibit said report and hear all exceptions thereto After making any changes in such report as they may deem necessary the same shall be filed in said court

Section 8 Within thirty days after the filing of said report in said court the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any person interested may file exceptions thereto whereupon said court may confirm said report absolutely or modify it or refer it back to the same or to new viewers with like powers and duties as the former viewers

Within thirty days after final action on said report by the court the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any person interested may demand a trial by jury

From the action of the court on exceptions or from any judgment after a jury trial an appeal may be taken by either party to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania

Section 9 The cost of said condemnation proceedings including the court costs compensation of viewers and the cost of any advertising which may be required hereunder shall be paid by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Each of said viewers shall receive a sum not exceeding twenty dollars ($20.00) for each day actually and necessarily employed in the performance of the duties herein prescribed

Section 10 As soon as the Secretary of Highways and the owner or owners have agreed upon the purchase price of any such bridge as evidenced by an agreement approved as provided in Section 4 of this act the Secretary of Highways shall take possession of such bridge in the name of the Commonwealth Whenever the Secretary of Highways determines to acquire any such bridge by condemnation proceeding he shall take possession of such bridge in the name of the Commonwealth The amount of any award or verdict under the condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of any such bridge shall be paid out of monies in the Toll Bridge Fund by the State Treasurer upon requisition by the Secretary of Highways Should there be no funds or insufficient funds in the Toll Bridge Fund to meet any such requisition then the amount of any award or verdict, under condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of any such bridge or so much thereof as shall be necessary to increase the amount of monies in the Toll Bridge Fund to an amount sufficient to meet such requisition and make such payment shall be transferred to the Toll Bridge Fund from the Motor License Fund by the State Treasurer and for such purposes so much money as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated out of the Motor License Fund Such amount of monies as shall be so transferred from the Motor License Fund to the Toll Bridge Fund for such purposes shall be reimbursed to the Motor License Fund out of the Toll Bridge Fund from time to time as the same become available therein from the proceeds realized from the sale of the bonds authorized by law to be issued and sold by the Commonwealth to defray the cost of the acquisition of toll bridges wholly within the Commonwealth

It shall be the mandatory duty of the Secretary of Highways to notify the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer to issue bonds to provide funds for payment of any final award in condemnation proceedings instituted for the acquisition of any such bridges

Section 11 Whenever any such bridge is acquired by the Commonwealth as hereinbefore provided the collection of tolls thereon shall cease and such bridge shall become and be thereafter a free bridge and be under the control of the Department of Highways and shall be thereafter maintained kept in repair and rebuilt by the Department of Highways in accordance with the law relating to State highways and bridges The Department of Highways shall take over and succeed to all agreements with public service companies for the use and occupancy of such bridges by the facilities of such companies such use and occupancy to be governed by the law relating to the issuance of occupancy permits on bridges under the jurisdiction of the Department of Highways

The Department of Highways may take over and succeed to any agreement in effect at the time of the acquisition of any toll bridge providing for easements and licenses in respect of such bridge which in the opinion of the Secretary of Highways will not materially interfere with the use and operation of such bridge as a thoroughfare

Section 12 Payments under the terms of any agreement providing for the purchase of any such bridge shall be made from the Motor License Fund upon requisition of the Secretary of Highways as provided by law If at any time there should be insufficient monies in the Motor License Fund to meet installment payments entered into for amicable purchase the Secretary of Highways shall call upon the Governor Auditor General and State Treasurer to sell bonds under the provisions of the Act of January second one thousand nine hundred thirty-four (P. L. 201) in such amount as will provide sufficient funds to meet such payments Following the sale of bonds as provided in this section the proceeds thereof or so much thereof as may be necessary shall be transferred by the State Treasurer from the Toll Bridge Fund to the Motor License Fund

Section 13 The interest and sinking fund requirements for any bonds issued for the payment of awards made in condemnation proceedings instituted for the acquisition of any such bridge or to meet installment payments under agreements for purchase as provided in Section 12 of this act shall be paid from the Motor License Fund The Board of Finance and Revenue shall determine the amounts necessary for such purposes and the sum or sums thus determined shall be transferred from time to time to the sinking fund from the Motor License Fund by the State Treasurer

Section 14 So much of the money in the Toll Bridge Fund or so much of the money in the Motor License Fund as may be necessary from time to time to carry out the provisions of this act are hereby specifically appropriated for such purposes Provided however That the amount to be expended for the acquisition of all toll bridges as provided herein shall not exceed a total sum in excess of seven million dollars ($7,000,000)

Section 15 The act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 395) entitled "An act empowering The Department of Highways to acquire certain toll bridges within the Commonwealth providing the procedure therefore providing for the reimbursement of the Commonwealth from tolls and charges and making an appropriation" and all amendments thereto be and the same are hereby repealed

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SALUS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, earlier in the evening I heard the Third Assistant Minority Leader from Philadelphia make some comment about Dave Harris and his baseball team of nine. I want to now reiterate what I said a few days ago, this baseball team of nine takes orders from no one, not even the State Chairman, Mr. Harvey Taylor. We vote according to the dictates of our conscience in the best interests of Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, every baseball team has a good coach. I have always suspected that the Nifty Nine never had a coach. They have acted that way.

INTERROGATION

Mr. DILLON. Mr. Speaker, I would like unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Dare, the shortstop.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield until we proceed with the calendar?

Mr. DILLON. Just one question, Mr. Speaker.

Will the gentleman tell the Members of the House whether or not about nine thirty tonight the gentleman's leader was sitting amongst the gentlemen over there, and I heard him especially say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Dare, "Jim," you are going to take orders from me or you are off our team."

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 508, as follows:

An Ace relating to the financial responsibility of operators and owners of motor vehicles and to make uniform the law with reference thereto requiring owners and operators in certain cases to furnish proof of financial responsibility providing for the suspension of operator's licenses and motor vehicle registration certificates in certain cases regulating insurance policies which may be accepted as proof of financial responsibility imposing duties upon the Secretary of Revenue the State Treasurer and prothonotaries and prescribing penalties

Section 5 Security Required Following an Accident Suspension Exceptions The Secretary shall within sixty days after the receipt of a report of a motor vehicle accident within this State which has resulted in bodily injury or death of damage to the property of any one person in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00) suspend the license of each operator and all registrations of each owner of a motor vehicle in any manner involved in such accident and if such operator is a non-resident the privilege of operating a motor vehicle within this state and if such owner is a non-resident the privilege of the use within this state of any motor vehicle owned by him unless such operator or owner or both shall deposit security in a sum which shall be sufficient in the judgment of the Secretary to satisfy any judgment or judgments for damages resulting from such accident as may be recovered against such operator or owner provided notice of such suspension shall be sent by the Secretary to such operator and owner not less than ten days prior to the effective date of such suspension and shall state the amount required as security

This Section shall not apply under the conditions stated in section six or to any of the following

(1) To such operator or owner if such owner had in effect at the time of such accident an automobile liability policy with respect to the motor vehicle involved in such accident

(2) To such operator if not the owner of such motor vehicle if there was in effect at the time of such accident an automobile liability policy or bond with respect to his operation of motor vehicles not owned by him

(3) To such operator or owner if the liability of such operator or owner for damages resulting from such accident is in the judgment of the Secretary covered by any other form of liability insurance policy or bond or

(4) To any person qualifying as a self-insurer under section thirty-four

No such policy or bond shall be effective under this Section unless issued by an insurance company or surety company authorized to do business in this state except that if such motor vehicle was not registered in this state or was a motor vehicle which was registered elsewhere than in this state at the effective date of the policy or bond or the most recent renewal thereof such policy or bond shall not be effective under this Section unless the insurance company or surety company if not authorized to do business in this state shall execute a power of attorney authorizing the Secretary to accept service on its behalf of notice or process in any action upon such policy or bond arising out of such accident provided however every such policy or bond is subject if the accident has resulted in bodily injury or death to a limit exclusive of interest and costs of not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident and subject to said limit for one person to a limit of not less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) because of bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident and if the accident has resulted in injury to or destruction of property to a limit of not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) because of injury to or destruction of property of others in any one accident

Upon receipt of notice of such accident the insurance company or surety company which issued such policy or bond shall furnish for filing with the Secretary a written notice that such policy or bond was in effect at the time of such accident

Section 6 Exceptions to Requirement of Security The requirements as to security and suspension in Section five shall not apply

(1) To the operator or the owner of a motor vehicle involved in an accident wherein no injury or damage was caused to the person or property of any one other than such operator or owner

(2) To the operator or the owner of a motor vehicle legally parked at the time of the accident

(3) To the owner of a motor vehicle if at the time of the accident the vehicle was being operated without his permission express or implied or was parked by a person who had been operating such motor vehicle without such permission

(4) If prior to the date that the Secretary would otherwise suspend license and registration or non-resident's operating privilege under Section Five there shall be filed with the Secretary evidence satisfactory to him that the person who would otherwise have to file security has been released from liability or been finally adjudicated not to be liable or has executed a warrant for confession of judgment payable when and in such instalments as the parties have agreed to or has executed a duly acknowledged written agreement providing for the payment of an agreed amount in instalments with respect to all claims for injuries or damages resulting from the accident

Section 7 Duration of Suspension The license and registration and non-resident's operating privilege suspended as provided in Section Five shall remain so suspended and shall not be renewed nor shall any such license or registration be issued to such person until

(1) Such person shall deposit or there shall be deposited on his behalf the security required under Section Five or

(2) One year shall have elapsed following the date of such accident and evidence satisfactory to the Secretary has been filed with him that during such period no action for damages arising out of such accident has been instituted or

(3) Evidence satisfactory to the Secretary has been filed with him of a release from liability or a final adjudication of non-liability or a warrant for confession of judgment or a duly acknowledged written agreement in accordance with Clause four of Section six Provided however That in the event there shall be any default in the payment of any instalment under any confession of judgment then upon notice of such default the Secretary shall forthwith suspend the license and registration or non-resident's operating privilege of such person defaulting which shall not be restored unless and until the entire amount provided for in said confession of judgment has been paid and Provided further That in the event there shall be any default in the payment of any instalment under any duly acknowledged written agreement then upon notice of such default the Secretary shall forthwith suspend the license and registration or non-resident's operating privilege of such person defaulting which shall not be restored unless and until (1) such person deposits and thereafter maintains security as required under Section Five in such amount as the Secretary may then determine or (2) one year shall have elapsed following the date when such security was required and during such period no action upon such agreement has been instituted in a court in this state

Section 8 Application to Non-residents Unlicensed Drivers and Unregistered Motor Vehicles In case the operator or the owner of a motor vehicle involved in an accident within this state has no license or registration he shall not be allowed a license or registration until he has complied with the requirements or this act to the same extent that would be necessary if at the time of the accident he had held a license and registration

Section 9 Form and Amount of Security The security required under this act shall be in such form and in such amount as the Secretary may require but in no case in excess of the limits specified in Section Five in reference to the acceptable limits of a policy or bond The person depositing security shall specify in writing the person or persons on whose behalf the deposit is made and at any time while such deposit is in the custody of the Secretary or State Treasurer the person depositing it may in writing amend the specification of the person or persons on whose behalf the deposit is made to include an additional person or persons provided however that a single deposit of security shall be applicable only on behalf of persons required to furnish security because of the same accident

The Secretary may reduce the amount of security ordered in any case within six months after the date of the accident upon the production of evidence as to the probable measure or damages and if in his judgment the amount ordered is excessive In case the security originally ordered has been deposited the excess deposited over the reduced amount ordered shall be returned to the depositor or his personal representative forthwith notwithstanding the provisions of Section Ten

Section 10 Custody Disposition and Return of Security Security deposited in compliance with the requirements of this act shall be placed by the Secretary in the custody of the State Treasurer and shall be applicable only to the payment of a judgment or judgments rendered against the person or persons on whose behalf the deposit was made for damages arising out of the accident in question in an action at law begun not later than one year after the date of such accident or within one year after the date of deposit of any security under Subsection three of Section Seven and such deposit or any balance thereof shall be returned to the depositor or his personal representative when evidence satisfactory to the Secretary has been filed with him that there has been a release from liability or a final adjudication of non-liability or a warrant for confession of judgment or a duly acknowledged agreement in accordance with Clause four of Section Six or whenever after the expiration of one year from the date of the accident or within one year after the date of deposit of any security under Clause Three of Section Seven the Secretary shall be given reasonable evidence that there is no such action pending and no judgment rendered in such action left unpaid

Section 11 Matters Not to be Evidence in Civil Suits Neither the report required by Section Four the action taken by the Secretary pursuant to this Act the findings if any of the Secretary upon which action is based nor the security filed as provided in Section Five shall be referred to in any way nor be any evidence of the negligence or due care of either party at the trial of any action at law to recover damages

Section 12 Courts to Report Non-Payment of Judgments Whenever any person fails with sixty days to satisfy any judgment it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court or of the judge of a court which has no clerk in which any such judgment is rendered within this state to forward to the Secretary immediately after the expiration of said sixty days a certified copy of such judgment

If the defendant named in any certified copy of a judgment reported to the Secretary is a non-resident the Secretary shall transmit a certified copy of the judgment to the official in charge of the issuance of licenses and registration certificates of the state of which the defendant is a resident

Section 13 Suspension for Non-payment of Judgments Exceptions

(a) The Secretary upon receipt of a certified copy of a judgment shall forthwith suspend the license and registration of any resident operator or owner and any non-resident's operating privilege of any person against whom such judgment was rendered except as hereinafter otherwise provided in this Section and in Section Sixteen

(b) If the judgment creditor consents in writing in such form as the Secretary may prescribe that the judgment debtor be allowed license and registration of non-resident's operating privilege the same may be allowed by the Secretary in his discretion for six months from the date of such consent and thereafter until such consent is revoked in writing notwithstanding default in the payment of such judgment or of any instalments thereof prescribed in Section Sixteen provided the judgment debtor furnishes proof of financial responsibility

(c) Any person whose license registration or non-resident's operating privilege has been suspended or is about to be suspended or shall become subject to suspension under the provision of this act may be relieved from the effect of such judgment as hereinbefore prescribed in this Article if such person can present to or file with the Secretary proper evidence that a bond or insurance policy as provided for in this act was in force and effect at the time of the accident resulting in the judgment and is or should be available for the satisfaction of the judgment to the extent provided for in this act

Section 14 Suspension to Continue Until Judgments Paid and Proof Given Such license registration and non-resident's operating privilege shall remain so suspended and shall not be renewed nor shall any such license or registration be thereafter issued in the name of such person including any such person not previously licensed unless and until every such judgment is stayed satisfied in full or to the extent hereinafter provided and until the said person gives proof of financial responsibility subject to the exemptions stated in Sections Thirteen and Sixteen of this act

A discharge in bankruptcy following the rendering of any such judgment shall not relieve the judgment debtor from any of the requirements of this act

Section 15 Payments Sufficient to Satisfy Requirements Judgments herein referred to shall for the purpose of this act only be deemed satisfied

(a) When five thousand dollars ($5.000.00) has been credited upon any judgment or judgments rendered in excess of that amount because of bodily injury to or death of one person as the result of any one accident or

(b) When subject to such limit of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) because of bodily injury to or death of one person the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) has been credited upon any judgment or judgments rendered in excess of that amount because of bodily injury to or death of two or more persons as the result of any one accident or

(c) When one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) has been credited upon any judgment or judgments rendered in excess of that amount because of injury to or destruction of property of others as a result of any one accident

Provided however That payments made in settlement of any claims because bodily injury death or property damage arising from a motor vehicle accident shall be credited in reduction of the amounts provided for in this Section

Section 16 Instalment Payment of Judgments Default (a) A judgment debtor upon due notice to the judgment creditor may apply to the Court in which such judgment was rendered for the privilege of paying such judgment in instalments and the Court in its discretion and without prejudice to any other legal remedies which the judgment creditor may have may so order and fix the amounts and times of payment of the instalments

(b) The Secretary shall not suspend a license registration or a non-resident's operating privilege and shall restore any license registration or non-resident's operating privilege suspended following non-payment of a judgment when the judgment debtor gives proof of financial responsibility and obtains such an order permitting the payment of such judgment in instalments and while the payments of any said instalment is not in default

(c) In the event the judgment debtor fails to pay any instalment as specified by such order then upon notice of such default the Secretary shall forthwith suspend the license registration or non-resident's operating privilege of the judgment debtor until such judgment is satisfied as provided in this act

Section 17 Proof Required Upon Certain Convictions

(a) Whenever the Secretary under any laws of this state suspends or revokes the license of any person upon receiving record of a conviction or a forfeiture of bail the Secretary shall also suspend the registration for all motor vehicles registered in the name of such person except that he shall not suspend such registration unless otherwise required by law if such person has previously given or shall immediately give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility with respect to all motor vehicles registered by such person

(b) Such license and registration shall remain suspended or revoked and shall not at any time thereafter be renewed nor shall any license be thereafter issued to such person nor shall any motor vehicle be thereafter registered in the name of such person until permitted under the motor vehicle laws of this state and not then unless and until he shall give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility

(c) If a person is not licensed but by final order or judgment is convicted of or forfeits any bail or collateral deposited to secure an appearance for trial for any offense requiring the suspension or revocation of license or for operating a motor vehicle upon the highways without being licensed to do so or for operating an unregistered motor vehicle upon the highways no license shall be thereafter issued to such person and no motor vehicle shall continue to be registered or thereafter be registered in the name of such person until he shall give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility

(d) Whenever the Secretary suspends or revokes a non-resident's operating privileges by reason of a conviction or foreiture of bail such privilege shall remain so suspended or revoked unless such person shall have previously given or shall immediately give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility

Section 18 Alternate Methods of Giving Proof Proof of financial responsibility shall be furnished for each motor vehicle registered by any person required to give such proof and may be given by filing

(1) A certificate of insurance as provided in Section Nineteen or Section Twenty or

(2) A bond as provided in Section Twenty-four or

(3) A certificate of deposit of money or securities as provided in Section Twenty-five

Section 19 Certificate of Insurance as Proof

(a) Proof of financial responsibility may be furnished by filing with the Secretary the written certificate of any insurance carrier duly authorized to do business in this state certifying that there is in effect a motor vehicle liability policy for the benefit of the person required to furnish proof of financial responsibility Such certificate shall give the effective date of such motor vehicle liability policy which date shall be the same as the effective date of the certificate and shall designate by explicit description or by appropriate reference all motor vehicles covered thereby unless the policy is issued to a person who is not the owner of a motor vehicle

(b) No motor vehicle shall be or continue to be registered in the name of any person required to file proof of financial responsibility unless such motor vehicle is so designated in such a certificate

Section 20 Certificate Furnished by Non-resident as Proof

Section 41 The provisions of this act shall become effective the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DILLON. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time in support of Senate Bill 508 relative to the responsibility laws of Pennsylvania.

An important legislative proposal has been introduced into the Pennsylvania Legislature under the sponsorship of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation and its affiliated AAA Clubs.

This measure, introduced by Senator Jacob W. Carr, past President of the Butler County Motor Club, is known as Senate Bill No. 508. It is the Pennsylvania version of the modernized AAA Safety Responsibility Bill. It is the product of the combined thought of a number of national groups interested in safety and protection on our highways including, in addition to the AAA, the American Bar Association.

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 508 is to encourage highway safety and to provide wider indemnification to the public for injuries and property damage sustined as a result of accidents caused by motor vehicles on the highways of Pennsylvania.

The bill is similar to progressive legislation of this type which has met the test of experience in New Hampshire, New York, Indiana, Michigan, and has recently become operative in Virginia. The bill provides that any motorist having an accident on our highways resulting in injury to persons or in damage to property in excess of fifty dollars must either make a settlement with the injured person or post security in an amount adequate to take care of the pecuniary damages inflicted within a period not to exceed sixty days, or his or her license will be revoked until the damages are settled or the case is adjudicated.

The bill is the American way to make certain, first, that motorists drive carefully to avoid the penalties of their negligence and, second, that they provide protection against injuries resulting from their privilege of operating a motor vehicle on our State highways. It does not follow the compulsory insurance feature of requiring every motorist to carry only liability insurance, which has never received favorable consideration except in one State. It does say in effect to the motorist, "Make certain you protect the public or drive so carefully you will have no accidents and thus be deprived of your right to drive."

Three outstanding effects have resulted in States where the plan has had a reasonable period of trial. In the first place, the number of persons insured has increased to 75% to 80% of the motorists. Second, those not insured have driven under fear of penalty of loss of license in case of accident and have been more careful. Third, thousands upon thousands of reckless, irresponsible drivers have been taken off the highways.

The bill has had the widest kind of public approval from all classes and particularly from motorists. In Maryland, where a similar measure is now pending in the legislature, the AAA Automobile Club of Maryland sent out a questionnaire explaining the bill and asking for the opinion of members. Out of three thousand replies received, only sixty-five opposed the bill.

The administration of the bill would be in the hands of the Safety Division of the Department of Revenue. Every accident involving personal injury or property damage in excess of fifty dollars would be reported to that division just as is the case now. At the same time the automobile owner would report the accident to his insurance carrier where he carried insurance. In that case the insurance carrier would file a certificate of insurance and the division would settle the matter without further action as far as this provision of the law is concerned.

If, however, no protection was carried for the public, notice would go out before sixty days to the person or persons involved invoking the penalties of the act. The operation of the law is automatic, it brings swift, prompt action to the reckless and irresponsible drivers. The present law provides for delays until a judgment is received. The new law goes into action within sixty days after the accident occurs.

The law does not require the administrative body to determine the question of negligence, the fact that an accident has occurred causing personal injuries or property damages in excess of fifty dollars, makes the penalties operative. There are certain limited exceptions to the operation of the law. Among them is the provision that it does not apply to vehicles properly parked or standing still when the accident occurs.

The penalties of the law apply to residents of other States too. Now, Pennsylvania residents are penalized under the New York law and soon will be in Maryland when the law is enacted there. Residents of these States, however, are not subject to similar penalties in Pennsylvania. Enactment of the Pennsylvania law will create reciprocal penalties for motorists of these and other States driving on our highways.

This measure is a vitally important post-war project for our State. Increases in automobile accidents and deaths are already here and the tempo will be radically increased as cars become older and in poorer repair and as gasoline rations increase as we approach the post-war period. With the cessation of hostilities it will be many years before present run-down cars are replaced. The increased hazards and mounting number of cars will create a roll of deaths and injuries that will seem like "War on our Highways."

Now is the time to make Pennsylvania's contribution first to greater safety controls over our motorists and second to achieve the most important social objective in line with the spirit of the times, that persons injured or suffering serious property damage have protection provided to insure their proper compensation.

We are sure the Representatives and Senators from your district will be glad to hear your views on this legislation. Write them, see them, or telephone them urging their support of the bill. If you do not readily have their names and addresses, write or call us and we shall gladly advise you. Your prompt and effective help may be that important expression of public opinion necessary to the prompt enactment of this liberal legislation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—5

Bentley,	Hoggard,	Regan,	Skale,
Boies,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 490, as follows:

An Act authorizing and directing the Department of Highways to erect and construct a free bridge over the Susquehanna River from a point in the city of Harrisburg in the vicinity of Third and Forster Streets to a point in the Borough of Wormleysburg at the intersection of State Highway Routes 30 and 708 and to provide the necessary approaches thereto and making an appropriation

Section 1 In accordance with the general policy of the Commonwealth to provide adequate connecting bridges between main highway routes lying on opposite sides of rivers the Department of Highways is hereby authorized and directed to erect and construct a free bridge over the Susquehanna River from a point in the city of Harrisburg in the vicinity of Third and Forster Streets to a point in the Borough of Wormleysburg at the intersection of State Highway Routes 30 and 708 and to acqire the necessary land for approaches thereto

In the construction of said bridge and the approaches thereto the Department of Highways shall have all of the powers and authority conferred with respect to the relocation widening or construction of State highways Any damages sustained by reason of taking property in the relocation widening or construction of any such bridge and the approaches thereto shall be ascertained in accordance with laws applicable to the ascertainment of damages in relocating widening or constructing State highways and such damages when ascertained shall be paid by the Commonwealth or county or counties as may be agreed upon in accordance with the laws relating to State highways

Section 2 The sum of four million dollars ($4,000,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated out of the Motor License Fund in the State Treasury to the Department of Highways for the construction of such bridge and the approaches thereto and for the payment of damages for property taken injured or destroyed

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I will try to be brief on this. For some time now, I should say for two months and probably longer, we have been told, not once but many, many times that the Highway Department is going to need huge sums of money for various purposes in the post war period. We are told that they are going to need money not only for the ordinary work of the Highway Department in this Commonwealth, but they are going to need money that may be set aside with which to match grants which, of course, will be necessary for carrying out the post war program that is contemplated.

Now, Mr. Speaker, if there is anything true in that statement I wonder a little bit about enacting legislation at this time which would permit the Highway Department to get into the bridge building business. Perhaps that in itself would not be so bad, but I would like to know why a bridge to be built at Third and Foster Streets can be so specifically laid down at this time.

I do not want to go into a long talk on this thing, but I feel very, very certain that this particular bill is in some ways related to the program on which we have just made two enactments.

I am very definitely suspicious of this bill. I think it has many characteristics and earmarks that I would like to speak about, if I could use that sort of language in this House, concerning the program that we have already enacted. I intend to vote "no" on this bill, and I hope that some of the men in this House will do likewise.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I think perhaps since we have already voted to take over some of the other bridges that we ought to direct our energy and money to see that we get those bridges before we start building any more bridges. There has been no evidence produced to the House at least, that a bridge is necessary as indicated by this bill. Even the Post War Planning Commission has not recommended this bridge, and it seems to me they have recomended a lot of things that nobobdy knows much about.

I think whether we build this bridge is a matter for the Post War Planning Commission to dig into and determine, and until we know whether or not the bridge is necessary, whether it is a worthwhile investment and whether we ought to waste money on bridges before we can spend money for teachers that we ought to go slow and vote this one down with a resounding "no".

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

L. 437) entitled "An act for the protection of the public health by regulating the conduct and operation of public eating and drinking places within this Commonwealth imposing certain duties on the Department of Health of this Commonwealth and on the local health authorities and providing penalties" as amended and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Lehigh as to whether there has not been already a very similar bill that has been defeated in this House during the present session.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I do not know that that bill has been defeated. It has been recommitted to Public Health and Sanitation. This bill, while similar to one that originated in the Senate, has had a public hearing, and has been considerably amended to made it agreeable to all parties concerned at the public hearing.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to say that this is not the bill that was recommitted at one time.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. It is not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Could I inquire of the gentleman from Lehigh what particular differences there are between this bill and the one that was recommitted?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, there were a lot of restrictions and regulations in the bill that was recommitted here in the House, particularly in the matter of food. We had a lot of operators and drug store owners complaining because of the additional facilities that they had to install in handling food over the counter and so forth. All those things have been removed. The fee has been reduced to chain stores. They pay only fifty cents per store after the initial one dollar.

Mr. LEVY. Is it not true that this particular Senate Bill bears some of the same features?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I would say there are some of the same features, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Is it not a fact that this bill would create an overlapping of the state inspectors on top of local township inspectors, or rather city inspectors?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Absolutely not.

Mr. LEVY. Then I inquire of the gentleman from Lehigh, what is the purpose of this piece of legislation if it seeks to do almost nothing?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. The purpose, Mr. Speaker, is, as I think is very clearly stated in the bill, that we find there are many unsanitary places handling food. In fact Pennsylvania is far behind many of our neighboring states in the matter of restrictions and regulations in this field, and the purpose of this bill is to give us the means through legislation so that we can definitely go into these places and make them adhere to some sanitary requirements for the public health and welfare.

Mr. LEVY. Do I understand the gentleman from Lehigh that in these particular places which this bill seeks to supervise there is not now supervision over these eating places?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. LICHHTENWALTER. I might say in further reply, Mr. Speaker, that in places like Indiantown Gap and the neighboring townships where they have had considerable difficulty the situation could be corrected under this bill.

Mr. LEVY. Then do I understand, Mr. Speaker, finally that this bill will seek to put supervision only in places that are not now already supervised by local statutes?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. That is correct.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 752, as follows:

An Act to amend section four hundred one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2017) entitled "An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners county treasurers city departments of public welfare the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors overseers guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them providing for the transfer vesting sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations imposing certain existing obligations on institution districts and on the Commonwealth regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolished revising amending changing and consolidating the law relating to the care of the poor and repealing existing laws" by empowering institution districts to receive and maintain chronic mental patients confined in State mental hospitals or other institutions and providing for the reimbursement by the Department of Welfare for the cost of maintaining such persons

Section 1 Section four hundred one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2017) entitled "An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners county treasurers city departments of public welfare the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors overseers guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them providing for the transfer vesting sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations imposing certain existing obligations on institution districts and on the Commonwealth regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolishedd revising amending changing and consolidating the laws relating to the care of the poor and repealing existing laws" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 401 Powers and Duties as to Care of Dependents and Children The local authorities shall have the power and it shall be their duty with funds of the institution district or of the city according to rules regulations and standards established by the State Department of Welfare

(a) To care for any dependent having a settlement in the county or city who is not otherwise cared for

(b) To contract with other local authorities for the care of any such dependent

(c) To contract with any association in Pennsylvania organized to provide a home or employment for deaf and dumb or blind persons having a settlement in the county or city or to care for any dependent having a settlement in the county or city who is deaf and dumb or blind or to help him through employment

(d) To contribute moneys to the county to pay all or part of the county cost of maintaining children in foster homes and in institutions and homes for children

(e) To pay the cost or part of the cost of the care and maintenance of mental and other patients confined in institutions State mental hospitals and other State institutions in the same manner and to the same extent as provided by law in the case of poor districts and to assume the obligations imposed by law on poor districts in respect to such care and maintenance In like manner the Commonwealth shall be liable to institution districts maintaining institutions for mental patients for payment of part of the cost of the care and maintenance of such mental patients in the same manner as provided by law in respect to the liability of the Commonwealth to poor districts

(f) [To take any other action authorized or required by law] To receive when licensed by the Department of Welfare so to do and to care for and maintain chronic mental patients confined in State mental hospitals or other institutions whether or not such persons are dependents The Department of Welfare shall reimburse such institution districts for the care and maintenance of such persons from funds appropriated to the department for that purpose Such reimbursement shall be computed monthly on the basis of the average per capita cost per patient for maintenance of mental patients in all State-owned and operated hospitals during the month for which reimbursement is made

(g) To take any other action authorized or required by law

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, when I look at the calendar and bump into a bill which transfers certain duties to the counties I look at it rather closely, and when I look at the Senate History I discover that this bill under consideration was introduced into the Senate on April 23, referred to the Committee on Public Welfare and Public Assistance.

This bill transfers the care of mental patients, chronic mental patients back from the State to the various counties of the Commonwealth. In going back you will recall in the session of 1937 this General Assembly enacted a law transferring mental patients to the State. It was postponed, if my recollection is correct, in 1939, and the transfer was effected late in the year 1941. The present situation is that the Commonwealth takes care of all the mental patients, and in return for that the various counties of this Commonwealth transferred the county hospitals, equipment and everything to the Commonwealth. That is the situation as it exists today.

We find sliding in here at the last moment of this day a bill which will transfer chronic mental patients back to the counties. Why the transfer should be made,—and I am discussing the bill on its merits,—why the transfer should be made is more than I know. My own county only has institutions for indigents, that is a part of Woodville and a part of Mayview, the other part having been taken over by the State as mental institutions.

Now, this body is saying to a county where we have no institutions, "We are going to place the care of chronic mental patients upon the county."

I might further call the attention of this House to the fact that there is another bill on the calendar which will come up shortly, Senate Bill 719, page 28, of the calendar, which if enacted would take the only two institutions which are under the control of the county and give them to the State for a certain compensation.

Obviouslsy if this bill passes Allegheny County, and I imagine almost every other county in the State, will have no other institution under its control, and even though Senate Bill 719 should not pass, we have but one institution which is overcrowded, it has a waiting list, and over and above that I am sure the Members of the House realize that the mental patients cannot be put into the same institutions as indigent patients. Mental patients must be segregated, they must have a specialized type of care. The county has no mental doctors presently at its command; the county has no additional nurses at its command. Thus you can see, I believe, on a fair review of this subject that this problem is rather far reaching. This problem is not one which should be taken up in levity with the celebration and the joy which we all feel in soon being back home.

It is all right for you to pass bills, pass them. Expediting things is fine, but here in the closing moments you are all of a sudden mumbo jumbo, shifting, making no provision for it, and there is very little reason, if any for it.

Mental care itself is now placed upon the state under the law. Why mental patients, chronic mental patients, should suddenly be shifted onto the counties is something I cannot understand, and I certainly would like to hear from somebody as to the pressing need for it to be rushed through, and as to the plans what we are to do with them after it becomes law.

So I say tonight, and I ask you to examine this matter, and consider the position you are putting the counties in. I am talking not only of Allegheny County. I speak of them only because I come from there. This bill will affect all of the other counties in the same fashion, therefore, I ask that you consider this matter seriously, and I believe after you do, that you will vote this bill down.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, replying to the gentleman from Allegheny, I just want to say for the information of the House that the purpose of this bill is merely to relieve the emergency situation. Today the institutions are crowded and the care of mental patients can readily be transferred to the local districts and compensation made by the Commonwealth. It is necessary to acquire this care only for the type of patients who could be boarded out, those who are suffering from the infirmities of age, so that room may be made for those who are emergency cases, homicide cases and dangerous cases until such time as the state can acquire additional funds in their own districts.

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHAFFER. Will the gentleman from Elk tell me whether he has any data as to any mental institutions in the state that are not now overcrowded?

Mr. SORG. I cannot, Mr. Speaker, without investigation.

Mr. SHAFFER. Did I understand the gentleman to say, that there was an emergency and that therefore the state was transferring the patients whom they could not take care of, to the county institutions to take of?

Mr. SORG. I did not make that statement, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHAFFER. Then I misunderstood the gentleman. Would the gentleman from Elk tell me if he has any knowledge of plans as to how these patients can be taken care of, in a general way.

Mr. SORG. I think I can, Mr. Speaker. In many cases there are mild cases of mental illness where the county district or the local district is in a position to take care of them. There is some shortage of room in State institutions to take care of the more dangerous cases and in those cases this bill would give authority to transfer the mild cases to the local district and provide compensation by the state for those cases.

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me whether the county district has anything to say under the provisions of this bill whether the patients shall be turned over to them or not.

Mr. SORG. There is no particular provision that they shall be turned over. It only sets up a means for cooperation between the state and the local institutions.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, on the calendar it says, "Except cities of the first class." That means that this bill if it passes is going to affect all the counties except Philadelphia?

Mr. SORG. As I understand, Mr. Speaker, this only applies to county institution districts.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Is there a county institutional district in Philadelphia?

Mr. SORG. I understand that there is not. There would be no particular local district with which they might cooperate.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. But it will affect all of the other sixty-seven counties where they have institutions?

Mr. SORG. If they go along, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Now, in the case of Allegheny County where the districts are now in the hands of the Commonwealth, do you know that the county has no equipment to handle patients that you intend to give back to them?

Mr. SORG. In that case I would suggest to the county that they do not take any cases.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. How are you going to stop them? Where are you going to put them?

Mr. SORG. There is no compulsion here that they shall take them, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Where would you put them?

Mr. SORG. You would not put them, Mr. Speaker, if there were not any facilities.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Well then, what is the idea of passing the bill?

Mr. SORG. If they desire to take them, Mr. Speaker, then there is a provision in this measure that would permit compensation by the Commonwealth and cooperation between the State and the institution district to provide for the facilities for the mentally ill.

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have a copy of the bill before him?

Mr. SORG. I have the bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHAFFER. Will the gentleman from Elk turn to page 3, line 10, section 401?

Mr. SORG. I have it, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHAFFER. The gentleman will note on line 11 it states:

> The local authorities shall have the power and .. it shall be their duty with funds of the institution district or of the city according to rules, regulations and standards established by the State Department of Welfare.

And then it goes on to various subsections. But I ask the gentleman from Elk if that is not mandatory language.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I do not think it is mandatory language. Once they accept the patients certainly they shall have the power and duty to do certain things.

Mr. SHAFFER. Then, turn to subsection F on page 4 that sets forth their duties. On line 14 it says:

> To receive when licensed by the Department of Welfare so to do and to care * * *

Mr. SORG. They shall have the powers to receive.

Mr. SHAFFER. It doesn't say anything about power to say "no."

Mr. SORG. It says "To receive when licensed by the Department." Mr. Speaker, I gather from that, that they must apply for a license.

Mr. SHAFFER. Does the gentleman from Elk say that the Department of Welfare could not issue a license except upon application?

Mr. SORG. That is my opinion, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHAFFER. Does not the gentleman from Elk think that matters like that should be in the bill instead of left for our determination and the determination of other people and all the confusion that arises therefrom?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I think that is a fair deduction; that would be the interpretation by any court of law.

Mr. SHAFFER. I thank the gentleman from Elk.

Mr. Speaker, it is my personal opinion that this bill is merely an entering wedge to return the care and the responsibility for mental patients back to the individual counties of this Commonwealth. It has been admitted here on the floor that the language is not too clear at least. The bill itself says "They shall do things" and "It shall be their duty," and of course it is open to different interpretations. Those interpretations, though they differ, may be honest convictions and I say to you tonight that this bill needs further study to say the least, and in the old vernacular to have "possible" amendments. However, I know that tonight is not the time for that, but I do say to you in closing that this bill is going to mean quite a bit. It is true there is an emergency no doubt in the State, and I am quite familiar that the State has crowded conditions in their institutions, but I say to you tonight in the words of the gentleman from Westmoreland, "Let's be fair." The counties have emergencies too, they have institutions which are overcrowed; they have waiting lists also, and as I pointed out, in a few minutes, on page 28 of today's calendar, we are going to vote to take the only institutions that they have, that is the indigent institutions, so you are going to send them back there where there are no institutions and where you cannot deal with them even if you have money available.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'CONNOR. I desire to ask the gentleman from Elk if this bill is not for the purpose of getting legal sanction to what the Department of Welfare requested regarding these institutions some weeks ago?

Mr. SORG. I believe it is, Mr. Speaker, although I could not say whether there has been a request made, but I would not be surprised if there has been a request.

Mr. O'CONNOR. I desire to ask the gentleman if this is not a mandatory bill?

Mr. SORG. It is my opinion, Mr. Speaker, that it is not.

Mr. O'CONNOR. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, some two or three months ago when this great emergency arose in this Commonwealth the Department of Welfare had more applications for mental patients in institutions than ever before in the history of the Commonwealth, and it was at this time that I became interested in one or two cases of this character. The Department of Welfare made a request, by means of a questionnaire, of the county institution districts to provide them with a list of the accommodations they would have for mental patients who have served considerable time in the state mental institutions and who have recovered to such an extent that they were no longer considered violent and could be cared for in home institutions, and asked the counties if they would take back to the respective counties patients from the state institutions who had recovered sufficiently to be taken back, if the state institutions would admit the violent cases in the local county districts.

It is my understanding of this bill, Mr. Speaker, that there is nothing on our statutes today authorizing this procedure, and this bill is to give legal sanction to what the Commonwealth is now doing.

(Following verification of the roll and before the result was announced.)

Mr. ANDREWS. Might I point out to the Chair that eight names were stricken from the list, that not a single Member on the minority party voted "aye". It is mathematically impossible to strike eight names from the list on the majority side and no votes except one on the minority side and still have a constitutional majority, but your roll call shows that, and it cannot be done.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say to the gentleman from Cambria that he possesses knowledge that the Chair does not possess, namely, that the affirmative roll shows a constitutional majority.

Mr. ANDREWS. From a tabulation of the list read.

The SPEAKER. No result has been announced.

Mr. ANDREWS. We have kept score as they were announced from the desk and it shows one hundred eight.

The SPEAKER. Surely the gentleman from Cambria does not wish the Chair to adopt his count as official?

Mr. ANDREWS. Certainly not, but the count came from the desk, announced by the desk.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would remind the gentleman from Cambria that there has been no official result announced from the desk.

The SPEAKER. All those Members not desiring to be recognized kindly take their seats.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I heard the name of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Trent on the affirmative roll.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not recorded on the affirmative roll.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Moran, Yester and Sheffer.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 719, entitled:

An Act to reenact and further amend the title and the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of September, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight (P. L. 53) entitled, as amended, "An act relating to institutions of counties, cities, wards, boroughs, townships, institution districts and other political subdivisions, for the care, maintenance, and treatment of mental patients; providing for the transfer of such institutions to the Commonwealth; providing for the management and operation or closing and abandonment thereof, and the maintenance of mental patients therein, including the collection of maintenance in certain cases; providing for the retransfer of certain property to counties, cities, wards, boroughs, townships, institution districts and other political subdivisions under certain circumstances; conferring and imposing upon the Governor, the Department of Welfare, the courts of common pleas and counties, cities, wards, boroughs, townships, institution districts and other political subdivisions certain powers and duties; prohibiting cities, counties, wards, boroughs, townships, institution districts and other political subdivisions from maintaining and operating institutions, in whole or in part, for the care and treatment of mental patients; and repealing inconsistent laws," providing for the transfer to the Commonwealth of all grounds, lands, buildings and personal property used for the care and maintenance of indigent persons in conjunction with institutions for the care of mental patients heretofore transferred to the Commonwealth, and for payment therefor by the Commonwealth to the political subdivisions; and further regulating the procedure relating to property of such institutions abandoned by the Commonwealth, and to institutions closed.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. COHEN. Is it a fact that when this bill was on second reading amendments were offered and now on third reading as printed the bill does not show the amendments? If that is the fact should we vote on the bill now?

The SPEAKER. Does the Chair understand the gentleman to say that the bill on file on the Members' desks does not indicate the proper amendment?

Mr. COHEN. That is right, Mr. Speaker, Printer's No. 596.

The SPEAKER. What Printer's No. does the gentleman have?

Mr. COHEN. 596. Referring to the amendments on pages sixteen and seventeen of the bill.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia, the bill on the desk shows that it was amended by the House on second reading on May 4, 1945.

Mr. COHEN. May I read for the information of the Chair——

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, a question of information.

The SPEAKER. Will the genteman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran?

Mr. COHEN. I shall.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MORAN. What is the number of the bill under consideration?

The SPEAKER. Senate Bill 719.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, on page 16, line twenty-seven there is a heavy face bracket before the word "if". The brackets carry to the end of page 16 after the word "other". On top of page 17, line 1 in italics the following words appear:

> In accordance with the provisions set forth in subsection D of section two of this act.

Then in the usual print follow the words "political subdivision * * * "

Going down to line 7, the brackets do not appear in the bill before us, making the bill in my opinion read rather unintelligently for the purpose of voting.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would advise the gentleman that the Chair will have the bill checked by the bill clerk.

Mr. COHEN. May I ask that the bill be passed over temporarily?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

Senate Bill No. 719, Printer's No. 596

was passed over at the request of Mr. COHEN.

Agreeably to order,

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 62

Mr. ROYER. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 62, Printer's No. 790.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 62, entitled: "An Act to further amend sections four and ten of the act, approved the twenty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149), entitled 'An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth * * *' as last amended by imposing an additional tax on liquid fuels; providing for the payment thereof into the Motor License Fund; making appropriations; and providing for the distribution to certain political subdivisions of this Commonwealth with certain conditions; making an appropriation to the Joint State Government Commission for certain purposes and imposing duties on the Department of Highways."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

John G. Snowden,
Edwin S. Bowers,
John H. Dent,
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

Lloyd H. Wood,
Baker Royer,
Harry P. O'Neill,
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act to further amend sections four and ten of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled "An Act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" as last amended by imposing an additional tax on liquid fuels for a limited time providing for the payment thereof into the Motor License Fund making appropriations and providing for the distribution to certain political subdivisions of this Commonwealth with certain conditions and imposing duties on the Department of Highways

Section 1 Section four and section ten of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combusion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" by amending section four as last amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. Section 2 This act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-five

On the queestion,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, everything that was said before by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baker, and myself on this side of the House still goes. We think that we are taking a terrific lacing in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, but as we need something, we will vote for it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 884, as follows:

An Act relating to the Tuberculosis Hospital of the City of Pittsburgh Pittsburgh Pennsylvania providing for the transfer of such institution to the Commonwealth providing for the management and operation of closing and abandonment thereof and maintenance of tuberculosis patients therein including the collection of maintenance in certain cases providing for the retransfer under certain circumstances conferring powers and imposing duties on the Governor and Department of Health and making an appropriation

Section 1 All buildings acquired or erected by the City of Pittsburgh Pennsylvania for the care maintenance and treatment of tuberculosis patients by the Tuberculosis Hospital of the City of Pittsburgh the personal property within such buildings or incidental thereto and any and all other grounds and lands connected therewith or annexed thereto are hereby transferred to and vested in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 2 Any property so transferred to and vested in the Commonwealth shall if found suitable in accordance with this act be thereafter used as a State tuberculosis hospital but if such property shall within one year thereafter be found unsuitable for such purpose or shall within one year after transfer to and use by the Commonwealth as a State tuberculosis hospital be thereafter abandoned by the Commonwealth as such a hospital before substantial improvements thereto have been made then in either event such building lands and personal property so transferred to the Commonwealth shall absolutely revert to and vest in the City of Pittsburgh and the Commonwealth shall have no further claim or title thereto

Before the management and operation of any institution is taken over by the Department of Health the Governor shall issue his proclamation setting forth the date on which the Department of Health will take over the management and operation of the institution In the event it shall be determined that the institution is to be closed the Governor shall issue a proclamation setting forth the date on which such institution will be closed The original of any such proclamation shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and a copy thereof shall be furnished the City of Pittsburgh authorities having charge of such institution

Section 3 The institution subject to this act which the Governor shall direct the Department of Health to operate and manage shall be operated and managed by such department as a State tuberculosis hospital in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth relating to such hospitals The Department of Health in managing and operating any such institution shall have all the powers and perform all the duties vested in and imposed upon boards of trustees of State hospitals by the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) and its amendments designated as The Administrative Code of one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine All tuberculosis patients in such institution at the time the management and operation thereof is assumed by the Department of Health shall have the same status as if originally admitted to a State tuberculosis hospital The Department of Health shall have power to designate the counties of the Commonwealth from which admissions may be made to such institution

The institution acquired and operated by the Commonwealth under this act as a State tuberculosis hospital shall be known as the Pittsburgh Tuberculosis State Hospital

Section 4 When the Commonwealth through the Department of Health assumes the control and management of the institution subject to this act the terms of all officers and employes and the local management of such institution shall cease and terminate The officers and employes of such institution shall thereupon become employes of the Commonwealth subject to removal by the Secretary of Health

Section 5 In the event it shall be determined that the institution subject to this act shall be closed the Department of Health shall take charge of such institution and the terms of all officers and employees and the local management of such institution shall cease and terminate The officers and employes of such institution shall thereupon become the employes of the Commonwealth subject to removal by the Secretary of Health when their services are no longer required No new patients shall be admitted to such institution after the date specified for its closing The Department of Health shall as soon as practicable transfer the patients in the institution to any other State tuberculosis hospital including any institution transferred to and being operated by the Commonwealth under any act as a State tuberculosis institution As far as practicable the department shall transfer such patients to such State tuberculosis hospital nearest to the City of Pittsburgh After the patients in such institution are transferred therefrom the Department of Health shall with the approval of the Governor turn the institution and its grounds over to the Department of Property and Supplies for use for any other State purpose as may be deemed necessary and advisable by the Governor unless such institution under the provisions of section two of this act would revert to the City of Pittsburgh in which event such institution shall be turned over to the proper authorities thereof and shall thereafter be used for such purposes as the City of Pittsburgh may determine

Section 6 After the effective date of this act and until the management and operation of the institution is formally assumed by the Department of Health or until the institution is closed under the provisions of this act but not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-six the City of Pittsburgh shall continue to bear the expense of administering and operating the institution and the Commonwealth shall contribute towards the expense of indigent patients therein to the same extent and in the same manner as pertained under existing laws on the effective date of this act

Section 7 All amounts due the City of Pittsburgh for the care of any tuberculosis patient in the institution transferred to the Commonwealth by this act that have accrued and remain unpaid on the date that the Commonwealth shall take over the operation and management of such institution or the date such institution is closed may be collected by the city in the same manner as if the control and management of the nstitution were still vested in such city Provided however That where there is a claim against the estate of any such tuberculosis patient both on behalf of the Commonwealth and on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh and there is not sufficient in the estate to pay the claim in full the same shall be paid pro rata to the Commonwealth and the city in the proportion of the amiunt of maintenance legally recoverable by each

Section 8 The sum of eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000) is hereby appropriated to the Department of Health for the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five for the purpose of general maintenance of said hospital and for the care and maintenance of patients thereof entitled to free service

Section 9 All acts and parts of act inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Amend section 1, page 9, line 15, by striking out the number "11" and inserting in lieu thereof the number "15".

Amend section 1, page 9, beginning with line 22 by striking out the following: "Reimbursement by the Commonwealth In order that a foundation or minimum program of education may be maintained in each school district of the Commonwealth an Equalization Fund is hereby created to be maintained by appropriations made thereto by the General Assembly for each fiscal biennium from which fund reimbursement on account of the maintenance of the foundation or minimum program is to be paid to school districts

The Equalization Fund for each fiscal biennium shall be sufficient so that appropriations from said Fund may be made annually to each school district for each reimbursement unit representing the difference between the income from a levy of five (5) mills upon the true value of all taxable real property assessed for school purposes, as now provided by law in each school district and a sum of one thousand eight hundred dolars ($1800) for the school years one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six and one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven two thousand dollars ($2000) for the school years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hunderd forty-eight and one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine two thousand two hundred dollars ($2200) for the school years one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty and one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and two thousand four hundred dollars ($2400) for each school year thereafter

Provided however that no district shall receive as an appropriation from said fund less than seven hundred dollars ($700) annually for each reimbursement unit

In ascertaining the number of reimbursement units in a school district in order to compute the amount of aid from the Equalization Fund of the average daily membership of the pupils on the first day of October of each year each twenty-five (25) pupils together with any remaining major fraction thereof shall be considered as constituting a reimbursement unit

Provided however that no district shall be considered as having more reimbursement units than the number of teachers supervisors principals and all other full time members of the teaching and supervisory staff in said district and if the number of such employees actually is less than the number of reimbursement units in the district reimbursement by the Commonwealth from the Equalization Fund shall be made on the basis of the actual number of such employees

Provided however That all one room schools maintained in accordance with the provisions of the Act to which this act is an amendment shall be considered as constituting a reimbursement unit regardless of the number of pupils enrolled in any such school and for the purpose of reimbursement under the provisions of this act the number of pupils enrolled in such one room schools and the number of teachers employed in any such one room schools shall not be considered in computing the number of reimbursement units in any school district other than as provided in this paragraph

13 The true value of all taxable real property in each school district shall be determined by the State Council of Education or such other agency that may hereafter be authorized by law on data and material submitted by the officers of such district in the annual report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction if such data and material after investigation by the State Council of Education be found correct otherwise upon such data and material as modified corrected and approved by said State Council of Education The true valuation of all taxable real property in each school district for the two fiscal years beginning on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five and ending on the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-seven shall be determined during the month of October one thousand nine hundred forty-five and in the month of October of the first year of each biennium thereafter The State Council of Education is hereby given full power and authority to make such investigation to take such action and to institute such proceedings as may be necessary to determine any questions that may be raised in the determination and adjustment of the aforesaid true valuation for the purposes of this act and the decision which such Council reaches on such questions shall be final and conclusive but shall not affect any assessment that may be levied by any taxing authority for local tax purposes

On the first day of November of each year each school district shall file a certificate with the Superintendent of Public Instruction in such form as he may prescribe and on blanks to be furnished by him showing the true valuation of all taxable real estate in each school district Such certificate shall be in addition to and not in lieu of any certificate now required to be filed by law Reimbursement required to be paid under the provisions of this act shall be paid at the times now provided by law During the school year one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six since under the provisions of this act the amount due each school district cannot be immediately ascertained the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall estimate the amount of reimbursement due each school district and pay such estimated amount The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall definitely ascertain the amount due each school district under the provisions of this act during said year and make an adjustment of reimbursement either by adding to a subsequent reimbursement payment by the Commonwealth or a deduction therefrom

In ascertaining the amount of reimbursement due each school district for the school year one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven the true value of all taxable real property the number of reimbursement units and all other information necessary shall be determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction upon information filed with him by each school district during the school year one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six and in like manner for each succeeding year

Provided however that each school district shall receive on account of reimbursement for salaries paid teachers and members of the supervisory staffs for the biennium one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-seven not less than the amount received by said districts during the biennium one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thosuand nine hundred forty-five including the amounts paid said districts under the provisions of the Act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 786)

Amend section 1, page 14, line 7, by inserting immediately following the number 786 the following: "Section 2 Article twelve of said act is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof a new subdivision to red as follows

Reimbursements By The Commonwealth and Between School Districts

Section 1241 For the purposes of this subdivision of article twelve of this act the following terms shall have the following meanings

(1) "District Pupils" of a school district shall designate all pupils enrolled in the public schools of the Commonwealth who are residents of a given school district except those pupils who are enrolled in the public schools maintained by the vocational school district the territorial limits of which include the school district "District Pupils" of a vocational school district shall designate all pupils enrolled in the public schools maintained by the vocational school district who are residents of the district

(2) "District Teaching Units" A district's number of teaching units shall be obtained as follows (1) divide by twenty-two (22) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public high school (2) divide by thirty (30) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public elementary school and (3) add the quotients obtained under (1) and (2) above

(3) "Average Daily Membership" shall be computed in accordance with the rules of procedure as established by the Department of Public Instruction for the school term 1944-1945

(4) "Minimum Subsidy" shall designate the minimum amount per teaching unit payable by the Commonwealth to any school district or vocational school district under the provisions of this act The minimum subsidy shall be six hundred dollars ($600)

(5) "Maximum Subsidy" shall designate the maximum amount per teaching unit which may be payable by the Commonwealth to any one school district or vocational school district under the provisions of this act The maximum subsidy for the school year 1945-1946 and the school year 1946-1947 shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) and for each school year thereafter two thousand dollars ($2,000)

(6) "Standard Reimbursement Fraction" School districts or vocational school district's standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed annually in the month of November by the Department of Public Instruction

In the case of a school district its standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed for the school year 1945-1946 and the school year 1946-1947 by subtracting from one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by five-one thousandths (.005) and dividing the difference so obtained by one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) and for the school year 1947-1948 and for every school year thereafter by subtracting from two thousand dollars ($2,000) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by five-one thousandths (.005) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand dollars ($2,000)

A school district's assessed valuation to be used for purposes of computing the standard reimbursement fraction shall be the assessed valuation of the district's taxable real property as determined for the preceding year for county tax purposes Provided That if the assessed valuation as determined for county purposes does not adequately represent the market values of the taxable property the State Council of Education may ascertain such market values and base the reimbursement to any one school district upon the market values ascertained by the State Council of Education

In the case of a vocational school district its standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed for the school year 1945-1946 and the school year 1946-1947 by subtracting from one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) an amount determined by multiplying the assessed valuation per district teaching unit by three-one thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) and for the school year 1946-1947 and for every school year thereafter by substracting from two thousand dollars ($2,000) an amount determined by multiplying the assessed valuation per district teaching unit by three-one thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand dollars ($2,000)

A school district's or vocational school district's number of district teaching units for purposes of determination of the standard reimbursement fraction shall be obtained as follows (1) divided by twenty-two (22) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public high school during the preceding school term (2) divided by thirty (30) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public elementary school during the preceding school term and (3) add the quotients obtained under (1) and (2) above except when the pupil-teacher ratio exceeds thirty-three (33) in which case the sum obtained under (1) and (2) above shall be multiplied by thirty-three (33) and the product so obtained shall be divided by the pupil-teacher ratio of the district Provided That no school district or vocational school district shall be credited with less than one teaching unit or be assigned a reimbursement fraction lower in value than the minimum subsidy divided by the maximum subsidy Provided further That until the end of the school term during which the present hostilities shall cease as determined by proclamation of the Governor all one-room schools operated in accordance with the provisions of the act to which this is an amendment shall be credited with at least one teaching unit Upon cessation of such hostilities such one-room schools shall be credited with at least one teaching unit only if their operation is approved by the State Council of Education

Section 1242 Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the fiscal years 1945-1946 and 1946-1947 on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1947-1948 and for every school year thereafter on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by two thousand dollars ($2,000) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

For no year shall any school district or vocational school district receive less than six hundred dollars ($600) per teaching unit

Section 1243 Every school district and every vocational school district regardless of classification shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1945-1946 and for every school year thereafter on account of pupil transportation eligible for State reimbursement under the provisions of the act to which this is an amendment an amount to be determined by multiplying the cost of approved reimbursable pupils transportation incurred by the district by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

In addition thereto the Commonwealth shall pay to school districts and vocational school districts which own their own vehicles an annual depreciation charge of ten per centum (10%) to be calculated on the basis of the certified cost at which the district acquired the vehicle for which depreciation is claimed

Section 1244 Each school district regardless of classification sending high school pupils to another school district or vocational school district or to a joint high school approved by the Department of Public Instruction shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school term 1945-1946 and for every school term thereafter on account of high school tuition an amount to be determined by multiplying the sum of "overhead cost per high school pupil" and "instruction cost per high school pupil" as defined in section one thousand two hundred fifty-six of this act less the rental charge of eight dollars ($8) or in the case of district pupils attending a high school not located in this Commonwealth on the basis of a reasonable tuition charge per pupil to be determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction (1) by the number of district pupils sent to high schools of other districts or to a joint high school and (2) by the district's standard reimbursement fraction and (3) by seventy-five-one-hundredths (.75) and (4) subtracting from the amount so obtained the per pupil state appropriation paid to the district where the pupil attends high school multiplied by the number of pupils

Section 1245 Every school district and every vocational school district regardless of classification shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school term 1945-1946 and for every school term thereafter the sum of thirty-five dollars ($35) in vocational agriculture and vocational industrial education twenty dollars ($20) in vocational home economics education and fifty dollars ($50) in vocational distributive education per pupil in average daily membership in vocational curriculums approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction

Section 1246 Every school district and every vocational school district regardless of classification shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school term 1945-1946 and for every school term thereafter on account of approved traveling expenses in the discharge of teaching and supervisory responsibilities of teachers coordinators supervisors and directors in vocational education eighty per centum (80%) of the sum expended by the school district for such approved travel

Section 1247 Every school district and every vocational school district regardless of classification shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school term 1945-1946 and for every school term thereafter on account of approval vocational extension classes at the rate of two dollars ($2) per hour of instruction approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction

Section 1248 In the event that the Congress of the United States provides additional funds for vocational education the State Board of Vocational Education shall have authority to establish rules and regulations governing the administration and distribution of such funds

Section 1249 Every school district regardless of clasification shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school term 1945-1946 and for every school term thereafter the sum of twenty dollars ($20) per pupil in average daily membership in a course or courses for mentally handicapped children and the sum of thirty dollars ($30) per pupil in average daily membership in a course or courses for physically handicapped children approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction

Section 1250 Every school district regardless of classification shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school term 1945-1946 and for every school term thereafter on account of approved extension classes and the instruction of home bound children an amount determined by multiplying the mandated minimum salaries of instructional employes conducting such classes and instructing home bound children by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

Section 1405 The board of school directors of every school district in this Commonwealth shall for the purpose of designating the schools to be attended by the several pupils in said district subdivide the same in such manner that all the pupils in each school district shall be assigned to and reasonably accommodated in one of the public schools in said district Provided That the board of school directors may upon cause shown permit any pupil or pupils in any school district to attend such other school in said district as the board may deem proper or may classify and assign the pupils in the district to any such school or districts therein as it may deem best in order to properly educate the same Provided further That whenever any child or children of compulsory school age have their residence more than two miles by the nearest public highway from the school to which they have been assigned within the district and free transportation for such child or children to a school within the district is not provided and there is a school in session in some other district in the Commonwealth within two miles by the nearest public highway of the residence of such child or children the board of school directors shall reassign such child or children to this school in another district unless the consent of the board of directors of said district is refused and shall pay to said district the [cost of tuition textbooks and supplies of such child or children and this] tuition charge provided for by this act This provision shall include also in like manner assignment to high schools in the case of pupils under sixteen years of age who are qualified to be enrolled in such high schools Provided further That hereafter it shall be unlawful for any school director superintendent or teacher to make any distinction whatever on account of or by reason of the race or color of any pupil or scholar who may be in attendance upon or seeking admission to any public school maintained wholly or in part under the school laws of the Commonwealth

Section 5 Section one thousand four hundred six of said act as last amended by the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 605) and the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2583) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1406 (a) The board of school directors of any school district in this Commonwealth may on account of the small number of pupils in attendance or the condition of the then existing school building or for the purpose of better gradation and classification or other reasons close any one or more of the public schools in its district and upon such school or schools being so closed the pupils who belong to the same shall be assigned to other schools or upon cause shown be permitted to attend schools in other districts

Whenever the average term attendance of pupils regularly enrolled at any one-room school in any school district of the fourth class or township which is a district of the third class is ten or less than ten the board of school directors shall close such school

(b) If the board of school directors does not deem it feasible to close such school it may present its petition to the State Council of Education showing the reasons why such school should not be closed thereupon the State Council of Education shall consider such petition and shall make such order as may seem just in the premises If any school as aforesaid has been closed because the average term attendance of pupils enrolled was ten or less than ten and has been reopened upon order of the State Council of Education and the average term attendance is twelve or more after such reopening such school shall be considered re-established

(c) In any district of the fourth class or township which is a district of the third class elementary school pupils who reside within that part of the school district last served by any elementary school closed since the first Monday of July one thousand nine hundred and seven or within a district all of whose schools have been closed or who are assigned to a training school of a State Normal School and reside one and one-half miles or more from the school to which they are assigned shall be furnished proper transportation at the expense of the district to and from the elementary school to which they are assigned All such transportation routes to be used after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight shall be established with the advice and assistance of the county board of school directors of the county In any case after such date when two or more school districts jointly use the same transportation facilities the cost of such transportation shall subject to the approval of the State Council of Education be apportioned among such districts by the county board of school directors

(d) All vehicles hereafter purchased or placed in use for the transportation of pupils whether owned or hired by the school district shall conform to standards prescribed by the State Council of Education Such standards when promulgated by the State Council of Education may be revised not oftener than once each year and whenever new requirements are made they shall be published at least six months before they shall become effective and shall apply only to vehicles thereafter purchased or put in use

(e) Whenever the board of school directors in any fourth class district or township which is a district of the third class agrees to or is required to provide transportation for any pupils such board of school directors may upon petition of the parent guardian or person in parental relation to any of said pupils in lieu of providing such transportation pay for suitable board and lodging for such pupils if such board and lodging is secured in the home of a near relative of the pupil or in a proper school or home approved by the person making the petition In no such case shall the State's share exceed one dollar ($1.00) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is in attendance at school not exceeding five days in any one week

(f) If the Department of Public Instruction approved the transportation as to methods and means and the contracts provided therefor the Commonwealth will pay annually the amounts provided for by this act to the school district furnishing such transportation [an amount determined by (a) the true valuation per teacher per district as provided by section one thousand two hundred and ten of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended and by (b) a given per centum of the sum which has been expended during the previous school year by such a school district for transporting pupils of said school to and from said schools as follows The amount paid by the Commonwealth to a school district which has a true valuationo per teacher of assessable property of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or less shall be seventy-five (75) per centum more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) sixty (60) per centum and more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) fifty (50) per centum Provided That in case said school district has purchased or shall hereafter purchase an approved school conveyance which is used exclusively for approved school purposes said payment by the Commonwealth for such transportation may include a reasonable charge for depreciation and repairs not to exceed in any year fifteen (15) per centum of the cost of said approved school conveyance Provided That the State's share of depreciation and repairs shall not exceed one hundred dollars ($100) per vehicle per year Provided further That the State's share for transportation shall not exceed one dollar ($1.00) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is transported to and from school Provided further That districts receiving reimbursement on the basis of seventy-five (75) per centum and sixty (60) per centum shall not receive more than four thousand dollars ($4,000) in any one school year from the State for transportation Provided further That districts receiving reimbursement on the basis of fifty (50) per centum shall not receive more than three thousand dollars ($3,000) in any one year from the State for transportation]

[After the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine if the Department of Public Instruction approves the transportation and means and the contracts provided therefor the Commonwealth will pay annually to the school district furnishing such transportation an amount determined according to the following schedule of reimbursement To a school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or less ninety per centum (90%) more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) but not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) eighty per centum (80%) more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) but not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) seventy-five per centum (75%) more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) but not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) seventy per centum (70%) more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) but not more than one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) sixty-five per centum (65%) more than one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) but not more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) sixty per centum (60%) more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) but not more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) fifty-five per centum (55%) more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) fifty per centum (50%) After the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine in any case where any such school district has purchased or shall hereafter purchase an approved school conveyance which is used exclusively for approved school purposes said payment by the Commonwealth for such transportation may include a reasonable charge for depreciation and repairs not to exceed in any year fifteen per centum (15%) of the cost of said approved school conveyance The State's share of such depreciation and repairs shall not exceed two hundred dollars ($200.00) per vehicle per year Provided That the States share for transportation shall not exceed one dollar ($1.00) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is transported to and from school Provided That no district shall receive from the Commonwealth in any one year more than eight thousand dollars ($8,000) as reimbursement for transportation]

(g) On or before the first day of July of each year each school district of the third and fourth class transporting pupils as herein provided shall present to the Superintendent of Public Instruction in such form as he may prescribe and on blanks to be furnished by him a sworn statement of the amount expended during the previous school year for transporting pupils to and from school as herein provided On the basis of such a statement the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be requisition upon the State Treasurer pay during the month of September to such school district such reimbrusement for the previous school year as is provided for in this act The State Council of Education may for cause specified by it direct the withholding of such reimbursement in any given case permanently or until the school district has complied with the law or regulations of the State Council of Education

Section 6 Section one thousand four hundred seven of said act as amended by the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 628) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1407 If any pupils are assigned to an adjoining district the district where such pupils reside shall promptly pay to the district in which they attend school the [cost of tuition textbooks and school supplies only which shall not exceed that of the tuition textbooks and school supplies of other pupils pursuing similar courses or studies in the same schools] tuition charge provided for by this act Provided That the consent of the board of school directors of the district to which the pupils of any closed school are assigned shall be first obtained

Section 7 Section one thousand seven hundred nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1709 If any child has completed the elementary course of study in the public schools of the district in which he resides and resides three or more miles by public road from the nearest high school in said district unless proper free transportation is furnished he may attend any more convenient high school in another district without the consent of the board of school directors of the district in which he resides and the district in which he resides shall be liable to the district whose high school he attends for the [cost of his tuition textbooks and supplies as] tuition charge provided for in this act

Amend section 2, page 14, beginning with line 8, by striking out the entire section as follows: "Section 2 The provisions of subsections one two three four five six seven seven-A eight nine and ten four five six seven seven-A eight nine ten and eleven and paragraph (a) of subsection nineteen of section one thousand two hundred ten if said act are hereby repealed".

Amend section 2, page 14, line 12 by inserting after the word "repealed" the following: " Section 8 Subsections one two three four five six seven seven A eight nine ten eleven nineteen twenty twenty-one twenty-two twenty-three twenty-five and twenty-six of section one thousand two hundred ten and sections one thousand four hundred forty-one one thousand four hundred forty-three one thousand seven hundred eight one thousand seven hundred eleven one thousand seven hundred eleven A one thousand seven hundred sixteen and one thousand seven hundred seventeen of said act section nine of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. Amend section 4, page 14, line 21 by inserting after the word "enactment" the following: Section 11 The provisions of this act shall become effective the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-five".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, we are now asked to concur in an amendment to House Bill 568, the amendments inserted by the Senate. But I should imagine that the manner in which the amendments were inserted was not merely the historical method of adding language or deleting language, but by taking a very sharp knife that is sharpened by the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth, backed by his demand that everyone must suffer cutting the bill into its parts and extracting its very life blood.

We in this House rejected the Young committee's recommendation in a bill proposed by the administration. We then backed a so-called insurgent bill, House Bill 568 produced by Mr. Lee and Mr. Hare, eventually joined in by the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Sollenberger, the Chairman of the Committee on Education, and evidently with an independence of judgment that was refreshing for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania we voted to support House Bill 568, which was a fair and equitable teachers' bill for Pennsylvania.

It was not until the bill left our hands that the Chief Executive, not only by innuendo but otherwise insisted upon additional taxes that were not needed and finally reversed the thinking of many Members on this bill. The thinking finally got to the bill in the hands of the surgeons on the other side and resulted in the emasculation of its real liberal and fair amendments, particularly as they affect first class school districts.

As a Member coming from a district which has a first class school district, I cannot truthfully say that I am pleased, I was only too happy to join in the original revolt, because you will remember that we proved without any doubt that the Governor's budget was not only elastic under war time rubber standards but was elastic under pre-war rubber standards, because it stretched quite a bit. We found at the time we said the money was available, that large appropriations, tremendous appropriations, not originally contemplated by the budget, were finally put into the budget. We talked about millions for all sorts of things, we talked about thousands in great numbers for all sorts of buildings, lands, bridges, comfort stations, buying historical sites, and only the accounting department of the Budget Office will ever get through counting up the countless thousands in the Governor's restricted budget.

As I said before, the Chief Executive, despite the protestations of liberality, decided that he did not want to give the school teachers what this House almost unanimously felt they should have. It was rather an unusual procedure, because we rejected proposals of a committee that worked two years to attempt to determine a program for the payment of teachers' salaries in Pennsylvania. But when it finally got to our decision we found that forces much more powerful than we prevailed, and we found that we had not the money despite the fact that even the newspapers, who are always difficult to convince, decided that the budget was elastic.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I would not ask a Member of the third or fourth class school district to vote against these amendments because they were treated very well, and deservedly so, because they have too long suffered under our archaic antiquated and bad system, but when we held out this high promise to give the school teachers of first class school districts an honest to God increase when we ended by giving them what was practically only the cost of living increase which was recommended at the last session in proportion they are treated shabbily to say the least and to use the expression charitably.

I find that I cannot subscribe to a theory which I presume will be said makes the bill a good and liberal bill. Frankly, I do not know whether I should be thankful for small favors and vote for the amendment or whether I should vote "no" in protest, and make the protest heard, that the Chief Executive and the Senate have sabotaged our program. We worked longer, we worked harder, we worked more diligently in coming to our conclusion, and we are asked now within a few hours to accede to further dictation.

I think it is bad, and before I finish this statement, Mr. Speaker, I doubt if I will know how I want to vote because it is going to have to sink in pretty hard to convince me that the school teachers of my school district got anywhere near the breaks they deserve. I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that Pennsylvania has the money today. The money that we have voted and probably will vote will go for many projects and will remain unexpended at the end of the next biennium. There is going to be lapse after lapse in amounts so great that when we come back to another session we are going to be immensely wealthy, more so than we are at this session. I am not going to say that the money to be used for post war planning is a waste of money; I don't know that we can spend it, but it is a good thing to appropriate it and put it out of our reach so that we can say we are poor and poverty stricken when the people of Pennsylvania should be dealt with fairly, and the school teachers come with cup in hand asking and begging for a fair deal.

I think we indicated a program, when the matter was discussed the other day, because in my mind there was no debate on the bill, and all Pennsylvanians should manifest an added interest in the problems affecting the school districts of Pennsylvania. I venture to predict that when we come back two years hence we will find that the Governor was wrong again, the Governor was so wrong that we will be ashamed at that time that we had not the intestinal fortitude to stand up for what we originally voted for. I say to you, Mr. Speaker, the financial finagling—I won't say financial finagling on the part of the Governor, but it should have no weight in this House, and I say to you that the Governor, whatever his future mission might be will have to answer to the people who have felt the keen edge of is budgetary knife.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, the old pendulum that ticks the hours slowly but inexorably away, relegates this 1945 Assembly Session to the spirit hall of many other sessions that have gone before in Pennsylvania. This subject, presently up for discussion in the House, Public Education, is one that strikes at the very heart of our democracy and one that I have scrupulously and religiously kept away from partisan politics.

To hear, Mr. Cohen, the gentleman from Philadelphia tonight proceed to make the children of Pennsylvania a political football for the Democratic party seems to me a travesty upon the closing hours of this Sabbath day. Sunday is a particularly good day to pass this bill, for this day of the week has been set aside by the Man recognized as the greatest teacher we ever had on earth, and the Man whose principles we all adhere to, consciously or unconsciously, He who said "Suffer little children to come unto me, for such is the Kingdom of Heaven." The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, launched a vicious attack upon the Governor of the Commonwealth charging him with sabotaging a public school program, when he, the Governor, subscribed to the provisions of House Bill 568.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, when the Governor signs this bill into law he will have carried out the mandates of this Legislature. Mandates that will rank Pennsylvania number one in the forty-eight states of the United States in progressive teachers salaries. He will, in signing this bill into law, have allocated more money under the terms of this proposal than has even been allocated in any single Pennsylvania administration since the advent of public education one hundred eleven years ago.

Four great administrations stand out in public education in this State, that of George Wolfe in 1834 when this State gave birth to public education, guided by the leadership of a strong man in the House by the name of Thaddeus Stevens. This State was particularly fortunate in the person of the gentleman who sits in bronze on a horse statue, by the State Museum, General Hartranft. This State was particularly fortunate in the administration of Governor Sproul. This State is particularly fortunate to add another great Pennsylvanian's name, Governor Edward Martin, and his administration to that of Governors Wolfe, Hartranft, and Sproul. We can score up the history of Pennsylvania by the land marks set up in its own public school system.

From the earliest days in this State Pennsylvania was recognized as a haven for the persecuted people of all races, creeds, languages and beliefs. William Penn's charter, when he founded this Commonwealth was based on sincerity and practicality, we are presently working in this State under the Constitution of 1873. That Constitution carries with it a mandate that I tried to write into my heart, the same as I know many of you have tried to write it into yours, pledging our legislators year after year to provide a thorough and efficient system of public education for every boy and every girl of this great Commonwealth. All of us have been faced with problems. Schools have been studied at length. Since 1921 eight different studies have been made of the school system. The Minority Floor Leader of this House, Mr. Andrews, helped to compile and led the compilation of a cost study in 1935. All of us recognize the inequities of the subsidation system; all of us know the disparity and the many conflicting personal interests that crept into the system. All of us recognize the frailties of the existing system; tax collections were one problem; teachers' salaries were another, but the welfare of the child is the whole core, the whole meaning of education. And since our schools are built for children, certainly efficient teaching is a good part of it, certainly good buildings are a good part of it, certainly proper engineering service is a good part of it, but the whole basis and reasoning back of public education is still the child.

Horace Mann, who was the father of public education and who made a great record in Massachusetts made this statement "The common school is the greatest discovery of man." The common school is the greatest discovery of man, and we have tried to carry out that truth here in Pennsylvania.

You have seen our school system grow since 1834 when we had forty-three thousand children until today when the schools have one million five hundred fifty thousand children; when you saw a pre-war enrollment of one million eight hundred fifty thousand children, and its problems grew as their numbers increased. I am not going into all the details of this bill at this time. To do so might keep us here debating this bill for several hours longer. I do want to give credit and recognition to the earnest and sincere efforts of Thomas Lee of Philadelphia, co-sponsor and to another co-sponsor Raymond Sollenberger. I want to give credit to the Governor of the Commonwealth, Edward Martin, to Senators Fred Homsher and Paul Wagner, to Dr. Paul F. Wueller and Chairman George Young of the School Commission, to the Pennsylvania State Education Association, and to Dr. Francis B. Haas, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and his staff who worked unceasingly in trying to bring a better system of public education in Pennsylvania. Every man and woman on the school commission faced the problem, Democrat and Republican alike, with a fearlessness which has finally culminated in this bill.

This bill is not a panacea for Pennsylvania, it is not a cure-all, but I would not want you to leave here thinking that haphazardly we brought it into being.

May I read for the purpose of the record a statement handed to me tonight by the President of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, Dr. Herman Grose representing as he does fifty-four thousand teachers in Pennsylvania. Mark you these words, ladies and gentlemen, from those whom the gentleman from Philadelphia says are being cheated and sabotaged, given picayune pickings from the table. Mark these words well ladies and gentlemen:

> The Hare-Lee-Sollenberger Bill, House Bill 568, marks another milestone in the forward march of Public Education in Pennsylvania. Its benefits will reach the home of "the poorest child of the poorest inhabitant in the meanest hut of your mountains." It will attract and retain in our classrooms our talented teachers. Its provisions for equalization of educational opportunities provide the foundations of a sound basic legal structure for Pennsylvania's future citizenship needs. This bill is one of the most significant that has ever been adopted by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the past one hundred years. It will make educational history.

That statement is signed by the President of the State Education Association. I am not going to read all of these tributes from the profession into the record. I am going to ask the courtesy and the kindness of the House in having them extended in the Journal.

A paragraph from the statement of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and the Pennsylvania Federation of Teachers on the final bill:

> The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and its affiliate, the Pennsylvania Federation of Teachers, recognizes the state aid provisions of the Hare-Lee-Sollenberger Bill as a constructive step in the right direction, long overdue and slightly better than the minimum program recommended and so described by the Education Commission. This state hereby follows the national trend of assuming a larger share of its constitutional responsibility for the maintenance of efficient public schools for all the children of the state.

That statement is signed by James McDevitt, President of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, Margaret Root, President of the Pennsylvania Federation of Teachers and Mildred I. Snodgrass, Legislative Representative of the Pennsylvania Federation of Teachers.

The gentleman from Philadelphia has led you to believe that there was a partisan issue injected into this and set forth that his city is being cheated. This is a statement of the Philadelphia Teachers Association:

> The Philadelphia Teachers Association joins the Pennsylvania State Education Association in commending the members of the General Assembly for their ceaseless efforts in behalf of constructive school legislation. We particularly want to express appreciation to the able sponsors of House Bill 568, the Honorable D. Raymond Sollenberger, the Honorable Fred P. Hare, Jr. and our own distinguished Philadelphian the Honorable Thomas H. Lee.
> Cathleen M. Champlin

That was signed by the president of that association, representing more than five thousand teachers. How does Mr. Cohen account for their attitude?

This statement from the Professional School Employees Association by its Chairman of Public Relations, James St. Clair, Duquesne:

> In behalf of the Professional School Employees Association of the Eleventh District, we should like to thank the Honorables Fred Hare, Thomas Lee, and D. Raymond Sollenberger for the effort they have devoted to the advancement of public education.
> House Bill 568 represents one of the most forward steps in the history of education in that it promotes the principle of equalization and is a guide to the future. With such leadership and such vision, Pennsylvania will again become, as it was in the past, the "Keystone" of American culture.

Then we have the statement of Serena Foley Davis, Acting President of the Special Class Principals' Club of Philadelphia:

> The mandating of salaries of special class teachers will give them protection against cuts in depression times without legislative action. It will also bring great dignity to the area of the education of the handicapped child and will tend to extend the opportunities in the state for real equality of education of the children as it will encourage school districts to care for the education of its handicapped children locally.
> Serena Foley Davis

Then we have the statement of the Elementary Teachers' Association of Philadelphia:

> The Hare-Lee-Sollenberger Bill, House Bill 568, is the beginning of a new era in educational, cooperative planning. This legislation is a sound foundation for future educational legislation upon which to build. Pennsylvania will be proud of this forward step in the time to come.
> Lois A. Buenzli

And you might go on and on in this manner. House Bill 568, my friends, is not the work of the little handful of men in this session. You and I have not placed too much of ourselves in this picture. This bill represents every teacher, every citizen, every child from the beginning days when this Commonwealth first began to climb the ladder and move forward toward a better world. This bill, ladies and gentlemen of the Houe, I just want to point out one phase of it to show you the trend, for many years the third and fourth class school districts of this State, and they were particularly singled out today by the gentleman from Philadelphia, these districts asked their teachers to live and eke out a meager existence on wages of eight hundred dollars a year. House Bill 568 will allow a teacher of the third and fourth class district to retire at the age of sixty-two at one thousand dollars yearly. That one thousand dollars is more than the State paid those teachers in 1937 for a year's teaching. They can retire at sixty-two at a greater sum for the year than you paid them in 1937.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I don't want this bill driven into a stage of pampering public schools. I want you to feel that we went into this thing with what we thought was a fair program when we sat down in conference groups.

And may I say the Governor at no time made a definite statement that this had to be, and nothing more, to me, but we sat in conference as interested conferee's around the table. We had the Governor, the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee there, the Chairman of the House Finance Committee was represented, the Department of Public Instruction, the Budget office, the House and Senate, Education leaders, School Commission, and we tried to arrive at a workable program for the best interests of the public school system and the tax payers of our State.

In the cost study of 1935 Representative Andrews made this statement, and it is just as true today as it was then:

> The difficulty now as in the past lies in mobilizing public sentiment in support of constructive definite action, in conciliating or reconciling conflicting special interests and integrating a progressive school program on the general fiscal and taxation policies of the various administrations as they come and go.

Local communities have reached the limits of their ability to pay further increases in school costs, real estate is carrying a tremendous tax burden, a broader tax base must be found, the State represents the only source to which we may logically turn without further sacrifice of our cherished freedom of action by local control.

That test had to be faced, the problem of ultimate cost had to be faced. The Committee of Conference felt in their wisdom that they could give to the children of Pennsylvania the program that you are asked presently to concur in tonight. If the school enrollment goes back to pre-war days it will cost the State an additional three million dollars in subsidy grants to local communities.

The reimbursement factor of twenty-two for high schools and thirty for the elementary schools will involve an outlay in round figures of better than twenty-five million dollars this next biennium, in addition to the twenty-seven million dollars enacted two years ago, or a total of about fifty-two million dollars additional monies over the 1941-43 biennium.

In the second biennium, 1947 to 1949 it will cost thirty-six million dollars in addition to the twenty-seven million dollars of the cost of living program, or an additional sixty-three million.

Now ladies and gentlemen of the House, turn over in your mind for just one moment this thought, in 1937 this State spent sixty-one million dollars for public education; in 1939 that sixty-one million became sixty-four million dollars. In 1941 that sixty-four million became seventy-one million dollars; in 1943 that seventy-one million became one hundred three million dollars, and in this coming biennium it will be in the neighborhood of one hundred thirty million dollars, not counting the health units and their assumed cost by the State. Now, one hundred thirty million dollars is more than twice as much as was spent in the biennium of 1937, and still we do not say we have solved the problem, nor do we appear as Moses trying to lead anyone out of the wilderness. The school problem will always be with us.

The school problem will not be settled in this biennium, but certainly this bill will show you that the thinking people working with this bill understand that they secured a program that is a foundation upon which our temple of public education and the advancing needs of civilization may be built. Yes, it is a long road down which we have traveled. This House has been more than fair to me than any other like association of men that I have ever been affiliated with in my life. This bill represents more in my emotions than I have the power to express in words. This I do know, that if this nation is to be saved it is going to be saved in the classrooms of America, not in the courts, but in the classrooms of America. These teachers will make of these children of yours and mine what they desire. Our problem is to have the right kind of instructor in the classroom to maintain the traditions of our beloved America. This land of ours together with the people and the principles that they have exhibited, have formed an asset of good will and strength behind which you and I are safe from the ravages of those who would destroy us and our way of life. The schools, even as our traditions and our flesh spring from a thousand sources.

I ask you tonight to visualize this picture of public education on a broad basis of a State equalization subsidy. This is not a salary bill, this is an equalization or subsidy bill, taking the money from the wealthier units and allowing the poor struggling units to follow out your constitutional mandate to live. We owe a duty to the children in the poor districts just as much as we do to the children in the richest districts of the state. The assessed values run anywhere from thirteen hundred dollars in property for each teacher to two million dollars of property for each teacher. We were simply following on the course that has been seen as best in our Commonwealth and in our nation and proven by the years.

Pennsylvania by the same token is trying to level out this, inequity—and I wouldn't say that the first class districts have been cheated. Under this bill Philadelphia gets more than one and a half million dollars in additional state funds and Pittsburgh gets about five hundred seventy-five thousand dollars additional funds without computing the health provision as amended in House Bill 171. To me this represents a task well begun, a task that you and I must lend our efforts to in years ahead.

If perchance revenues do fall, if perchance our financial program becomes shaky, then upon your shoulders and mine will fall the responsibility of finding the necessary monies.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I am sincere in this, as I know are you. It represents the beginning of a new road for generations as yet unborn.

I like to believe that as citizens of the last great hope on earth we may all subscribe to the words of Stephen Benet, the poet, when he said:

For there's something buried deep in all of us
Deeper than all the noise of the parade.
Something the haters never knew and never understood,
The habit of the free.
For out of the hearts, out of the souls, out of the minds,
Of thousand upon thousands common men,
We made this land, this dream, this peaceless vision,
Groping for the stars.

The case of the children of Pennsylvania, now and forever, versus the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, rests.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would not attempt to vie with the gentleman from Somerset in the handling of winged words. He has made a memorable address. Nor would I claim to equal him in his devotion to the ideals of the teaching profession, the ideals which we all cherish in equal measure with him, but which we lack the power to express in his telling fashion.

The gentleman from Somerset labored in the committee room, he was the fabricator of a plan, and there was never a more sorry task that fell to the lot of some of us. That task, Mr. Speaker, in the language of the gentleman from Somerset, was to produce the money to carry out the program.

Need I remind you that in the early weeks of January there was issued from the office of the Executive a statement to the effect that those who proposed an increase in school subsidies had better come along with the tax bills because there was not any more money for schools unless there were new taxes. That was the challenge as it was thrown in the teeth of the Committee with which the gentleman from Somerset labored. He was not in a position to challenge that statement. We did, day in and day out, challenge that statement because we realized that while the gentlman from Somerset and his associates could produce the plans, we had to convince the people of Pennsylvania and the Members of this General Assembly that there was the money.

Those who are having any doubt about the ability of the Commonwealth to finance this plan need have no fear, because Mr. Speaker, at this very time there is in the banks to the credit of this Commonwealth a surplus over and above the estimate of the Budget office, a surplus sufficient to finance the increase over and above the cost of living bonus that this bill carries, sufficient, I say, to finance the bill for the biennium. The money which we were told could not be had is now in the banks, and I venture to say that without the constructive assistance, without that labor in the sordid field of delving for money and uncovering it in resources, the gentleman from Somerset would not be able tonight to rise and make the telling speech of a victory won in the cause of education.

So I feel that while he and his associates made a plan, one that had been in the making, however, these many years, there are those among us who fought the fight to uncover the hidden resources necessary in order to finance the plan that the gentleman now expounds.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would not like to leave this session disillusioned and in the hope that perhaps my disillusionment might be wiped away, may I interrogate the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I should like the gentleman, if he would oblige me, in order to make certain that my disillusionment might be unfounded, would he read for me the entire letter signed by Miss Snodgrass and Margaret Root?

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I believe it is a part of the record.

Mr. COHEN. I should like to hear it all, because I may be disillusioned, and perhaps not. I might say that I gained so much strength and faith in my position from the two ladies who signed the letter.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, continuing with the second paragraph:

> Because of our interest in adult and vocational education, in the retraining of workers of all stages, we regret that the State is not embarking on a comprehensive program along these lines to meet the needs of its citizens and industries in the post war period. We commend the Legislature for following the example of Ohio in rejecting the proposals to base increments on "efficiency ratings." We pledge our continued activity for raising the much amended salary schedules to the point befitting the significance of a teacher's work, his training, and the position he should have in a community. We further pledge our full support for greater expansion of the State's educational program.

Mr. COHEN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I did not intend to indulge in this debate. I certainly want to compliment the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare. He has certainly delivered to this House a literary gem, but I wish to change the tempo just a moment and look at the figures.

I should like to ask the gentleman from Somerset if he will answer two or three questions on the figures.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Will the gentleman tell us again the total amount of the State subsidy for this biennium?

Mr. HARE. Estimated State appropriation under this bill this biennium, Mr. Brown, is one million eight hundred fifty-nine thousand two hundred thirty-five dollars.

Mr. BROWN. And for the next biennium, if you please?

Mr. HARE. I do not have that before me now. I have the State appropriation for 1944.

Mr. BROWN. Does the gentleman have it for the biennium beginning in 1947?

Mr. HARE. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Will the gentleman, if he can, if he has the figures broken down, give me an estimate of what the State subsidy will represent per pupil for the first class school districts?

Mr. HARE. On the basis of your present rate as reported by the Department of Education, an average of thirty-two to the class, it would represent a subsidy unit of six hundred eighty-four dollars, but based on the——

Mr. BROWN. No, the ratio per pupil in the first class school districts.

Mr. HARE. I have not broken that down. This is on the basis of past subsidy, of six hundred eighty-four dollars per unit.

Mr. BROWN. I have broken it down. Will the gentleman say I am correct that it is about forty dollars for the biennium per pupil? Would that be about right in the first class school districts?

Mr. HARE. If the gentleman says it is broken down, I would not question his arithmetic.

Mr. BROWN. My arithmetic may be poor, Mr. Speaker. I was going to ask the gentleman the next question if he could give me the ratio per pupil in the other school districts from this base upwards?

Mr. HARE. This represents about eighty-three dollars, I think, per child.

Mr. BROWN. Then if my figures are correct, the first class school districts will get somewhere between forty and forty-five dollars from the state subsidy?

Mr. HARE. If your figures are correct.

Mr. BROWN. Well, can the gentleman tell me what his figures might be if he has them, roughly.

Mr. HARE. No, I accept the gentleman's figures. I do not challenge them.

Mr. BROWN. Then we agree that the first class school districts per pupil will secure about one-half of what the other pupils in the state will receive.

Mr. HARE. I would say that is approximately correct and a good basis of comparison.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote against this bill. I am voting against it because I think this equalization plan is discriminatory and is entirely based on an erroneous foundation. The City of Pittsburgh is one of the largest contributors to this state subsidy, and the City of Pittsburgh is not interested in seeing any child in the State of Pennsylvania get less than that child is entitled to, but I cannot understand a program that continues to go on and on and on—and this is intended to go on and on, returning to the taxpayers that pay the greatest amount of taxes the least amount of subsidy. What ever may be said we start off on the wrong foundation, and I hope sooner or later will come back to it. For that reason I am voting "no" on this bill.

(Remarks of Mr. Grant expunged from record upon motion of Mr. Cohen.)

Mr. LEVY. Coming back to the seriousness of school legislation, Mr. Speaker, in the address of the gentleman from Somerset there was one question that annoyed me and I would like to have the opportunity to interrogate the gentleman on one question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, during the very, very fine address of the gentleman from Somerset he referred at least four times to the cost of education in the state as of the 1937 to 1939 biennium. I would like to ask, Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Somerset have any knowledge as to what the public assistance costs were at the time of the Earle Administration?

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I am trying to work under di. :ulty.

Mr. LEVY. I will explain that to the gentleman. The gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare, mentioned in his speech on three occasions that the appropriations made during the 1937-1939 biennium of Governor Earle was one-half the amount that is given in this bill, House Bill 568, and if I recall the figures correctly, in 1937 it was sixty-seven million dollars, and under House Bill 568 in this session the cost will run about one hundred thirty million dollars. Now, it is obvious that the reference to 1937 was made in answer to the objections made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, and I would then ask, and it is certainly relevant to the point, whether Mr. Hare has any idea what these relief costs were in 1937 and what they are today.

Mr. HARE. Is that a question, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. LEVY. That is a question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I am not very well acquainted with relief matters because I am not on that Committee. I am trying to be serious about this, Mr. Speaker, trying to get the relativity that the gentleman is trying to bring out.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I will repeat again. The gentleman from Somerset referred to the 1937-1939 appropriations for education, and he ma le quite a speech about the difference in the appropriations made in that biennium, which everyone knows was under the administration of Governor Earle, and Mr. Hare said very distinctly "Gentlemen, you can readily see this appropriation is almost twice the amount appropriated in 1937."

Now, of course it is quite obvious that what I want to bring out to the Members of the House is that the appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for relief needs under the Public Assistance Act skyrocketed to such a height that it was, with all the emergency taxes, an impossibility for the Earle administration to appropriate any amount over sixty-seven million dollars, and I want the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare, to realize that the appropriations today made to the Department of Public Assistance are puny compared to those made in 1937. He must remember too that we have gone through in this State four long war years where revenue has skyrocketed into the State Treasury.

I might also say that I have the utmost confidence in the sincerity of the gentleman from Somerset, because I served on the Education Committee with him the past few sessions, but let him remember that this is still not the appropriation intended in the bill as it originally left the House a week ago or two weeks ago; that we still contend that there is plenty of money in the Treasury of the Commonwealth that we have seen, as Mr. Andrews pointed out when the proposition was pushed in the Governor's office, he found a couple of million dollars more very readily, and I say to the gentleman from Somerset if they could have pushed it a little further we could probably have had the rest of the money that was appropriated in the original bill as it left the House.

(Remarks of Mr. Grant expunged from record upon motion of Mr. Cohen.)

Mr. O'BRIEN. I want to say, Mr. Speaker, that I must lodge my protest in connection with this House Bill 568 as it is amended. There is no question in anybody's mind that the original bill 568 as passed by the House is substantially superior to the bill in its present form.

I have in my experience with the Education Committee, session after session, seen Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, which are the first class school districts, discriminated against,—and they are year after year. From my information the total amount of this subsidy amounts to somewhere in the neighborhood of one hundred thirty million dollars. We in Philadelphia contribute at least twenty per cent of that money, and in return we get less than four per cent in connection with this subsidy.

It seemed awful strange to me that we would have one Member from Philadelphia who co-sponsored this bill, and on the strength of the statement of the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare, he said as far as reductions were concerned, Mr. Lee had joined in and permitted such a situation.

I have been an advocate, which most of you know, as far as my Committee activities are concerned, of a minimum salary to all teachers regardless of what class they were in, and I proposed an amendment providing a minimum of eighteen hundred dollars and thirty-two hundred dollars maximum, and those amendments were defeated. Now, we in Philadelphia have attempted to bring it up from seven hundred dollars to eight hundred dollars, and now we find that in the Senate they have cut the subsidy to about six hundred dollars. I feel that I would be remiss if I did not call attention to the fact that Philadelphia is getting a mere pittance in return for contributing the greatest portion of the money.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, in order to keep the record clear, I am willing that this bill be the evidence of our faith in it. I am certain time will prove that this has been a forward step. Philadelphia gets under this bill one million five hundred eighty-four thousand dollars increased grant,—a mere pittance.

As we vote on this bill may I repeat to you one thought. When the Father of Education stood in the Hall of the Assembly and the Assembly was then held in Lancaster, he closed his speech, as I told you before, with words that should be engraven in the hearts of all men:

> Gentlemen of the House, when you come to vote on this question, take lofty ground, look beyond the narrow sphere of time in which you presently live, and so cast your vote that the blessings of education will be guaranteed to the poorest child of the poorest inhabitant of your mountain top so that he too may be prepared to act well his part in a world of free men, to the end that we may lay the broad foundation of knowledge that will go on increasing through eternity.

On the question recurring,

Will the House Concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. MODELL filed the following reason for his vote on House Bill No. 568:

To voice my protest I shall vote against the motion to concur in these amendments by the Senate to House Bill 568.

I do so to express my disappointment in the action of the Senate.

REMARKS EXPUNGED FROM RECORD

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, we have just heard probably one of the greatest debates that it has been my privilege, at least, to have heard in this House in my five terms here.

I think that I personally would not like to have the record be as it now stands, and I feel that most of the Members probably agree with me.

For that reason, Mr. Speaker, I move that the remarks of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Grant, relative to House Bill 568 be expunged from the record.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SOLLENBERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Committee on Education I certainly do want to thank the members of my Committee who worked so diligently and cooperated so well, and the Members of the House for their vote.

You will find that this bill has become complicated because of amendments, so we briefed the bill for the Members, which brief will be sent to their homes so that they can explain the bill when they are asked by the people of their district.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 762, as follows:

An Act to further amend sections six hundred seventeen and six hundred twenty-one and to amend sections six hundred eighteen six hundred nineteen and six hundred twenty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" by making provision for the erection construction maintenance and operation of county joint county and county and municipal contagious disease hospitals and for the erection of buildings wings and units at general hospitals and for the payment of the same out of county funds including the cost of the care and treatment of indigent and part-pay patients

Section 1 Section six hundred seventeen of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" as amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-three (P L 400) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 617 Contagious Disease Hospital or Building Wing or Unit Whenever in the opinion of the board of commissioners of any county or the boards of commissioners of two or more counties a hospital for the care and treatment of contagious diseases appears to be necessary or advisable the board of commissioners of the county or the boards of commissioners of two or more counties jointly may either [locate] erect construct and equip such a hospital on the grounds of the county [poor-farm] institution district of any of the counties joining or may purchase a suitable [location] site for such purpose in some other locality In lieu of erecting and constructing a separate contagious disease hospital the board of commissioners of a county or the boards of commissioners of two or more counties jointly may enter into an agreement with a general non-sectarian nonprofit hospital or hopitals within the county or within any of such counties or any adjoining county and may appropriate county moneys to such hospital or hohpitals for the erection construction and equipment of a building or wing or unit for the care isolation and treatment of contagious disease cases In any such contagious disease hospital or building wing or unit provision shall be made for the care and treatment of indigent persons and of persons who are able to pay for their care and treatment in whole or in part

The county commissioners may in like manner join in establishing maintaining equipping and operating a contagious disease hospital with any municipality within the county

Section 2 Sections six hundred eighteen six hundred nineteen and six hundred twenty of said act are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 618 Plans and Specifications Approval Construction Plans and specifications [may be prepared] for [such] any county or joint county hospital or building wing or unit at a general hospital shall be prepared by the board or boards of commissioners or at their instance or by the general hospital with which an agreement has been made as the case may be which plans and specifications must be submitted to the Secretary of Health of the Commonwealth The cost of the preparation of such plans shall be paid by the county or counties so joining Upon the approval of said plans and specifications by the Secretary of Health of the Commonwealth [the said] any county or joint county contagious disease hospital may be constructed and equipped in the same manner that any other county buildings are constructed and equipped and in the case of a building wing or unit at a general hospital the same shall be constructed and equipped by the authorities in charge of the general hospital as may be provided in the agreement with the county or counties joining But in either event [The] the expense and cost of such erection construction and equipment and the cost of the site if any shall be paid by the board or boards of commissioners out of county funds

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative. the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration Senate Bill No. 719, as follows:

An Act to reenact and further amend the title and the act approved the twenty-ninth day of September one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight (P. L. 53) entitled as amended "An act relating to institutions of counties cities wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions for the care maintenance and treatment of mental patents providing for the transfer of such institutions to the Commonwealth providing for the management and operation or closing and abandonment thereof and the maintenance of mental patients therein including the collection of maintenance in certain cases providing for the retransfer of certain property to counties cities wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions under certain circumstances conferring and imposing upon the Governor the Department of Welfare the courts of common pleas and counties cities wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions certain powers and duties prohibiting cities counties wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions from maintaining and operating institutions in whole or in part for the care and treatment of mental patients and repealing inconsistent laws" providing for the transfer to the Commonwealth of all grounds lands buildings and personal property used for the care and maintenance of indigent persons in conjunction with institutions for the care of mental patients heretofore transferred to the Commonwealth and for payment therefor by the Commonwealth to the political subdivisions and further regulating the procedure relating to property of such institutions abandoned by the Commonwealth and to institutions closed

Section 1 The title and all of the sections of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of September one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight (P. L. 53) entitled as amended "An act relating to institutions of counties cities wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions for the care maintenance and treatment of mental patients providing for the transfer of such institutions to the Commonwealth providing for the management and operation or closing and abandonment thereof and the maintenance of mental patients therein including the collection of maintenance in certain cases providing for the retransfer of certain property to counties cities wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions under certain circumstances conferring and imposing upon the Governor the Department of Welfare the courts of common pleas and counties cities wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions certain powers and duties prohibiting cities counties wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions from maintaining and operating institutions in whole or in part for the care and treatment of mental patients and repealing inconsistent laws" as reenacted and amended by the act approved the nineteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 262) are hereby further reenacted and amended to read as follows

An Act relating to institutions of counties cities wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions for the care maintenance and treatment of mental patients providing for the transfer [of such institutions] to the Commonwealth for the care maintenance and treatment of mental patients of such institutions and all grounds lands buildings and personal property of such political subdivisions used for the care and maintenance of indigent persons connected with such mental institutions providing for the management and operation or closing and abandonment thereof and the maintenance of mental patients therein including the collection of maintenance in certain cases providing for the retransfer of certain property to counties cities wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions under certain circumstances conferring and imposing upon the Governor the Department of Welfare the courts of common pleas and counties cities wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions certain powers and duties prohibiting cities counties wards boroughs townships institution districts and other political subdivisions from maintaining and operating institutions in whole or in part for the care and treatment of mental patients and repealing inconsistent laws

Whereas Experience has proven that the care and maintenance of indigent mentally ill persons mental defectives and epileptics should be centralized in the State Government in order to insure their proper and uniform care maintenance custody safety and welfare and

Whereas Complete care for such persons in institutions operated exclusively by the State Government will effect great economics for municipal subdivisions

Section 1 All buildings acquired or erected by any county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision for the care maintenance and treatment of mental patients the personal property within such buildings or incidental thereto and any and all other grounds and lands connected therewith or annexed thereto are hereby transferred to and vested in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania regardless of whether or not such property was used solely for mental patients or in common with indigent persons [except that] Provided That where any such buildings for mental patients are operated in conjunction with buildings dedicated to the care and maintenance of indigent persons who are not mental patients the buildings used for the care of such persons the personal property within such buildings or incidental thereto the land actually occupied by such buildings and the lands or yards presently set apart for the use of the indigent persons cared for in such buildings and the lands necessary for ingress and egress thereto and therefrom [shall not be deemed to be] are also hereby transferred to and vested in the Commonwealth upon compliance with the provisions set forth in sub-section (b) of section 2 of this act [but shall remain vested in the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivisions as theretofore]

Where any lands and property so transferred are presently used by any county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision as a farm and woodlands in connection with buildings dedicated to the care and maintenance of indigent persons who are not mental patients [the Department of Welfare of the Commonwealth with the approval of the Governor shall set apart and reconvey to the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision through deed executed by the Secretary of Property and Supplies of the Commonwealth so much of such ground as the ratio of indigent persons bears to the total patient population of the institution as shall be determined by the Department of Welware of the Commonwealth The metes and bounds of the lands so to be conveyed shall be determined by agreement between the Department of Welfare of the Commonwealth and the authorities of the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision In case the Department of Welfare of the Commonwealth and the authorities of the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision cannot agree as to the metes and bounds of the lands so to be conveyed to the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision the matter shall be laid before the court of common pleas of the county where the lands are located by petition of either the Secretary of Welfare of the Commonwealth or the authorities in charge of the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision which court after hearing all parties in interest on such notice as it shall direct shall determine the metes and bounds of the lands which shall be conveyed to the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision and shall enter an order accordingly The action of the court shall be final] said lands and property are also hereby transferred to and vested in the Commonwealth

Where auxiliary structures and facilities furnishing light heat power water laundry kitchen sewage treatment services and coal supply are so transferred to the Commonwealth which were theretofore used in common for the buildings devoted to mental patients and also the buildings devoted to indigent persons [the Commonwealth shall thereafter continue to furnish the proper county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision with such services at the actual cost thereof to the extent the same may hereafter be requested by the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision] such auxiliary structures facilities services and supplies shall remain vested in the Commonwealth Provided however that from and after the transfer to the Commonwealth of all grounds lands buildings and personal property used for the care and maintenance of indigent persons the Commonwealth shall be relieved from all obligation to furnish any institution district with such services

Any property so transferred to and vested in the Commonwealth shall if found suitable in accordance with this act be thereafter used as a State mental hospital but if such property shall [within one year thereafter] be found unsuitable for such purpose or shall [within one year after transfer to and use by the Commonwealth as a State mental hospital] be thereafter abandoned by the Commonwealth as such a hospital before substantial improvements thereto have been made then in either event such building lands and personal property so transferred to the Commonwealth shall absolutely revert to and vest in the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision from which transferred and the Commonwealth shall have no further claim or title thereto

In the event that any personal property originally transferred to the Commonwealth cannot be returned to the political subdivisions from which transferred other personal property of value equivanent to that which was originally transferred to the Commonwealth may be returned by the Commonwealth to such political subdivision or the value of the personal property originally transferred to the Commonwealth at the date of return may be paid by the Commonwealth to such political subdivisions from funds appropriated to the Department of Welfare for such purpose

[The words "substantial improvements" as used in this section shall be construed to mean capital investments involving an expenditure of at least two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000)]

Section 2 (a) It shall be unlawful hereafter for any county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision to operate or maintain in whole or in part any existing institution for the care of mental patients or thereafter to begin to operate or manage any institution in whole or in part for this purpose Provided however that the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision having charge of any such existing institution shall continue to operate and manage the same under existing laws until the Department of Welfare of the Commonwealth with the approval of the Governor formally takes over the management and operation of such institution or formally closes such institution in the manner hereinafter prescribed in this act And provided further That the authorities of general hospitals may continue to maintain or hereafter may set apart establish and maintain beds wards or departments for the temporary care of mental patients under licensure by the Department of Welfare as now provided by law

(b) Any county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision presently operating or maintaining in whole or in part any existing institutions for the care and maintenance of indigent persons shall cease to operate and shall vacate such institutions and forthwith surrender all such institutions to the Commonwealth but not later than the thirtieth day of November one thousand nine hundred forty-seven Provided however That the transfer of title and the vacating of any of such institutions shall not be made until the first notice shall have been given by the Commonwealth to the political subdivision that owns such institution that the Commonwealth elects to purchase such institution and second that the Commonwealth and such political subdivision have agreed on the purchase price and that the purchase price therefore has been paid in full so as to enable the political subdivision to enter into contracts for the building or purchase of land and suitable building or buildings for the care of its indigents and third that possession of such institution shall not be given to the Commonwealth until such time as it may be mutually agreed to by the Commonwealth and such political subdivision

Section 3 The Department of Welfare shall promptly make an investigation and survey of the institutions hereby transferred to the Commonwealth for the purpose of determining (1) which of the institutions are necessary having regard to the number of persons requiring care and treatment because of mental illness and the geographic location and capacity of other such mental hospitals and (2) which of the institutions having regard to existing facilities may be operated by the Commonwealth in such a manner as to insure the proper maintenance custody safety and welfare of mental patients Upon the completion of its investigation and survey the Department of Welfare shall submit to the Governor a report setting forth its findings and recommendations with respect to the institutions deemed necessary and suitable for the care maintenance and treatment of mental patients and the institutions deemed unnecessary or unsuitable for this purpose Upon receiving the report of the Department of Welfare the Governor shall from time to time but not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-one having regard to the standards of necessity and suitability hereinbefore set out in this section determine which of the institutions shall be managed and operated by the Commonwealth as State mental hospitals and which institutions if any shall be closed Provided however That the Governor shall direct the State Department of Welfare to take over the management and operation of any such institution which is operated and managed by any city of the first class as soon as practicable after the effective date of this act and before the completion of the investigation and survey hereinbefore required in this section Before the management and operation of any institution is taken over by the Department of Welfare the Governor shall issue his proclamation setting forth the date on which the Department of Welfare will take over the management and operation of the institution In the event it shall be determined that a particular institution is to be closed the Governor shall issue a proclamation setting forth the date on which such institution will be closed The original of any such proclamation shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and a copy thereof shall be furnished the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision authorities having charge of such institution

Section 4 Each institution subject to this act which the Governor shall direct the Depatment of Welfare to operate and manage shall be operated and managed by such department as a State mental hospital in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth relating to such hospitals The Department of Welfare in managing and operating any such institution shall have all the powers and perform all the duties vested in and imposed upon boards of trustees of State mental hospitals by the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) and its amendments designated as The Administrative Code of one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine All mental patients in any such institution at the time the management and operation thereof is assumed by the Department of Welfare shall have the same status as if originally committed or submitted to a State mental hospital Commitments may be made to any such institution mental patients may be detained maintained and cared for therein and transfers may be made therefrom and thereto in the same manner and in accordance with laws applying to other State mental hospitals The Department of Welfare shall have power to designate the counties of the Commonwealth from which commitments may be made to any such institution

Each institution acquired and operated by the Commonwealth as a State mental hospital under the provisions of this act shall be known as the .....State (descriptive name of political subdivision in which institution is located) hospital for example the Philadelphia Hospital for Mental Diseases shall be known as the Philadelphia State Hospital

Section 5 When the Commonwealth through the Department of Welfare assumes the control and management of any institution subject to this act the terms of all officers and employes and the local management of such institution shall cease and terminate The officers and employes of any such institution shall thereupon become employes of the Commonwealth subject to removal by the Secretary of Welfare

Section 6 In the event it shall be determined that any institution subject to this act shall be closed [the Department of Welfare shall take charge of such institution and] the terms of all officers and employes and the local management of such institution shall cease and terminate [The officers and employes of such institution shall thereupon become the employes of the Commonwealth subject to removal by the Secretary of Welfare] when their services are no longer required No new patients shall be admitted to any such institution after the date specified for its closing The Department of Welfare shall as soon as practicable transfer the patients in such institution to any other State mental hospital including any institution transferred to and being operated by the Commonwealth under this act as a State mental institution As far as practicable the department shall transfer such patients to such State mental hospital nearest to the locality in which the institution to be closed is located After the patients in such institution are transferred therefrom the Department of Welfare shall with the approval of the Governor turn the institution and its grounds over to the Department of Property and Supplies for use for any other State purpose as may be deemed necessary and advisable by the Governor unless such institution under the provisions of section one of this act would revert to a county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision in which event such institution shall be turned over to the proper authorities thereof and shall thereafter be used for such purposes not inconsistent with this act as the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision may determine

Section 7 (a) After the effective date of this act and until the management and operation of a particular institution is formally assumed by the Department of Welfare or until a particular institution is closed under the provisions of this act but not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-one the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision engaged in the operation and management of that institution shall continue to bear the expense of administering and operating the institution and the Commonwealth shall contribute towards the expense of indigent patients therein to the same extent and in the same manner as pertained under existing laws on the effective date of this act

(b) The Department of Welfare shall forthwith but not later than the thirtieth day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-seven make an investigation and survey of the property hereby transferred to the Commonwealth for the purpose of determining its most effective use in the mental hospital program of the Commonwealth what expenditures if any must be made in order to adapt or use the structures or facilities to the greatest advantage and otherwise absorb promptly and effectively the property hereby transferred in connection with the related State-owned mental hospital

Section 8 (a) All obligations incurred by reason of the erection acquisition or maintenance of a mental institution or an institution for the care and maintenance of indigent persons who are not mental patients by the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision which are outstanding on the date that the Commonwealth shall take over the operation and management of such institution or shall order such institution closed shall remain the obligations of such county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision and shall be paid in the same manner as though said operation and management still remained in said county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision For the payment of such obligations the proper authorities of such county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision shall continue to have the power to levy and collect taxes as if control and management of the institution were still vested in such county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision

(b) All amounts due any county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision for the care of any mental patient in any institution transferred to the Commonwealth by this act that have accrued and remain unpaid on the date that the Commonwealth shall take over the operation and management of such institution or the date such institution is closed may be collected by the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision in the same manner as if the control and management of the institution were still vested in such county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision Provided however That where there is a claim against the estate of any such mental patient both on behalf of the Commonwealth and on behalf of any county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision and there is not sufficient in the estate to pay the claim in full the same shall be paid pro rata to the Commonwealth and the county city ward borough township institution district or other political subdivision in the proportion of the amount of maintenance legally recoverable by each

Section 8.1 Upon certificate by the Department of Welfare approved by the Governor that any ground land buildings or personal property are necessary for the use of the Commonwealth for the purposes of a mental hospital the Department of Property and Supplies of the Commonwealth shall have the authority and its duty shall be to appraise and fix the fair value of all grounds lands buildings and personal property transferred by this act and used for the care and maintenance of indigent persons or so much thereof as may be required by the Commonwealth for such purpose in accordance with the provisions set forth in sub-section (b) of section 2 of this act political subdivision is not satisfied with the fair value so fixed the price to be paid shall be fixed in the same manner as provided in the Administrative Code of one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine as in the case of the condemnation of private property taken for public use Upon certification to the State Treasurer payment for all or any part of such property acquired by the Commonwealth under this act shall be made by the Commonwealth to the proper political subdivisions from funds appropriated to the Department of Property and Supplies for such purpose upon delivery by the proper political subdivisions to the Commonwealth of good and sufficient deeds of conveyance or other evidences of title

Section 9 The following acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed

The act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven (P. L. 83) entitled "An act to provide for the maintenance care and treatment of the indigent insane in county and local institutions as amended

The act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred nine (P. L. 535) entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for the maintenance care and treatment of the indigent insane in county and local institutions' approved May twenty-five one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven increasing the weekly sum therein authorized to be paid from one dollar and fifty cents to two dollars"

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 10 Section nine of this act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one and in all other respects this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state it.

Mr. COHEN. During the night's proceedings my calendar disappeared for a considerable time, and so did I. May I refer to page twenty-eight of the calendar and ask what happened to Senate Bill 766, Printer's No. 594?

The SPEAKER. That bill was passed finally.

Mr. COHEN. And on page twenty-seven of the calendar, Senate Bill 638, Printer's No. 598?

The SPEAKER. All the bills on that page were passed finally.

Mr. COHEN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, that is all.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGES

AMENDED HOUSE BILLS RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 854.

An Act to further amend section two hundred and two of and to add section four hundred and fifty-three to the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant-Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" creating a departmental administrative board in the Department of Public Instruction known as State Real Estate Commission and fixing qualifications and compensation of members

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 9, line 17, by striking out the following: "from a list of not more than ten persons qualified as aforesaid recommended by the Pennsylvania Real Estate Association in case of the failure of said association to submit such a list to the Governor he shall appoint any person qualified as aforesaid without restriction"; also page 10, line 20, by striking out "twenty-five ($25)" and inserting in lieu thereof "fifteen dollars ($15)".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. REYNOLDS and McNALLY.

RESOLUTION No. 66.

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1945.

Many of the employes of the State penal and correctional institutions are obliged to work on holidays which is a hardship in many respects, yet the hardship is borne by such employes in good grace.

However, it has been the custom not to give these employes other days off which would in part compensate for the holidays they are required to work; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Department of Welfare shall hereafter provide that all employes of State penal and correctional institutions, required to work on holidays, shall within the week following such holiday, be given a day off in its stead, without diminution of salary or compensation, as these employes stand high in their loyalty and devotion to their tasks and duties; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House transmit a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of Welfare of this Commonwealth.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. REIDENBACH, O'NEILL and MUNLEY.

RESOLUTION No. 67.

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1945.

War—with its urgent and inexhaustible demands—has reached nearly everyone. First, the demand for men—for soldiers, sailors, marines, aviators and others—demands that were most imperative!

Then there were demands for women in auxiliary capacities, and finally the most persistent and evident demands for nurses—nurses and more nurses, until the remaining nurses not called into the services were insufficient to continue the safe operation of the hospitals at home. During this period, the hospitals made sincere appeals for volunteers to help in the hospital work. Volunteers were asked to help, if even only for an hour or so. This appeal was understood and many volunteered their services. There were business, professional and industrial workers who volunteered their services. They worked in hospital wards; nights, Saturdays and Sundays. There were many wives, mothers and relatives of members in the armed forces who served in the mornings and evenings during week-days and every free hour they could spare. There were some volunteer aides who worked full days through months on end; and in addition to giving their time without compensation, they also bought their own uniforms. They were the enthusiastic, willing, efficient, unselfish and patriotic women who devoted their spare time and efforts to relieve nurses to care for our wounded and sick veterans.

Among this group of loyal and devoted women were the resident volunteer nurse aides of the Scranton State, the Hahnemann, Moses Taylor, West Side, Mercy and St. Mary's Hospitals in Scranton and the Taylor Hospital at Taylor, the Midvalley at Oliphant and St. Joseph's Hospital at Carbondale.

However, all of this volunteer work could never have been done except for the inspiration and the indefatigable efforts of Mrs. Jas. A. Linen, Jr., who was Chairman of the Scranton Registered Nurses Aid Corps; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby pay tribute to the loyal devotion of all the members of the Registered Nurses Aid Corps; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives send a copy of this resolution to each of the above named hospitals and to Mrs. Jas. A. Linen, Jr.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LICHTENWALTER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, with reference to the adjournment announcement the Senate has not acted upon the concurrent resolution, in fact it has not reached the Senate. Therefore we here in the House decided that we, rather than recess, would adjourn until Monday, so that the employees would be paid, and that you men who have stuck so faithfully and have stood by will be able to receive your mileage checks for next week.

I move, you, Mr. Speaker, that this House do now adjourn——

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BROWN. Before a motion to adjourn until Monday is put, would it not be better to rescind our action to adjourn sine die on Saturday at eleven thirty p. m.?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, the sine die resolution has no effect until it has been acted upon by both Houses.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, May 7, 1945, at 10 a.m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 7:10 a. m.) the House adjourned.

Session 1945. 136th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 29. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 7, 1945. No. 59.

SENATE

MONDAY, May 7, 1945.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern War Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain prayer was delivered by the Senator from Butler, Mr. CARR.

Our Father who art in Heaven, we bow before Thy Throne of Grace this morning, coming unto Thee and confessing that we have not done those things which always please Thee nor those things which are best for us. For this we ask Thy forgiveness and we ask that peace rest upon our nation this day, as under Thy guiding hand we have come to the time when some of our enemies have confessed their defeat. May it be, oh God, that Thou will show proof to them that their defeat was not because of the force of our arms but because of the injustice of their cause.

Guard and be with us in our deliberations this day; guide us to do those things which are acceptable unto Thee and for the good of our people. Help us, our Father, that we might at all times and in all places follow Thy guidance and Thy leadership and that from this time on we may stand in Thy sight as those who are trying to please Thee, oh God.

We ask this in the name of our Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HEYBURN and Mr. FARRELL, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise on a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will state his point of information.

Mr. HALUSKA. Can the Chair tell me what day this is in the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Haluska, it is Monday, May 7, 1945.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I was here on Saturday, May 5, and sat in my seat throughout the entire night. I was in my seat when a motion was made by the gentleman from Delaware that the Senate recess for ten minutes, the motion was adopted, and I was one of the few last men left here, and then the Clerk announced over the microphone that the session would recess until ten o'clock Monday morning. Now I come back and find out that we have adjourned and started a new day.

My point is, Mr. President, when did we adjourn, who made the motion, who seconded the motion, and until what hour did we adjourn?

The PRESIDENT. In answer to the question of the gentleman from Cambria, the Chair has consulted the records and the records show that Senator Heyburn moved, seconded by Senator Dent, that the Senate adjourn until Monday, May 7, 1945, at ten o'clock a. m.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I must say I resent a great deal the way things are going on here. Although we are about to adjourn sine die, I have no intention of antagonizing anybody, but I hope that in future sessions we respect each other more than we have throughout the last few hours of this session.

I witnessed here Saturday night an important bill being passed, the unemployment compensation bill, at a time when most of my colleagues in the Senate were out, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, informed the reading clerk that it had been agreed that the vote should be 31 to 18, despite the fact that I was standing here hollering "no." That is an important bill, the unemployment compensation bill, and I am sure many of my colleagues had no desire of being recorded as voting "no", especially en bloc. Where the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, got his information I do not know, but how could one man notify the reading clerk that it was agreed to record this vote 31 to 18? I then spoke to my colleague from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, and he said he had no agreement.

I am trying in every way I know how to vote right for the people back home. I have sat in my seat throughout the entire session, I have not missed an hour, and then if I should go home and then later be found recorded as voting against an important bill of this kind, it certainly is not fair. I want no one to pledge my vote and if there is any deal made I want to have knowledge of it. I must answer to my constituents. I do not live in a city where they have machine politics. The people back home elected me to come here and make a record, and that is what I am going to do; it may be good or bad but it is my record, but if someone else votes for me it is not my record.

Coming back to this motion, I shall not argue but I sat here in the Senate until the wee hours Sunday morning, when a motion was made that the Senate recess for ten minutes. I heard the gentleman from Delaware say that, Mr. President, he stated it here, and he said we must recess because we were not ready to adjourn, and immediately after that, Mr. President, the Clerk made an announcement that we should recess until ten o'clock Monday morning. I went back to my locker, picked up my coat and hat and nonchalantly walked through the hall. I am informed that after I went away, after spending the entire night here, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, and the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn, re-convened the session and made a motion that the Senate should adjourn. I do not think that is fair; I do not think it is fair at all. We should be informed. You had no quorum here, I am sure. That is poor business, it is a poor way to run our Legislature. and I hope it will not happen again.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order to explain to my colleague from Cambria that nothing was done that might have been an injustice to his people back home, let me explain that during the last days of any legislative session, in which I have had the pleasure of serving, many things have been done that are not done in an ordinary session. The Senate tried to get its work done. Some of us did not agree with the time fixed for adjournment but, however, when the die was cast that Saturday would be the last day, we tried to get our work completed.

We went over to the House early Sunday morning and met with the Leaders of the House. We tried to explain to the House that the proper thing to do was not to have another legislative day but that we should continue in recess, and we had agreed upon that, to the best of my knowledge, and we reported back to the Senate the agreement on the part of the House that there should be a ten minute recess; it was already the Sabbath day. We made a motion that the Senate recess, which was adopted, and as the men started to leave the Senate Chamber we received a message from the House that the House in partial revolt had forced the House to recede from that position and had adjourned until ten o'clock Monday morning. There was nothing else for the Senate to do, in fairness to the members. The gentleman from Delaware discussed the matter with me and we together discussed it with the members of the Senate who were present at the time.

I do not know how many members of the Senate were within the Halls of the Senate but I do know that other members were in the Senate chamber or in the rest rooms in the rear, they were around here somewhere, and we re-convened after the ten minute recess, which was perfectly legal and proper procedure, and adjourned until today. That is the whole story. There was nothing done underhandedly and there was nothing done which would hurt anybody; we only tried to expedite matters to the best of our ability.

COLONEL JOHN S. RICE PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. At this time the Chair would like to present to the Senate a former Floor Leader, a gentleman who has been in charge of the Air Transport Command for over a year and who has just returned to this country. Colonel John S. Rice.

COLONEL RICE. Mr. President and gentlemen, it is a pleasure to be here again. I recognize many of my old friends in the Senate, on both sides.

It is just three years ago today that I went on active duty with the Air Corps. This is the first time I have been in Harrisburg since then. I was passing through today on my way back to my station, which is Manchester, New Hampshire, and I took this opportunity of coming up and greeting my old friends again. I have covered a lot of territory in the past several years but none of it has looked as good as Pennsylvania. Thank you.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE HOUSE THAT THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

Mr. HEYBURN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 7, 1945.

Resolved, That a committee of three Senators be appointed to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate is now ready to adjourn sine die.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY GOVERNOR THAT THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

Mr. HEYBURN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 7, 1945.

Resolved, That a committee of three members of the Senate be appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, and inform him that the Senate is now ready to adjourn sine die, and inquire if he has any further communications to make.

RESOLUTION URGING THAT THIRD MEMBER OF LIQUOR BOARD BE APPOINTED FROM MINORITY PARTY

Messrs. DENT and McGINNIS offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, May 7, 1945.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board was created by the Legislature with an original and continuing membership of three members, and

Whereas, The management of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control system in Pennsylvania has been the subject of much private and public criticism, and

Whereas, The main cause of the criticism can be traced directly to the negligence and disobedience on the part of ex-Governor James in failing to appoint the third member to the Commission, and due to the continuation of this policy on the part of the present administration, and

Whereas, It requires two members to constitute a quorum, and by the failure to appoint a third member causes in effect a bad administrative situation in that all orders must be unanimous, therefore a minority position cannot be formulated, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Governor of the Commonwealth be respectfully petitioned by the Senate of Pennsylvania to forthwith name a third member to the Liquor Control Board, and in so doing follow precedent by naming a member of the minority party.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, as well as every other member of this Senate, I realize that it was the purpose of this administration, and of all of us, to make this session a short session on account of the war. For that reason I think there are many subjects that should have been brought up at this session that were not brought up.

One of the subjects that I think we ought to consider between now and the next session is the liquor situation, or the handling of liquor, by the Liquor Control Board in this state.

I was a delegate to Chicago in 1932 when we nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt. I well remember that the Harding, Coolidge and Hoover administrations straddled the liquor question, they leaned over backwards to the drys, but when we nominated Roosevelt he flew to Chicago the next morning and addressed the delegates and he had not spoken more than five minutes when he said "from this day on prohibition is doomed in the United States", and we had our beer back in six weeks after he first went in office and we had our liquor back the same year.

In this state, during the James administration, the first thing Governor James did was to take liquor out of the windows of the Liquor Stores, which was a bow or a leaning backwards to the drys. I think the drys should be treated fairly, but this bill was passed by a majority, the bill was passed legally, and the wets, if you want to call them that, have a right to have the law administered in a proper way.

The James and the Martin administrations, I do not think they have ever had the membership of the Liquor Control Board filled at one time; the board has consisted of only two members, which is an amazing thing. I can not see the purpose of it. It does not make a good board.

At the present time the liquor situation in Pennsylvania is not handled nearly as good as it is in Ohio, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Washington or even Ohio, which has a liquor control board. They have better liquor on the shelves, they have better liquor in public places than they have in this state, and I feel that perhaps there is something wrong with the act.

I have heard one reason that we do not have as much and as good liquor in Pennsylvania as they do in other states is that the distillers can get their money quicker from the other states than they can from Pennsylvania; in other words, that the red tape in getting vouchers through and paid is so slow in this state that the distillers do not like to sell to the state of Pennsylvania because they can sell to other states and get their money quicker.

I hope between now and the next session our Governor will fill the vacancy existing on the Liquor Control Board. I know the present members of the Liquor Control Board and I am sure they are honest and sincere and that they are trying to do a good job, but there ought to be another member on that board. Although it is not required that there be a minority member of the board, I do think that is the proper thing to do, to have a minority member appointed on that board by our Governor.

I hope every member here will make a study and look into this liquor situation. I know this, that the state of Pennsylvania is losing millions of dollars in cases where men go into other states and haul liquor back into Pennsylvania without paying the state tax. The state of Pennsylvania ought to get the benefit of that tax instead of paying indirectly to other states the tax that should come to Pennsylvania.

If the Liquor Board is not acting properly or if the Act needs to be amended, that should be done.

Mr. HEYBURN. Before making a motion, Mr. President, I should like to say just a few words in answer to the criticism of my good friend from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis.

As I listened to his speech he appeared to have two complaints against the board, first the quantity of liquor in the stores and, second, he complained that the board was so slow in paying their bills, that is the reason we do not have what he said is a sufficient supply of liquor in the state stores.

I have some figures here, Mr. President, which I shall offer in evidence, which will prove the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, is wrong on both counts. Here are the figures, Mr. President, and they can not be disputed:

In 1939 in the liquor stores in Pennsylvania there were sold 61,947,206 bottles—for the purposes of brevity I will use just round figures. In 1940 there were sold 66,000,000 bottles of liquor. Bear in mind, Mr. President, that was at a time when there was plenty of liquor and it could be bought any place in quantity, and that year the Pennsylvania liquor stores sold 66,000,000 bottles of liquor.

Then with war prosperity sales increased, until the abnormally high year of 1942, when there were 87,000,000 bottles of liquor sold. That was when everybody had lots of money, and purchases were high.

Here is further evidence, Mr. President, that shows Senator McGinnis is wrong. In 1944 there were sold 67,300,000 bottles. Remember that in 1939, when liquor could be bought by the carload and they were trying to sell it in any quantity, we sold 61,000,000 bottles and yet in 1944 we sold 67,000,000. During the period when the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, said no liquor was available in Pennsylvania, we sold six million more than we did in 1939.

I do not know that I need to offer any evidence aside from that, Mr. President, except that the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis said that the board was slow in making payments. Here are some figures on the charge of laxity in that respect under the administrations of Governor James and Governor Martin.

Since Governor James took office, Mr. President, the Liquor Control Board has purchased $529,000,000 worth of liquor and they earned in discounts $6,359,510.54 and, Mr. President, you do not earn discounts unless you pay your bills on time—anybody knows that.

During all that period, with $529,000,000 worth of merchandise purchased, the Liquor Control Board only lost in discounts $25,000—think of it, $25,000 in discounts lost because of some dispute over the quantity of merchandise or the quality, in which event the discount period passed. They only lost $25,000, excepting $114,000 in commissions that were lost in 1941 because the Minority Party in the House, which was in control of the House at that time, held up the tax anticipation notes; there was a period of time there, Mr. President, when tax anticipation notes could not be sold and discounts could not be taken.

That is the whole story, Mr. President. These figures I have given to the Senate can not be disputed.

RESOLUTION LAID ON TABLE

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I have not had opportunity to read the resolution, and neither have the other members of the Senate, and therefore I move that the resolution be laid on the table.

Mr. KEPHART. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think the Majority Leader has not grasped the full contents of the resolution. The resolution only aims at the present situation, one that has been in existence since the James Administration, and that is that the board, legally created by the General Assembly to have a continuing membership of three members, has operated with only two members.

In the resolution, if the gentleman from Delaware will read it, we make no criticism and no direct charges other than the fact that under the present system two members constitute a quorum and every rule, every regulation and every order must of necessity be by unanimous decision. This present set-up does not allow for a minority position on the part of any member of the board. If you had a proper membership you would have had a minority position on some of the orders that have been issued. Some of the orders we belive ought to have the Minority Party's position represented, because you have a minority position on every question dealing with liquor, which is one of the most controversial of all state businesses.

I am going to get into a quarrel with the figures the gentleman from Delaware has discussed, but I may say he claims there was $6,000,000 earned on business amounting to $529,000,000. We all know that is only about 54 per cent of the discount which could have been earned in that same period. The gentleman from Delaware said they only lost $25,000. If I may digress for a moment I would like to repeat a story told in the House this past week dealing with this same subject. A $25,000 loss may be insignificant in relationship to the total business that has been done, but it seems there is a story going around abount a man that was taken into Court for being the father of an illegitimate child and in his plea to the judge he said "Judge, you ought to forgive this sin because the baby is only a small one." There seems to be a difference of opinion about this claim that $25,000 is only a small insignificant amount to lose. You can not and should not lose one cent in this business. There can not be any possibility of loss where you have a business which operates a monopoly.

I am not going into any criticism of the membership of the board because I have none. I am very well acquainted with both members and I have absolutely no reason to say they are not performing their duties to the best of their ability.

When the Liquor Control Board was set up the Act provided that the board should consist of three members. Precedent has established that one member of such a board should be a member of the Minority Party, and we believe that the third member should be appointed to the board and that he should be a member of the Democratic Party. If we were to continue your practice, when we get control of the state, we could kick out the two Republican members of the board and appoint only members of the Democratic Party, but we believe the minority should be represented for the good of the Commonwealth. The only reason Governor James never added another member, and I believe the only reason Governor Martin has not added another member, is because they lacked the courage to name a Democratic member to the Liquor Control Board.

It does not mean anything to us whether you do or not, but it does mean that you are operating a bureau of the state government here without the legal requirements being lived up to.

You may say that a member might be absent from the board for five or six months or even a year, but how could you say in six years you have not found one member of the Democratic Party, with all its millions of registered Democrats, you have not been able to find one member suitable to serve upon this important governmental board.

We do not ask you to pass this resolution other than as a gentle reminder, a little prod, if you will, to the administration that something is wrong, they are not doing the right thing, the intent of the Legislature is being thwarted, they are not obeying the dictates of the Legislature as set up in a law upon the statute books, and we want them to live up to it. That is all we ask. We ask, if you can not see your way clear to nominate a Democrat, then nominate another good Republican, but above and beyond everything, you have not nominated a third member to this board, and that is all we ask.

And the question recurring
Will the Senate agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

SENATE BILL No. 560 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Bill No. 560, on concurrence in House amendments.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

SUGGESTING COOPERATION OF POST-WAR PLANNING COMMISSION IN ANTHRACITE SUBSIDENCE PROBLEMS

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. COLEMAN, COX and STEVENSON, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, May 7, 1945.

Whereas, A committee named by the General Assembly, after a thorough study of the Subsidence problem in the Anthracite area, made recommendations in the form of legislation which was introduced in the session of 1943 and failed of passage, and

Whereas, The same legislation was re-introduced by Senators Coleman, Cox and Stevenson in the session of 1945 and failed of passage, and

Whereas, This important question is one that can only be dealt with by a cooperative effort between the Federal Government and the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, This situation has caused untold anxiety to thousands of people living in the affected areas who look to their Government for redress, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Post War Planning Commission is hereby requested to set up the necessary agency within its jurisdiction to negotiate with the Federal Government and to formulate and create plans out of post war funds to be used for the elimination of this dangerous situation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. COLEMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President and members of the Senate, two nights ago I paid a very glowing and sincere tribute to the Minority Floor Leader for his rapid mental processes, his agile brain, his usual alertness, but this morning he let me down. In announcing the swearing in, as he thought, of the new State Treasurer he hesitated long enough in mentioning his name so that I felt a bit embarrassed. I thought that one of my Republican Colleagues would say "how did the gentleman vote." The gentleman from Westmoreland asked us to journey to the House, and when we got over to the House we learned that the swearing in ceremony was to be performed in the Finance Building. The fact that the genial Senator from Westmoreland has recently expended so much energy may have something to do with the difference in him. I believe, although our new State Treasurer's name is Black, that our good friend Senator Dent is still in the dark.

Mr. TAYLOR. I should like to straighten out the gentleman from Lackawanna, Senator Coleman. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, votes just like I do—he votes the straight ticket, and after the top name he does not notice any of the names.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. The day before yesterday, Mr. President, we witnessed a number of men rising in place and speaking kindly of the President pro tempore, the Majority Floor Leader, yours, and our Minority Floor Leader, and I think it might be fitting at this time for someone from this side of the Senate to say a few words on behalf of the employes of the Senate.

I want to say, Mr. President, throughout my tenure here I have never been treated any better by the employes, especially on the part of our Librarian. When I am back home frequently I find it necessary to keep in touch with Harrisburg to try to serve my constitutency and I have never yet requested anything of him that he did not write in answer within two or three days, so that the Librarian of this Senate has done a wonderful job, and I am sure he has shown me no special favors and that the same treatment must be accorded to others. We on this side of the Senate certainly are grateful for the services he has rendered.

That also goes for the boys back in our clubroom, our barber, the page boys. They have gone out of their way, I am sure, to be kind to those of us on this side of the Senate, and so I want to thank all the employes who work in and around the Senate for the fine services they have rendered.

PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS OF SENATE PROCEED TO HOUSE TO HEAR GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

A Committee on the part of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House of Representatives was ready for the reception of the President and Members of the Senate for the purpose of listening to the message by His Excellency the Governor, to the General Assembly.

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

The PRESIDENT. This being the day and hour fixed by concurrent resolution for the final adjournment and the hour of eleven-forty-five o'clock, a. m. having arrived, I hereby declare the 136th regular session of the Senate of Pennsylvania adjourned sine die.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, May 7, 1945

The House met at 10 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Ira T. Fiss) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Senator Jacob W. Carr offered the following prayer:

We bow before Thy throne of grace this morning, our Heavenly Father; we thank Thee that Thou hast permitted us life in a land where there is freedom. We thank Thee that so far Thou hast guided our nation along the way of history, and that Thou hast crowned our efforts with success.

Especially this morning, our Father, do we thank Thee that Thou hast brought us success at arms; that upon the battlefield of Europe our enemies are surrendering. We feel, oh God, that they have lost because theirs has been the cause of unrighteousness and the cause of injustice We feel oh God that we have won because those things for which we have been struggling have been those things which will best promote Thy will in this world.

Oh, our Father, we would confess that we have not always done those things which we ought to have done as Thy will for us. For this we bow in humble contrition before Thee, and ask for Thy forgiveness. We would ask our Heavenly Father that Thy peace may rest upon our deliberations this day and upon those things which we shall do, and that Thou wilt look with Grace upon our nation in the future of our life.

Grant these things as Thou seest our need in the name of our Christ. Amen.

Section 5 Section three hundred and one of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-three (P. L. 639) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 301 Contributions by Employers Experience Rating

(a) Each employer shall pay contribtuions equal to the following percentages of wages paid or payable by him or it with respect to employment occurring prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-two

(1) Nine-tenths per centum with respect to employment occurring during the calendar year 1936

(3) Two and seven-tenths per centum with respect to employment occurring during the calendar year 1937

(3) Two and sevent-tenths per centum with respect to employment occurring during the calendar years 1938 1939 1940 and 1941 [1942 and 1943]

[(4) A basic rate of two and seven-tenths per centum with respect to employment occurring during the calendar year 1944 and for each calendar year thereafter but the rate of contribution of each employer who has paid contributions under this act for at least four full calendar years whether prior or subsequent to the adoption of this amendment shall be subject to adjustment for each such calendar year beginning with employment occurring during the calendar year 1944 between a minimum rate of one per centum and a maximum rate of two and seven-tenths per centum in accordance with clause (c) hereof and for each calendar quarter in accordance with clause (f) hereof]

(b) [For the purposes of this section

(1) "Compensated Employee" means an employe to whom compensation was paid in a benefit year

(2) "Wages of a compensated employe" means wages which were paid to a compensated employe in the base year immediately preceding the employe's benefit year which wages shall be treated as though they had been paid in the calendar year in which the first compensation of the employe's benefit year was paid

(3) "Credit for reemployment" means for each employer the total of the amounts allowed as herein set forth for any former employes reemployed by him or employes resuming work commencing with the benefit years which begin in the calendar year nineteen hundred forty-one An employer who desires such a "credit for reemployment" shall notify the department in writing within thirty days after the end of the employe's benefit year that he reemployed within such benefit year a compensated employe For benefit years which began in one thousand nine hundred and forty-one or one thousand nine hundred and forty-two such notice may be given within thirty days after the end of the employe's benefit year or within sixty days after the effective date of this act whichever date is later If the department finds that any such employe did not receive benefits within such benefit year in excess of seventy-five per centum of the maximum benefits payable to him in the benefit year then for the determination of the "employer's experience" the total wages paid to such compensated employes shall be reduced by an amount equal to the percentage indicated in the following table

Maximum benefits received by an employe during a benefit year	Credit against wages paid to a compensated employe
Not more than 25%	75%
More than 25% and not more than 50%	50%
More than 50% and not more than 75%	25%

Such credits for benefit years which began in the calendar year nineteen hundred forty-one shall be applicable to nineteen hundred forty-two and credits for benefit years which began in nineteen hundred forty-two or thereafter shall be made for the calendar year in which the finding is made by the department and no attempt shall be made to relate such credits to the period in which the reemployment occurred

(4) "Employer's Experience" means a percentage obtained by dividing the total wages paid by an employer to his compensated employes less any credit for reemployment during the last three completed calendar years by the total wages paid by said employer to all his employes during such three calendar years

(5) "State Experience" means a percentage obtained by dividing the total amount of compensation paid from the Unemployment Compensation Fund during the last three completed calendar years by the total wages of all compensated employes for such three years such percentage to be adjusted to the nearest multiple of one per centum]

Each employer shall pay contributions equal to two and seven-tenths per centum of wages paid by him or it with respect to employment occurring subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one Provided That notwithstanding the provisions of this section prior to the effective date of this amendment with respect to wages paid during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty-four for employment occurring subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and with respect to wages paid during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty-five for employment occurring subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one such percentage may be adjusted according to the provisions of this act prior to the effective date of this amendment and provided further that with respect to wages paid during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty-six for employment occurring subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and with respect to wages paid during each calendar year thereafter for employment occurring subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one such percentage may be adjusted between a minimum rate of one per centum and a maximum rate of two and seven-tenths per centum in accordance with the following provisions of this section if the employer has paid contributions under this act for one or more quarters in each of the five calendar years immediately preceding the year for which the rate is applicable Notwithstanding the provisions of section three hundred eleven any employer who prior to the enactment of this amendment may have paid contributions on wages paid during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-four or one thousand nine hundred forty-five for employment occurring prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred forty-four at a rate of two and seven-tenths per centum such employer shall not be entitled to a refund of any portion of such contributions paid on the basis that this amendment reduces the amount of contributions required to be paid with respect to such wages but such employer may make application for adjustment in connection with subsequent contribution payments as provided in section three hundred eleven of any amount which he has paid with respect to such wages which is in excess of the amount of contributions required to be paid with respect to such wages under the provisions of this act as amended Except as specifically provided under section four hundred and four wages paid with respect to employment performed under Shipping Articles shall for the purposes of this act be considered as having been paid as of a date determined under rules and regulations of the department irrespective of when actual payment was made to the employe

(c) The rate of contribution payable by an employer entitled to an adjustment between the minimum rate of one per centum and the maximum rate of two and seven-tenths per centum for each calendar year commencing with the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-four shall be determined prior to the due date of his first contribution for the year in accordance with the following table

(d) Contributions due under this act with respect to wages for employment shall for the purpose of section three hundred one of the act be deemed to have been paid to the fund as of the date payment was made as contributions therefor under another state or Federal unemployment compensation law but no such arrangement shall be entered into unless it contains provisions for [such] reimbursement to the fund of such contributions [and the actual earnings thereon as the department finds will be fair and reasonable as to all affected interests]

Reimbursements paid from the fund pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section shall be deemed to be benefits for all the purposes of this act The department is authorized to make to other state or Federal agencies and to receive from such other state or Federal agencies reimbursements from or to the fund in accordance with arrangements entered into pursuant to this section

The administration of this act and of other state and Federal unemployment compensation and public employment service laws will be promoted by cooperation between this State and such other states and the appropriate Federal agencies in exchanging services and making available facilities and information The department is therefore authorized to make such investigations secure and transmit such information make available such services and facilities and exercise such of the other powers provided herein with respect to the administration of this act as it deems necessary or appropriate to facilitate the administration of any such unemployment compensation or public employment service law and in like manner to accept and utilize information services and facilities made available to this State by the agency charged with the administration of any such other unemployment compensation or public employment service law

To the extent permissible under the laws and Constitution of the United States the department is authorized to enter into or cooperate in arrangements whereby facilities and services provided under this act and facilities and services provided under the unemployment compensation law of any foreign government may be utilized for the taking of claims and the payment of benefits under the employment security law of this State or under a similar law of such government

(e) Services performed on vessels engaged in interstate or foreign commerce for a single employer wherever performed shall be deemed to be performed within this State or within such other states

Section 8 Section four hundred and one of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-three (P. L. 717) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 401 Qualifications Required to Secure Compensation Compensation shall be payable to any employe who is or becomes [totally] unemployed [on or after January first one thousand nine hunderd thirty-eight] except that payment with respect to weeks ending subsequent to the sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-five and prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six shall be made only for weeks of total unemployment as provided in section four hundred and four (c) and who

(a) Has within his base year been paid wages [of fifty dollars in each of two separate calendar quarters during his base year] for employment equal to not less than thirty (30) times his weekly benefit rate

(b) Has registered for work at [a designated employment office at such times and in such manner as the department may prescribe] and thereafter continued to report at an employment office in accordance with such regulations as the secretary may prescribe except that the secretary may by regulation waive or alter either or both of the requirements of this clause as to individuals attached to regular jobs and as to such other types of cases or situations with respect to which he finds that compliance with such requirements would be oppressive or would be inconsistent with the purposes of the act Provided however That no such regulation shall conflict with section four hundred and one (c) of this act

(c) Has made a valid application for benefits with respect to the benefit year for which compensation is claimed and has made a claim for compensation in the proper manner and on the form prescribed by the department

(d) Is able to work and available for suitable work and

(e) Has been [totally] unemployed for a waiting period of [at least two weeks prior to the week for which the first compensable claim is filed The two weeks of total unemployment need not be consecutive] one week

No week shall be counted as a week of [total] unemployment for the purposes of this subsection (1) unless it occurs within the benefit year which includes the week with respect to which such employe claims compensation [Provided That the two weeks immediately preceding a benefit year shall be deemed (for the purpose of this subsection only) to be within such benefit year] or (2) if compensation has been paid or is payable with respect thereto or (3) unless the [individual] employe was eligible for compensation with respect thereto under all other provisions of this section and was not disqualified with respect thereto under section 402 (a) (b) [and] (d) (e) and (f)

Section 9 Section four hundred and two of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-three (P. L. 337) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 402 Ineligibility for Compensation An employe shall be ineligible for compensation [or waiting period credit] for any week

(a) In which his unemployment is due to failure without good cause either to apply for suitable work at such time and in such manner as the department may prescribe or to accept suitable work when offered to him by the employment office or by [his previous employer In determining whether or not any work is suitable for an individual the department shall consider the degree of risk involved to his health safety and morals his physical fitness and prior training and experience and the distance of the available work from his residence] any employer Provided That such employer simultaneously notifies the employment office of such offer

(b) In which his unemployment is due to voluntarily leaving work without good cause Provided That no employe shall be deemed to be ineligible under this section where as a condition of continuing in employment such employe would be required to join or remain a member of a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization or to accept wages hours or conditions of employment not desired by a majority of the employes in the establishment or the occupation or would be denied the right of collective bargaining under generally prevailing conditions In determining whether or not an employe has left his work voluntarily without good cause the department shall give consideration to the same factors insofar as they are applicable provided with respect to the determination of suitable work under section four (t)

(c) With respect to which or a part of which he has received or is seeking unemployment benefits under an unemployment compensation law of any other state or of the United States Provided That if the appropriate agency of such other state or of the United States finally determines that he is not entitled to such unemployment benefits the disqualification shall not apply

(d) In which [the employe's total] his unemployment is due to a voluntary suspension of work resulting from an industrial dispute at the factory establishment or other premises at which he is or was last employed [but this disqualification shall apply only to the week in which the suspension occurred and for the three consecutive weeks of total unemployment which immediately follow such week Provided That this disqualification shall apply only to any week of unemployment which in whole or in part includes any part of a period beginning with the day on which such suspension occurs and ending with (i) the last day of the fourth calendar week immediately following the calendar week in which such suspension occurs or (ii) the day on which such suspension was terminated whichever is the earlier

(e) In which his unemployment is due to his discharge or temporary suspension from work for willful misconduct connected with his work

(f) Which in whole or in part includes any part of the two week period which immediately follows each period of employment under Shipping Articles

Section 10 Sections four hundred and four and four hundred and seven of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-three (P. L. 717) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 404 Rate and Amount of Compensation Compensation shall be paid with respect to each eligible employe whose benefit year [began] begins prior to June first one thousand nine hundred [and forty-three] forty-five in accordance with the provisions of this act prior to that date and with respect to each eligible employe whose benefit year begins subsequent to May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and [forty-three] forty-five [and who is totally unemployed and is not disqualified under any provisions of this act at a weekly rate and for a number of weeks to be determined in accordance with the following provisions by reference to Table I if the balance in the Unemployment Compensation Fund is in excess of one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation during any twelve consecutive months or to Table II if the balance in said fund is equal to or less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation during any twelve consecutive months as set forth in the tables in this section] in accordance with the following provisions of this section

(a) The employe's weekly benefit rate shall be that rate which appears in "Part B" and which is on the same horizontal line in "Part A" as the interval which includes his "highest quarterly wage"

[(d)] (b) The "highest quarterly wages" of an employe shall be the total wages (computed to the nearest dollar) which were paid to such employe in that calendar quarter in which such total wages were highest during the base year

(c) Each eligible employe who is totally unemployed with respect to any week ending subsequent to the sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-five and prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six shall be paid with respect to such week compensation in an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate No payment shall be made for any week ending during such period unless the employe has been totally unemployed with respect to such week and has served one waiting week as required under section four hundred one (e) Provided That with respect to such week the employe has been totally unemployed For purposes of this subsection an employe shall be deemed totally unemployed with respect to any week during which he performs no services and with respect to which no remuneration is paid or payable to him or to any week of less than full-time work if the remuneration paid or payable to him with respect to such week does not exceed three dollars ($3.00)

(d) Each eligible employe who is unemployed with respect to any week ending the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six or thereafter shall be paid with respect to such week compensation in an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate less that part of the remuneration if any paid or payable to him with respect to such week which is in excess of three dollars ($3.00) such compensation if not a multiple of one dollar ($1.00) shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1.00) Provided That if at the end of any calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months the maximum amount of compensation payable to any employe for a week of unemployment ending during the next calendar quarter shall not be in excess of eighteen dollars ($18)

(e) [The maximum number of weeks for which an employe may receive compensation for total unemployment during a benefit year shall be the number of weeks which appears at the top of a column under "Part C" to be ascertained by locating on the same horizontal line on which his weekly benefit rate appears the interval which includes the total wages paid to him during his base year]

Any otherwise eligible employe shall be entitled during his benefit year to an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate multiplied by the number which appears at the top of a column under "Part C" to be ascertained by locating on the same horizontal line on which his weekly benefit rate appears the interval which includes the total wages paid to him during his base year Provided That if at the end of any calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months no employe shall be paid compensation with respect to weeks of unemployment ending during the next calendar quarter in an amount which together with any amounts previously paid with respect to the same benefit year would be in excess of sixteen times the employe's weekly benefit rate or two hundred and eighty-eight dollars ($288) whichever is the lesser

(f) For purposes of this section and of section four hundred one (a) wages paid with respect to employment performed under Shipping Articles shall be considered as having been paid in the respective calendar quarters in which the services of the employe were being performed

Section 407 [Status Preserved During and After Military or Naval Service The secretary is hereby empowered and directed to promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to preserve the compensation rights of any employe who enters the armed forces of the United States subsequent to March thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty and who is honorably discharged therefrom Such rules and regulations shall provide that the compensation rights of any such employe shall be preserved notwithstanding his entrance into the armed forces of the United States and such compensation rights shall not be adversely affected or prejudiced notwithstanding any inconsistent provisions of this act Provided however That no employe may be granted any right under the provisions of this section unless he shall have filed a claim for compensation within a period of one year from the date of such discharge And provided further That if under an Act of Congress payments with respect to unemployment of individuals who have completed a period of military service are payable by the United States such individuals shall be disqualified under this act for benefits until they have exhausted all their rights to such payments by the United States]

Compensation to Members of the Armed Forces An individual who shall have served in the active military or naval service of the United States at any time after the sixteenth day of September one thousand nine hundred and forty and prior to the termination of the present war and who shall have been discharged or released from active service under conditions other than dishonorable after active service of ninety days or more or by reason of an injury or disability incurred in service in line of duty shall be entitled to payment of compensation as provided in section four hundred and four (c) (d) and (e) with respect to an employe who has been paid wages during his base year of one thousand three hundred and sixty-six dollars ($1366) or more and whose highest quarterly wages during such base year have been four hundred and eighty-eight dollars ($488) or more Provided That (a) Such individual

(i) was employed in employment as defined in section 4 (l) at some time during the one-year period immediately preceding the date on which he entered active military or naval service and (ii) makes application for benefits under the provisions of this section in the proper manner and on the form prescribed by the department (iii) makes claim for compensation in the proper manner and on the form prescribed by the department with respect to employes making claim for compensation under the provisions of other sections of this act (iv) is qualified under the provisions of section four hundred and one (b) (d) and (e) (v) is not ineligible under the provisions of section four hundred and two and (vi) has exhausted all rights to which he may be entitled under Title V of the Act of Congress known as the "Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944"

(b) All claims for compensation filed pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be with respect to weeks ending within the two year period immediately following the date of such individual's discharge or release from active military or naval service

(c) The maximum amount of compensation payable to an individual under the provisions of this section as amended shall be reduced by the amount of compensation if any which has been paid or is payable to such individual under the provisions of this section prior to the effective date of this amendment

(d) No individual who is entitled to compensation under the provisions of this section shall be entitled to compensation under any other provisions of this act with respect to wages paid prior to the date he entered active military or naval service and

(e) No compensation shall be paid under the provisions of this section with respect to weeks ending on a day more than five years subsequent to the termination of the present war

Section 11 Section five hundred and one of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred and forty-two (P. L. 60) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 501 [Initial Determination of Compensation Appeals The department shall promptly examine any application for benefits or claim filed and on the basis of the facts found by it shall determine whether or not the application for benefits or claim is valid The determination of any application for benefits shall include the determination of the first day of the benefit year the weekly benefit rate and the number of benefit weeks payable The claimant and other affected parties shall be promptly notified of the decision and the reasons therefor in writing except that no notification shall be necessary when the department shall approve a claim for a week of total unemployment Unless the claimant or other affected parties files an appeal from such decision with the board within ten calendar days after such notification was delivered to him personally or was mailed to his last known post office address and applies for a hearing such decision of the department shall be final and compensation shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith In the event that an appeal is filed with the board the payment of any contested amount of compensation shall be withheld pending determination of the claim but any uncontested amount of compensation allowed in any decision shall be paid notwithstanding any appeal which may thereafter be taken Provided That when a referee or the board affirms a decision of the department allowing compensation such compensation shall be paid notwithstanding any further appeal]

Determination of Compensation Appeals

(a) The department shall promptly examine each application for benefits and on the basis of the facts found by it shall determine whether or not the application is valid Notice shall be given by the department in writing to the claimant and each base year employer of the claimant stating whether or not the claimant is eligible under section four hundred and one (a) and if declared eligible thereunder the weekly benefit rate and the maximum amount of compensation payable Provided That where the "Employer's Experience" of a base year employer has been transferred to a successor-in-interest such notice shall be given to the successor-in-interest and not to the original base year employer and Provided further That no notice need be given to a base year employer who has been released by the department from filing contribution reports

(b) Notice shall be given in writing to the last employer of the claimant stating that an application has been filed by the designated employe

(c) The department shall promptly examine each claim for waiting week credit and each claim for compensation and on the basis of the facts found by it shall determine whether or not the claim is valid

Notice of such determination need not be given to the claimant if the claim is determined valid but if the claim is determined invalid notice shall be given by the department in writing to the claimant stating that the claim is invalid and the reason therefor

Notice of such determination need not be given to any base year employer or last employer of the claimant unless such base year employer or last employer has filed with the department information in writing which might raise a question as to the eligibility of the claimant for any reason other than his failure to comply with the provisions of section four hundred one (a) in which event notice shall be given as provided herein

If an employer files with the department such information within ten days after notice required under section five hundred one (a) or (b) was delivered to him personally or was mailed to his last known post office address the department shall issue to such employed (i) a notice in writing of its determination with respect to each claim which is filed by the claimant for a week the first day of which is on or before the date on which such information is filed and (ii) a notice in writing of its determination with respect to the first valid claim which is filed by the claimant during the claimant's benefit year for a week the last day of which is subsequent to the date on which such information is filed

If an employer files with the department such information more than ten days after notice required under section five hundred one (a) or (b) was delivered to him personally or was mailed to his last known post office address the department shall only issue to such employer (i) a notice in writing of its determination with respect to each claim which is filed by the claimant for a week the first day of which is within the thirty-day period which immediately precedes the date on which such information is filed and (ii) a notice in writing of its determination with respect to the first valid claim which is filed by the claimant during the claimant's benefit year for a week the last day of which is subsequent to the date on which such information is filed

(d) The department shall notify any employer or claimant who has been notified as required under subsections (a) and (c) of this section of any revision made in the determination as contained in the original notice given to such employer or claimant

(e) Unless the claimant or last employer or base year employer of the claimant files an appeal with the board from the determination contained in any notice required to be furnished by the department under section five hundred and one (a) (c) and (d) within ten (10) calendar days after such notice was delivered to him personally or was mailed to his last known post office address and applies for a hearing such determination of the department with respect to the particular facts set forth in such notice shall be final and compensation shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith In the event that an appeal is filed with the board the payment of any contested amount of compensation shall be withheld pending determination of the claim but any uncontested amount of compensation allowed in any decision shall be paid notwithstanding any appeal which may thereafter be taken Provided That when a referee or the board affirms a decision of the department allowing compensation such compensation shall be paid notwithstanding any further appeal

Section 12 Section six hundred and one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 601 Unemployment Compensation Fund There is hereby created a special fund separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this Commonwealth to be known as the Unemployment Compensation Fund All contributions together with penalties and interest thereon received or collected by the department from employers under the provisions of this act except such penalties and interest which are paid into the Special Administration Fund as provided in section six hundred one point one shall be paid into the Unemployment Fund and shall be credited by the department to a ledger account to be known as the Employers' Contribution Account All Moneys from time to time received and credited to the Employers' Contribution Account (exclusive of refunds made under section three hundred eleven) shall be paid promptly by the department into the Unemployment Trust Fund except as otherwise provided in section six hundred five of this act

As often as may be necessary the department shall requisition from the Unemployment Trust Fund such amounts as shall be necessary to provide adequate funds for the payment of compensation as provided in this act Upon receipt of such requisitioned funds the department shall deposit them into the Unemployment Compensation Fund to the credit of a ledger account to be known as the Compensation Account and shall expend such moneys solely for the payment of compensation as provided by this act All moneys to the credit of the Compensation Account shall be mingled and undivided The department shall pay all compensation authorized by this act out of moneys standing to the credit of the Compensation Account

Section 13 Said act is hereby amended by adding after section six hundred and one a new section to read as follows

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 106

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 106, Printer's No. 609.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering Senate Bill No. 106, entitled: "An Act to further amend sections two hundred twenty and two hundred eighty-five of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled 'An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth' increasing the resident fishing license fee and limiting the use of the money derived from such increase,"

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

O. J. Tallman,
Frank W. Ruth,
Montgomery F. Crowe,
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

Irving S. Dix,
Anthony J. Petrosky,
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. BARTON. Mr. Speaker, before the vote is taken on this conference report, I think this House should have a brief explanation of Senate Bill 106.

This bill as originally passed by the Senate provided for an increase of fifty cents in fishers' license, and earmarked that fifty cents increase for the purchase of land. When that bill came from the conference committee a subcommittee was appointed, and that subcommittee made a very thorough study of this situation. A public hearing was held on the bill, and this House amended the bill so that the fifty cents increase would be earmarked for the propagation and distribution of fish.

The Senate refused to concur in the House amendment, and a conference committee was appointed. We came out as usual in our conference with the Senate, and the bill was put back in its original form, and as it now stands the fifty cents is earmarked for the purchase of land.

There are a number of Members in this House who are opposed in any increase in the fishing license, but they were willing to go along if they can go back home and tell their fishermen friends that the fifty cent increase was earmarked for the propagation and distribution of fish, but they are absolutely opposed to this conference report, and I ask that the Members go along in opposing the report.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call, a slow roll call, and insist that only those who answer to their names be recorded.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I concur with the gentleman from Perry, Mr. Barton. I see no reason for raising the fishing license to two dollars. The one dollar and a half is sufficient. If we want to stock more fish, and I agree that is fine, let us take it out of the first one dollar fifty cents rather than vote the two dollars license fee upon the people.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I was engaged in a conversation with a Republican Member of the House, unfortunately, and I am arising to inquire what all the shooting is about.

The SPEAKER. The Chair laid before the House the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill 106. The fishing license bill.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, the original bill introduced was the Allegheny County Sportsmen's bill, and the letters I received were in favor of that bill. After the bill was amended they were not in favor of it. We are in favor of the bill as is was originally introduced.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I rise for the purpose of enlightening the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

This bill in its original form as it was passed by the House included an amendment which would make the propagation of fish the main purpose of the increase in the license fee. However, the Senate would not agree to the amendment as passed by the House.

At the conference between the Senate and the House the best bargain that we could make with the Senate was to make one change in the wording of the original Senate bill, and that change was the word "maintenance."

I contend that the word maintenance is very technical and might include also the propagation of fish for those particular streams which are purchased by the Fish Commission, if this conference report is adopted.

I do not rise either to defend the position of the conference committee or to oppose it; I am leaving the matter entirely in the hands of the Members of the House. I shall be satisfied, Mr. Speaker, with whatever vote the Members of the House desire to make.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, as a minority Member of the committee of conference on Senate Bill 106, I certainly am not going to dwell on this subject for any length of time, because I feel this could be covered by saying that the increase of fifty cents in the fishing fee is going to be used for a specific purpose, and it is so desired by the Allied Sportsmen's Clubs of Pennsylvania.

The committee felt in order to warrant an increase in the license fee for the fishermen they would have to give the fishermen something for it. I say at the outset that they are interested in this bill and sponsoring the same, but Senators Tallman and Farrell and the Allied Sportsmen's Clubs of Pennsylvania are willing to let the bill fall if it cannot be passed in such a way that there is something being given for the increase that is being asked for them to pay. I call the attention of the House to the fact that the Fish Commission has the necessary funds and the necessary authority already to further propagate and expend the fish life in Pennsylvania.

This bill is being supported by the clubs who are genuinely interested in providing more waters for fishermen to use and thereby increase the number of persons purchasing licenses, and up the revenue, increasing greatly the revenue of the fishers by the additional purchases that will be effected in the event you can give fishermen more ponds, more waters and more rivers to fish in.

I would respectfully urge and ask consideration of Members on both sides of the House to vote for the conference report on Senate Bill 106.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise in defense of this conference report. I know that there is a division of opinion in this House, and I respect the opinion of my good friend Secretary French, who stood by very courageously in this conference report. I know the feeling of the men originally in the northern tier of counties regarding the matter of an increase in the fishing license. I think we are all interested in this increase because of the various provisions set forth in this bill. I respect their opinion, and they have a perfect right to it, but in my county the sportsmen and those interested in fishing are greatly concerned with the lack of fishing waters for the future fishermen, whom we call poor fishermen, who cannot belong to clubs that have purchased land and have the fishing streams. They feel that if we are to preserve the fishing for these people in the metropolitan areas in the future, that there must be a purchase and acquisition of land in order to afford them this recreation. Therefore I feel that the report of conference, while it is not what we hoped for—I had hoped that there might be a compromise by which the men who were interested in the propagation of fish would receive consideration, along with that of the acquisition and purchase of land. I had hoped that that might have come out of the conference committee. Therefore, in the interest of my constituents, I certainly urge the adoption of the conference committee report, not as Majority Leader, but purely as a matter of representing my people back home.

Mr. ELDER. Mr. Speaker, I feel as though I should explain my position on Senate Bill 106, as I was a member of the conference committee. I could not sign the report because the sportsmen in my section of the country are absolutely opposed to the bill in its present form. Therefore, I ask the Members to vote not to accept this conference report.

Mr. BARTON. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that I cannot agree with my good friend Lichtenwalter, when he says that fishermen need a lot more land. I really feel if the people all over the State understood the situation, they would realize that they have plenty of water and we do not have very many fish. I think this fifty cents that is asked to be added to the fishing license definitely ought to go to the propagation of fish.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry to oppose the Majority Leader. In my home county of York some five or six thousand people have asked me to oppose this conference committee report. They did favor the original amendments in the House but they are definitely opposed to this report, and I am therefore voting against it.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, just to get this straight, I am from the northern tier of counties, and our organizations there are not opposed to this measure in its present form. I, therefore, would have to ask that this report be approved.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have noted with interest the request of the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Elder, that upon this particular subject only those who vote should be counted. I had expected that sometime during the session somebody on the other side of the House would make that request. I would have appreciated such a request had it been filed earlier in this session.

SENATE MESSAGE

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1001

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 7, 1945.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Concurrent Resolution recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 1001, Printer's No. 432, for further consideration and amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

EDWARD MARTIN.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. PETROSKY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of the record I find myself in a very bad position because of my absence from the House on Thursday, May 3, and for the purpose of the record I wish to state that I was very lax in not asking for leave of absence. Inasmuch as I had received a telephone call from my home notifying me that my youngest daughter had a bad fall, I wished to be back there at home and to help that situation as best I could intending, of course, to come back for Friday morning session. I just want to state this for the purpose of the record, so that possibly I may have a clear conscience in the future.

COMMITTEE RECORDS TO BE FILED

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to the provisions of House Rule 31 the standing committees of the House are required to file all committee records with the Chief Clerk. The Chairman of these committees are directed to carry out the provisions of this Rule.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Messrs. GREER, McCLESTER and GOODLING asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

In the House of Representatives, May 7, 1945.

The Members of this House will miss another real treat through the fixing of today for final adjournment.

Thursday, May 10th, is the birthday of the Honorable Samuel L. Pickens of East Brady, and the Penn-Harris Hotel.

This being his first session as a Member, there is no official record of the date of his birth nor what he has been doing all our lives.

The Legislative Record beyond giving his name and addresses, only states that he is a publisher and that he has no previous legislative record.

The grape vine, however, tells us that he is old enough to have and does have a grandchild or two, so it is also probable that to some one he is known as Grandpa or Pappy.

The publishing business includes the editing and publishing of the East Brady Review.

It is also understood that he intended throwing a party on Thursday, but it is unlikely that Members would remain in Harrisburg for three days for that purpose, and it is just as improbable that the date of adjournment will be deferred.

Sam is careless and leaves all kinds of thing lying around everywhere, sometimes to his great embarrassment. Be careful Sam.

If he feels badly about the calling off of his party, it is suggested that we will meet him in that delectable place, Mrs. Bless' Cafeteria in the basement at any time he might suggest; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Members of this House that they extend their congratulations to the Honorable Samuel L. Pickens for having arrived at the grandfather stage of life, and wishes him many returns of that event as well as of his birthday, and that the Chief Clerk of the House shall transmit to him a copy of this resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Clarion, Mr. Pickens.

Mr. PICKENS. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House and by-standers—I do not want you to hear this. I will meet you in the cafeteria on May 30. You are all invited to come to the review at any time—if you bring your own lunch.

The SPEAKER. The Chair also extends congratulations to the gentleman from Clarion.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to make this announcement; the Governor of the Commonwealth will come to the hall of the House between 12:45 and one o'clock. Employees who are fearful of getting back to their work on time may remain.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, have we any business of the House to transact, or are we just awaiting the arrival of the Governor?

The SPEAKER. There is still some business to transact.

Mr. TURNER. While we are waiting, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. That is right.

Mr. TURNER. I was going to suggest, Mr. Speaker, since there are so many people present, who I presume have come to hear the message of the Governor, and since they are crowded in a small space, whether, if we have no business to transact, we might not set aside the rule of the House and permit the visitors to come upon the floor.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Delaware that the Chair has that thought in mind to relieve the congestion, but we are unable to do so until the Senate arrives.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO INVITE SENATE

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee to invite the Senate to the Hall of the House to hear an address by the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable Edward Martin, Messrs. Sorg and Lovett.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, your committee appointed to invite the Senate to the House to hear an address by his Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable Edward Martin, has performed that duty and reports the Senate is now present.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the Lieutenant Governor, the President Pro Tempore and the Secretary of the Senate to come to the rostrum. The Senators will be seated.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth to present His Excellency the Governor.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR BELL. Members of the General Assembly and guests, it is a pleasure to present to you today our distinguished Governor, Edward Martin.

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR EDWARD MARTIN

GOVERNOR MARTIN. Governor Bell, Speaker Fiss, Members of the General Assembly and my fellow Americans, I have requested the privilege of addressing you this morning because I had hoped to announce to the General Assembly the most important event in the history of our country, after the fall of the British at Yorktown at the end of the Revolution.

I regret exceedingly that I am not able to make that announcement. However, I do want to tell you a little bit about what I desire to discuss this morning. We all are thankful to God that the war in Europe is almost ended, but with the end of the war in Europe we must realize that America still has to fight one of the most difficult wars in all history. Japan has an army in round numbers of almost six million men. That means that we must move across this continent and a great ocean an army with sufficient supplies and communications to defeat quickly our enemy with as small a loss as possible.

It took us two years to build up the forces which has been crowned with victory in Europe. We have an enormous job before us, of course, and this is what I would like you men and women to do, impress upon all of the people of the sixty-seven counties of this Commonwealth that it is our job to work hard to produce food, transportation and ammunition for our boys and girls who are on the front lines. We must not let up until the white flag flies over all of the strongholds of our enemies.

I want to thank this Session of the Legislature for the grand job you have done. You have enacted much extremely important legislation, and in addition you have appropriated for capitol improvements the largest amount of money ever appropriated by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It is the duty of the Executive to carry out the laws you have enacted, but owing to the importance and the greatness of this program I want you to give me in addition your help in order that we may make Pennsylvania the finest state in the Union in which to work and to live.

I want to also thank you for the great demonstration of the two party system in our American form of government which has been put into practice here, not simply a theory, but both parties have given careful and constant consideration to the work at hand, so I want personally to thank the presiding officers of the two houses and the leaders of the two parties in the two houses. You have done a magnificent work, and the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should thank you.

May you all arrive safely at your homes and may God in His infinite goodness give health and riches to you and your families.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the Lieutenant-Governor, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Members of the House for coming to the House this morning.

COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON GOVERNOR

Mr. LICHTENWALTER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO WAIT UPON GOVERNOR

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee to wait on the Governor and inform him the House is ready to adjourn sine die Messrs. Lichtenwalter, Lloyd H. Wood and Andrews.

COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON SENATE

Mr. SORG offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 7, 1945.

Resolved, That a committee of three members of the House of Representatives be appointed to wait upon the Senate, and inform that body that the House has completed the business of the session and is now ready to adjourn, sine die.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO WAIT UPON SENATE

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee to wait upon the Senate and inform that body the House is ready to adjourn sine die, Messrs. Sorg, Sollenberger and Lovett.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON GOVERNOR

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, your committee appointed on the part of the House to inform His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, that the House is ready to adjourn sine die at 11:45 a. m. this day has performed that duty.

The SPEAKER. The Committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON SENATE

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker your committee appointed to inform the Senate that the House is ready to adjourn sine die at 11:45 a. m. this day has performed that duty.

NOTIFICATION THAT SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

Mr. BLASS. Mr. Speaker, as chairman of the Committee appointed in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Senate I now inform the House that the Senate is ready to adjourn sine die at 11:45 a. m. this day.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the Committee on the part of the Senate.
